It is harder for a woman to pray her husband into heaven than it is to nag him into the other place. The Ready Excuse. "What are you doing with this sand-bag?" demanded the Chicago cop. "It's part of me equipment, boss," answered the footpad. "Honest, I got an airship anchored around de corner."

VALENTINES. To properly display my large line of Valentines I am still conducting the North Store of the Erskine Bank Building. Take a favorable look over our beautiful, unique and classy Valentines before making your selections. ALBERT LARSON Stationer.

Don't blame the phonograph if it has a bad record. A small boy never looks comfortable in his Sunday clothes. You may feed your vanity by dining at an expensive restaurant. Sermons are based upon texts; political speeches upon pretexts. Sometimes a man's wisdom is due to the possession of a clever wife. Every mother knows a lot of good rules for raising other people's children. Fortunate is the husband who is allowed to spend a little of his own money. Even a politician would probably be honest if he could make more money that way. There comes a moment in every man's life when he regrets his inability to kick. It costs a young man more to educate himself than it cost his father to educate him. After a man has flattered a woman she begins to think it over and decides that he really meant it.

SMILES. "I want to know," cried the irate visitor, "whether that item of yours in regard to me is an intentional snarl or merely editorial stupidity?" "What are you talking about, my dear sir, and who are you?" asked the editor. "I'm Dr. Killiam, and I refer to your announcement of the sudden illness of the Honorable John Jones in which you say, 'Mr. Jones is in great danger, Dr. Killiam has been called in.'" Elsie—Why is Clara always so short of money—didn't her father leave her a lot? Madge—Yes; but, you see, she's not to get it till she's thirty, and she'll never own up to that age. She—Of course, I'm not as old as you think I am. He—I hope not—I meant you can be—that is—how old are you? "The dry old moralist and philosopher across the way is having all kinds of trouble with his wisdom tooth." "Quite a suitable pain." "Why so?" "Both he and the tooth are wise acres." An Open Question. "If your mother bought four bunches of grapes, the shopkeeper's price being 20 cents a bunch, how much money would the purchase cost her?" asked the new teacher. "You never can tell," answered Tommy, who was at the head of his class. "Ma's great at bargaining." "He seems to be dissatisfied with his lot." "Yes. He says it is under ten feet of water." At the Asylum. "What made this poor fellow go insane?" "Trying to figure out whether he'd rather ride in an open car and freeze or in a closed car and strangle." The Straight Tip. "Er—Miss Brown—er—do you think your father would oppose my marrying you?" "If he is of my opinion he would." More Wireless. Bacon—What a contrast there is between those two men! Do you notice how wiry the tall one is? Egbert—Yes, the other is a wireless sort of man. Knocking. "I hear only golden opinions of you." "Thanks." "Everybody thinks you are rich." Birmingham Age-Herald. Work for the Tailor. "But, darling," murmured the lovelorn youth, "every night for two weeks I have been on my bended knees before you. Have you no pity?" "I certainly have, Horace," spoke up the pretty flirt, as she reached for her hand bag; "here's a whole quarter. Go have your trousers pressed. After so much bending they must be baggy at the knees." CHANGES IN MAIL SERVICE. January 21st, 1910. OUTGOING MAILS. Going South. Closes at 7:24 a. m. Soon after King Edward had passed a huge concourse of children at Mouseshald, England, a little girl was seen by her teacher to be crying. "Why are you crying; didn't you see the king?" asked the teacher. "Yes, but, please teacher, he didn't see me," sobbed the little girl.
