ILLINOIS BREVITIES

Peoria. — Capt. J. T. Siler, assistant surgeon in the United States army, and Dr. Lavinder, assistant surgeon in the United States public health and marine hospital service, are at the Illinois General Insane Asylum at South Bartonville and will remain indefinitely, being detailed from Washington to make an exhaustive study and report on pellagra, otherwise known as Alpine scurvy or Italian leprosy, with which 50 of the 2,000 insane patients are found to be afflicted.

Joliet.—Due only to the fact that he had become hungry and had left the chair car in which he was riding and gone to the dining car, does Rev. Charles M. Brown of this city owe his life, as well as those of the members of his family. The train on which they were riding was thrown down an embankment, and the people who were sitting immediately in front and behind the seats previously occupied by Dr. Brown and his family were killed.

Elgin.—From all indications the trouble at the Elgin State hospital is to be more far reaching than was first anticipated. The resigned employees say they are going to place their side of the case before the civil service board. The employees say partially is not only shown by Miss Curry Breckenridge but by others higher in authority. They claim the superintendent is absent from the hospital on the average of ten days each month.

Charleston.—The dream of William Hugh Mason, pianist with Slayton's Jubilee Singers, Chicago organization, which appeared at the chautauqua, came true. Ma-on told another member of his company a few days ago that he felt as if his death was but a matter of a few days and that he Odin.—A search has been inaugurated for William A. Myers, a pioneer oil well digger, who disappeared from home several days ago, saying he was going to St. Louis to close a deal, but was not heard from again.

Alton.—Given hearings on the charge of killing Steve Dimeda at Wood River, J. T. Ashlock and William Varney were each held on bond of $8,000 to await the action of the grand jury on the charge.

Centralia.—The police of this city and those of southern Illinois were asked to locate Paul, the nine-year-old son of Mrs. Dave Fitzgerald, who was taken Saturday from the street, where he was playing.

Aurora.—Driving into a ditch and risking serious injury, Norton H. Van Slicken, a racing motorist, saved the life of an infant who lay in the road directly in his path. The machine was going at 60 miles an hour at the time.

Paxton.—James Huston, aged, 90 years, died at his home in Monmouth, where funeral services were held by his pastor, Dr. John A. Burnett of the First United Presbyterian church.

Springfield.—The National Sheriff's association at Seattle decided to hold the next convention in Springfield. Charles W. Peters of Chicago was elected president.

Petersburg.—With an increase of 30 in the number of tents on the grounds and with the cottages all occupied and new ones added, the Old Salem chautauqua opened its twelfth assembly.

Palmyra.—It is quite probable that before many months Palmyra will have a new Methodist church costing, complete with furnishings, about $15,000.

Moline.—Descending an old abandoned shaft out of curiosity, Walter Cole and Arthur Harrington were overcome by gas and lost their lives.

Austin.—Rev. Judson B. Tho as has been named as pastor of the First Baptist church, coming from the secretaryship of the Baptist Home Missionary society, which position he has filled for 14 years.

Petersburg.—Jumping from a row-boat which she feared would capsize when Orrin Clark, who was in the same party, grabbed hold of it, Miss Inez Smith, aged 24 years, of Bath was drowned at the chautauqua grounds.

Wesley City.—By the overturning of a skiff on which he was riding, with his father and two brothers, Chester Schultz, 11 years old, was drowned in the Illinois river, his father and brother being picked up by a motor boat.

Girard.—The session of the Macoupin County Sunday School association was held in the Christian church in this city with a large representation of delegates and others interested in this work from neighboring towns.

Jerseyville.—Rev. James R. Slaten entertained a company of his relatives with a family reunion and dinner at his home near Dow, Jersey county, to celebrate the eighty-seventh anniversary of his birthday.
