WHAT THERE IS IN IT

The saloon-keepers all may be very nice men.
But what is there in it for me?
I blow in my money and wake in the pen.
So what is there in it for me?
Of course I'm as welcome as flowers in May
When I come to the joint to squander my pay,
But I wake in the cooler the very next day;
And that's all there's in it for me.
All over this country we're swimming in booze.
But what is there in it for me?
The saloon-keeper's kids are wearing new shoes.
But what is there in it for me?
The distiller's share is an automobile,
A carriage the retailer's share of the deal,
But I'm wearing shoes that are down at the heel,
And that's all there's in it for me.
My thirst costs me more than my clothes and my food,
And that's all there's in it for me.
The booze took my money and did me no good,
And that's all there's in it for me.
The brewer is rich, he has gold by the peck.
The barman gets paid—he's always on deck—
But whatever I get, I get in the neck—
And that's all there's in it for me.
Why should I vote that the curse may endure?
For what is there in it for me?
I'm bound to vote "dry" on election day sure,
For what is there in it for me?
Why, new self-respect and a chance for my life,
New clothes for the kids and a home for my wife,
The beginning of peace, the end of all strife—
And that's what there's in it for me!"

RAILROAD MEN'S HOME.

Biggest Bequest Ever Given A Lake County Institution.

The National Railroad Men's Home in our City has just been given a donation of $100,000 with which to pay for the fine new structure which was dedicated a few weeks ago by Governor Deneen and founded by Dr. Ingalls in 1889.

The donor of this sum is Hamilton Carhart of Detroit, a manufacturer of overalls who has made the gift outright and without any strings attached. He states it is merely a donation to show his appreciation of the fact that the railroad men have helped to make him wealthy by using the garments extensively which he has manufactured for many years. He declares he had reached the stage in life now where he will not miss the $100,000 and believes the men are deserving aid from all who can help them for the services they render the public.

When the railroad men's home neared completion, Mr. Carhart sent word as to what he would be willing to do, communicating with the Superintendent that he would contribute to the association whatever the building would cost, no matter whether the amount reached $100,000 or up to $115,000.

There was some question as to whether the directors would accept the gift and they at once inquired to find out the conditions attached to the offer. When Mr. Carhart made the statement as to his reasons for building the home, the trustees held another conference and decided to accept the offer.

PAYS OVER $2,500.
The Supt. was sent on to see Mr. Carhart in Detroit and he there received the first payment of $25,000. Mr. Carhart stated he would turn over $2,500 per month or as much more as the trustees desired to carry through their plans and pay for the building as they desired.

The donation is the largest single donation ever given to a Lake County institution and as railroad men of the entire country are eligible as inmates of the home in case they are disabled or sick, the Detroit man's aid is most important. It will result in the various railroad men's organizations being able to cease their efforts to raise the large sum for the building, which many had agreed to help do.

The home recently acquired the corner lot near the main building, 100 by 300 feet and they now have a tract of land of 300 by 600 feet, or about 6 acres. The home is located at the south limits of Highland Park and is easily seen from from the Northwest and the C. and M. Electric trains. The dedication of the home a few weeks ago by Governor Deneen was made a big event, attracting railroad men from all parts of the country.

RESIGNATION

HIGHLAND PARK, ILL.,
June 24th, 1910.

To the Trustees, Session and Members of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church

Believing that evangelistic work is the work for which I am fitted, and to which I am called, either in a city church where the multitude go by, or out in the world at large, and after many months of prayerful consideration I have decided that I should identify myself more closely with the character of Christian service in my ministry. It will not be unanticipated news to you or other of my friends when I say I am to be associated with Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman in some engagements. It is our expectation to accompany him on his coming world tour and assist in the meetings.

My conviction has always been that if I have any God-given ability it is to win men to Christ. The counsel of every friend here and elsewhere who has been kind enough to mention any peculiar gifts in the ministry has but confirmed my own conviction. If the Master has given any evidence of His seal upon my efforts in the Kingshighway church at St. Louis, it was the coming into His Kingdom of large numbers of people. The work of a suburban church, delightful and happy as it is, does not afford large opportunities for this character of preaching.

I firmly believe that the work here will not suffer because of my leaving it. The future of this church is assured. I have said publicly and privately, and with grateful pride, that the Session of this church represents the finest body of men I have ever known. No minister could ever have a more satisfactory cabinet. These men but reflect that high type of communicants which they represent. Such a church cannot be long without a pastor, or suffer its work seriously hindered. I shall be happy to continue with you until such time as you are assured the work can proceed unimpeded.

I trust that you will enter into full sympathy with my purpose, accept my resignation and cooperate with me in pressing Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relations which I hope may become effective not later than October first, nineteen ten. It will be a comfort to know that your interest will follow my work, and my hope shall be that I may always be worthy of your sympathy, your friendship and your prayers.

"The Lord bless thee and keep thee,
The Lord make His face shine upon thee,
The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace."
Believe me, yours in His service.

Reports were read by the committee on school grounds and also by the depot grounds committee. There was a general discussion of the Highland Park bond issue of $50,000.
