MISS MARY HARRIMAN IS WEDDED TO SCULPTOR

Daughter of Deceased Railroad Magnate Becomes Bride of Charles Cary Rumsey.

Arden, N. Y., May 26.—In the little Episcopal chapel near the beautiful palace of the late Edward H. Harriman today occurred the marriage of his eldest daughter, Mary, to Charles Cary Rumsey of Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Harriman is heiress to a large portion of her father's colossal fortune.

The Harriman family is still in mourning and the marriage was as quiet and unostentatious as possible. Only the immediate family and closest friends were present.

The wedding was a sequel of the romance of an American heiress who preferred American men to foreign titles. Miss Harriman was for some time reported engaged to Robert Walton Goelet, a millionaire himself, and member of one of the most exclusive families in America. Young Goelet's suit was sanctioned by Mr. Harriman, but when Mr. Goelet introduced his sweetheart to Rumsey, his classmate at Harvard, it seemed to be a case of love at first sight. The engagement followed young Rumsey's visit to Arden to do sculpture work on a monument to the late E. H. Harriman and a bas relief of Miss Harriman herself on horseback.

Miss Harriman was her father's favorite and is said to have inherited his remarkable business acumen. Before his death Harriman turned over several million dollars to her, and taught her how to handle money, the income from which she devoted to work among poor consumptives.

She is head of the Arden farms dairy company, capitalized at $100,000 and paying dividends.

Mr. Rumsey is the son of Laurence D. Rumsey of Buffalo. He was at Harvard for a time, but did not graduate. Instead he went to Paris, where he spent several years in his studio in the Notre Dame Des Champs studying sculpture.

Mr. Rumsey is a noted horseman and polo player and something of an athlete, though small in stature. Miss Harriman herself is a splendid horsewoman.

LA FOLLETTE HITS RATE BILL.

Pleads for Adoption of Amendments Offered by "Insurgents."

Senator La Follette.

by the Insurgents as a means of wiping out the sins of past congresses. He said that all railroad laws up to date were in the interest of the railroads, and advocated a complete reorganization of the interstate commerce commission.

"The interstate commerce commission is engaged in a mere child's play," said Mr. La Follette, adding that it was so hedged about that it could not effectively deal with the problem.

While the rate regulation provision of the president's original bill was in the public interest, Mr. La Follette said, the provision had been modified by Senators Aldrich and Elkins wholly in the interest of the railroads.

St. Louis, May 26.—The Terminal Railroad association of St. Louis announced an increase of 5 per cent. in the wages of 5,000 of its employees who receive less than $200 a month.
