GLENCOE NEWS

A GENERAL Fourth of July celebration is being planned for Glencoe by the committee appointed by Mr. Hughes the village president. WHY DO IT? So that every resident of the community by contributing half the expense and energy that would be expended in private celebrations the people may have twice the fun, eliminate danger of fires and accidents and also get better acquainted with neighbors.

The Finance Committee expects to raise $500.00 for the Fourth of July expense fund.

Sunrise salute at 4:30 a. m.

Patriotic and Industrial parade at 8:30 a. m.

Field sports at 10:30 a. m.

Patriotic exercises at 2:30 p. m.

Ball game at 3:30 p. m.

Band concert and balloon ascensions at 7:30 p. m.

If the street parade is as good as it was last year it will be worth the time and price.

"Old Bill" took a tumble Tuesday afternoon while grazing along the high bluff overlooking Lake Michigan. "Bill" is the pet horse belonging to the De Lang's for about twenty-six years, and is allowed the privilege of feeding anywhere about the place. Going too near the edge of the bluff which is 85 feet high, part of the sod gave way and the horse fell over on his back a distance of more than twenty feet to the first landing. Apparently there was no way of landing him on the beach as since the last washout it is very abrupt and too steep. The ingenuity of William Love with the help of several neighbors a path was dug down to where the horse was and with the aid of several strong ropes and a pound of lump sugar the horse was urged to make the effort. When near the top and his fore feet once more on the green lawn he fell forward and with his strength almost gone, he pleaded with his big eyes almost human for help. Finally a strong rope belt was made fast behind and all the neighbors pulled, while a gentle whip from the rear startled him up for a final landing. You couldn't buy Old Bill for two hundred dollars today for he is not only a greater pet than ever, but what is more he is now a hero.

The newsboy who greets you every morning at the Glencoe Depot with "Morning papers!" lives in Winnetka and comes up from home before going to school with a bundle of 50 Chicago papers which he sells before 8 o'clock. His brother does the same thing at the Winnetka Depot. It is interesting to note how the Chicago papers sell. At Winnetka one boy sells 100 Tribunes, 20 Record-Heralds, 9 Inter-Oceans and 20 Examiners. The Glencoe boy sells 30 Tribunes, 10 Record-Heralds, 4 Inter-Oceans and 3 Examiners.

John Griffith, the first president and founder of the North Shore Fuel Co, with yards and offices at several of the North Shore towns, is again in active management, having been persuaded to take the helm at the last meeting of the directors. Also at Glencoe, Mr. C. M. Parrish has resumed his former position as manager. Thus much strife and business opposition is averted in which the general public could hardly have any interest. Mr. Parrish is well liked in Glencoe and by his pleasing personality holds the good will and the trade.

At the large new school auditorium last Tuesday evening the Glencoe Choral Society, composed of forty-five trained voices, under the leadership of A. G. Bennett, gave an exceedingly good concert, rendering parts of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and Handel's "Dettingen" Te Deum. The soloists were Mr. H. R. Parsons and Mr. Frank Barnard. Mrs. Richardson, accompanist. This concert was given free to the people of Glencoe as this occasion constituted the musical dedication of the new school auditorium.

It has been known for some time past that the Methodist Society is listing the names of all former Methodists in Glencoe with a view of organizing a congregation.

Lieutenant Ramsay invited a number of his Glencoe friends to visit the gunboat Nashville last Saturday, but owing to the constant rain all that day, many were prevented from making the trip. Those who did brave the weather had the pleasure of inspecting a real warship.

Flag day was beautifully celebrated last Sunday morning by the children of the Glencoe Congregational Sunday school. In the primary department over fifty flags were presented to the little ones, who then rendered an appropriate song, Dr. Darling addressing the children on this occasion.

Standing on the crossing at Park Ave. the other evening, waiting a full half hour for an electric car, one friend said to the other, who had just moved out from the city: "This must be a banana car line!" and, "Why must this be a banana car line?" said his friend. "They come in bunches."

Mr. J. W. Griswold, aged 78 years, a pioneer Chicago merchant and father of C. C. Griswold, died Wednesday morning, June 16th, at the home of his daughter, wife of Judge Albert C. Barnes of the Superior Court in Chicago. Mr. J. W. Griswold was a frequent visitor in Glencoe when Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Griswold resided at the corner of Longwood avenue and Hazel.

Miss Frances Hurford has just returned home from the Illinois University.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubens, who have been traveling in Europe, are expected home shortly. They sailed on the 12th.

Mrs. J. P. Brewster gave a very beautiful lawn party for the ladies of Glencoe Wednesday afternoon—the most perfect June day this year. The affair was voted a great success.

Why His Business Did Not Grow.

He did not know how to advertise. He did not keep up with the times. He tried to do everything himself. He tried to save by hiring cheap help. He looked upon system as useless red tape.

He strangled his progress by cheese-paring economy.

He did not have the ability to multiply himself with others.

He never learned that it is the liberal policy that wins in business building.

He thought that he could save the money which his competitors spent in advertising.

He was pessimistic, and all his employees caught the contagion, making the whole atmosphere of his establishment depressing.

Japanese newspapers have a prison editor whose duties are to sweep out the editorial room, empty the waste paper baskets and go to jail when necessary. The jail part of this business is not a sinecure, for the press laws of Japan are still quite stringent.

Worrying over trifles is a sign of weakness. It is a confession that we are not equal to our daily task, and that we have not the ability to cultivate and care for the little share of work with which we have been entrusted. Calmness, serenity, poise and power to go through life without jar or fret are characteristic of greatness and true nobility.

It is sometimes a good idea to lock the door after the horse is stolen—the robbers might come back for the buggy.

The deeds of the past look awfully big to some people who are not accomplishing anything in the present.

The job compositor says that the reason his employer is always crusty on payday is because he is short of dough.

Few men are good liars. Unless you are certain of your ability to tell a dozen lies as well as the first, don't try the first, or you will be left at the post. Truth wins on any old track.

There are two B's that don't travel well in double harness—Boozing and Business. Some men try to hitch them up together, but invariably the outfit meets with disaster.

Want of care does more damage than lack of knowledge.

Don't judge a man by what he doesn't do. Go down deep for the real current that moves and guides his actions.

To look back constantly on past mistakes and failures is as destructive to the growth of spiritual beauty and power, and to the development of material success, as it is to look forward to ills that may never come.

Convictions that remain silent are neither sincere nor profound.
