ment to behold the pretty little one room frame structure.

Mrs. Adams was the guest of honor at the luncheon, at which her sister, Mrs. Ferdinand, was hostess. Everybody did not understand just what Mrs. Adams and her associates were doing when they heard divers reports about a new library going up on the north shore. It was made clear at the luncheon, however, that she merely had carried out a plan which she had had in mind for a long time of making a memorial tribute to her late husband, whose life, she said, had been dedicated to good deeds.

The day was the day on which a certain note of indebtedness of the Gads Hill organization fell due. It was for $1,500, and it had given a bit of trouble until Mrs. Adams had taken it up whereupon the worry was lessened by more than 50 per cent. Yesterday it was allayed forever, when Mrs. Adams made a little speech setting forth the fact that she would have been glad to take up more of their notes except that the man who had them would not let them get away from him. Then before the fifty women she held the piece of paper up and tore it into bits, signifying that the old account was settled forever.

The library has fireplaces at each end, and an inscription over one of them reads: "I shall pass through this life but once, and any good thing, therefore that I can do, any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer it, for I shall not pass through this way again."

This was Mr. Adams' life motto. The room is a comfortable porch, over which pretty vines are growing. There are also some good books but more could be tolerated there, and those interested would be grateful for contributions.

Among the guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Frank R. McMullin, Mrs. Mae Gregor Adams, Mrs. Ira Couch Wood, Miss Mabel Dick, Mrs. Edward D. Parmelee, Mrs. William D. Hibbard Jr., Mrs. Robert B. Gregory, Mrs. August Magnus, Mrs. William A. Alexander, Mrs. Frank Hall, Mrs. William D. McKenzie, Mrs. Robert W. Buckley, Miss Gertrude Chandler, Mrs. George W. Childs, Mrs. George Robert Jones, Mrs. Franklin B. Hussey, Mrs. George A. Mason, Miss Saidee Buckley, Mrs. Will Morgan, Mrs. Charles C. Yoe, Mrs. Frederick M. Steele, Mrs. Jacob Bauer, Mrs. K. H. Pickering, Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. Charles Boynton, Mrs. Benjamin Fessenden, Mrs. Frank Thorne.

WALTER DAMROSCH AND THE NEW YORK SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AT RAVINIA PARK.

To Walter Damrosch and the New York Symphony Orchestra, Ravinia Park largely owes its success. The return of this Orchestra and its popular conductor has been in past seasons, and will be this, the occasion of an enthusiastic welcome—a welcome like that was given to the return of an old familiar friend.

The Orchestra which has played several weeks each season since Ravinia's inception, has changed but little from year to year in the personnel of the men, and many of them like Mr. Soslavsky, the noted Russian Violinist, and Mr. Barrere, the distinguished Flutist, will be welcomed with an enthusiasm only second to that accorded Walter Damrosch.

The first week's program which begins Sunday afternoon, July 31st, contains many novelties with which Mr. Damrosch in the past has always taken pains to enliven his offerings. Popular new works of Massenet, Purgelin, Saint-Saens, Chaminade, Lockume, Durand, Paderewski, Richard Strauss, Hugo Kahn, Pierre, Glazounow, and Gretry, will find places upon the first weeks program.

Friday evening, which has been dedicated to Wagner, Mr. Damrosch will present the Bacchante from Tannhauser, the Album Leaf and Tramp, the Love Scene from Tristan and Isolde, and the Processional from Parsifal Sunday evening. Mr. Barrere will play two solos for Flute and on Wednesday and Friday evenings, Mr. Soslavsky, the Concert Meister will appear as soloist.

Mr. Elgar Winteron of Chicago spent Sunday with his aunt Mrs. F. Bahr.

Mr. George Buelow of Wisconsin is spending a few weeks with his aunt Mrs. F. Bahr of Laurel avenue.

Lyon & Healy's WASHBURN PIANO MUTUAL BENEFIT PURCHASE PLAN

Here is your opportunity to get a fine instrument at a special price. READ THIS PLAN CAREFULLY.

To every purchaser of a Washburn Piano at retail on our warehouse floor during May, 1910, we shall allow $1 for each Washburn Piano sold by us at retail during the month of May, the number of twenty-five; for the next Washburn Pianos sold up to fifty we shall allow 50 cents each; for the next Washburn Pianos sold up to one hundred we shall allow 25 cents each.

This is a bona-fide Mutual Benefit Allowance which we charge to advertising, because we believe it will be worth a large sum to us to introduce the latest models of the Washburn Piano in all sections of the city at once. To those who buy a Washburn Piano for cash we will send a check for the amount of the benefit June 1st, and to those who buy on time we will make a credit on their note or account.

EXAMPLE—Thus, should we sell only twenty-five Washburn Pianos at retail during May, this benefit would amount to $25 ($1 on each of the first twenty-five Washburns sold); should we sell 50 Washburns it would amount to $75.00 (that is, $1 on the first 25 and 50 cents on the second 25); should we sell 100 Washburns this benefit would amount to $125. You would actually save that sum. The retail price of the Washburn Piano remains precisely the same as always—$275, $300, $325 and upward. $10 down will place one of these beautiful Washburns in your home. The balance may be paid by easy monthly installments.

PLEASE OBSERVE that this offer in no way favors of Prize, or Straight-Puzzle Contest—but in the strictest sense of the word is a forward Business Proposition.

The Washburn Piano is made by the same factory organization that made the world-famous Washburn Mandolins and Guitars. It is owned by the stockholders of Lyon & Healy.
