GLENCOE NEWS

Glencoe Day.

We offer a suggestion to Glencoe, that it make the celebration of the Fourth an annual affair and call it Glencoe Day. Glencoe has shown that it approves of the same Fourth and credit is due to every one who took part in this year's celebration. We wish to thank the citizens for their united effort in carrying out so successfully in every detail the program of the day.

INDEPENDENCE DAY PARADE

The parade was a mile and a half long and the great feature of the day. The following ladies acted as judges for the awarding of prizes to those participating in the parade: Mesdames Paul Brown, H. C. Wienicke, F. H. Trude, Frank Miller, F. J. Wolley, Alfred Washington and F. J. Luetting. A 5-foot flag was presented to the prize winners.

In the Industrial section Mr. M. Bell received a flag and honorable mention to H. C. Wienicke, F. Ebert and J. J. Beck.

Historical Characters—J. K. Calhoun and daughter received a flag.

Who's Who section—C. S. Bartholf received a flag; Mr. Hess honorable mention.

Funny Section—"Oatsmobile" by a number of Glencoe young men received a flag.

Equestrian Section—Mr. August Zeising received a flag; Mr. Gordon A. Ramsay, Miss Becker and Miss Zeising, honorable mention.

Vehicle Section—Miss Howard and Miss Thompson received each a flag; Miss Ruth Thomas honorable mention.

Automobile Section—W. J. McDonald received a flag. Mrs. C. L. Day, Miss Hirsch, Miss Goss, Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Hess honorable mention.

Bicycle Section—Miss Marjorie Whitelaw received a flag; Lucile Williams, Geraldine Coy and Miss Edwards honorable mention.

Special Features Section—13 States—New York, New Jersey, flag. North and South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Delaware; honorable mention.

Fire Department was given a flag; the boys all looked their very best.

Spanish Veterans—Given a flag. Mr. Harry Culver and Mr. Charles Borncamp represented this section, both of them Spanish war veterans. "Little Cuba," a colored child, was leading the two soldiers on with a long double white silk ribbon—very effective.

The most unique feature in the parade was "Teddy in Africa" in which section thirty or more people took part. In the lead was F. C. Goodspeed representing Teddy and on each side of him was a newspaper reporter and a photographer. Immediately following were a number of natives and wild animals and a large wagon drawn by old Bill. On the wagon an iron cage had been arranged containing a lion and guarded by the animal tamer—and a great number of other wild beasts following in the rear. This section was presented with a large flag. Each person in this section acted well his part. The little cubs were Mr. Goodspeed's small sons. It is understood Mr. H. H. Brigham and Mr. Isaac McCurdy were the principal promoters of this section and each deserves a vote of thanks and a flag for their great interest in this and in other committee work also performed to make the day a success.
