Old Hickory Chips. We fear that the turkey hash is to be a highly attenuated proposition this season. Heavy snowstorms are reported on the planet Mars. Perhaps Mars is getting ready to inaugurate a new president. 'Persia's Parliament has started,' notes the Richmond News Leader. But it certainly does not know where it is going. Adj. Gen. Ainsworth reports an increase in desertions from the national army, and seeks to explain the fact in several ways. The fact is that the army as a permanent occupation is attractive to but very few. Our forest reserve may be seriously endangered by the smoldering fires in the 'Department of the Interior.' Black fox skins are quoted at $1,000 apiece nowadays, which is still a few laps ahead of sheep skins, thank heaven! 'Women will run things in the course of time,' says Dr. Hollis. Sure! They run things now, to a rather remarkable degree. Mr. Peary is said to believe firmly that he is not only the first man who ever reached the north pole, but that he will be the last one. Mr. Peary's north pole appears to be the closest corporation that ever came down the pike. Mr. James N. Reynolds denies, nevertheless, that he was the sugar trust's 'Jimmy.' The sugar fraud exposure brought a little money to the conscience fund, but none of it came from the big thieves. The English Government in arranging its taxes seems to be headed for more or less of a collision with the ultimate consumer question. President Elliot remarked in one of his addresses on municipal reform that he could remember when it was an honor to be an alderman in Boston. The new Turks start into business

A returned visitor to Africa declares Roosevelt is a poor shot. Don't our trusts know it? That New Jersey girl who was married in short skirts doubtless thinks that eternal happiness will be her long suit. The election of Moxley to fill Lorimer's seat in Congress indicates that Chicago is not yet strong for reform.
