

THE NORTH SHORE.

Stretching for fifteen miles along the Lake Michigan shore from Winnetka to Lake Bluff is a most beautiful strip of land popularly called the "North Shore." It consists of an abrupt bluff from ten to about one hundred and twenty feet in height above the lake, cut with zig-zag ravines largely covered with trees, many of them venerable with age, and the whole averaging about a mile or more in width. Back of this bluff is an indefinite stretch of land usually called the slough; low flat prairie and some parts of it still covered with water except in dry seasons. Unpromising as it now seems to be assured in the near future it too will be made to lend attractions to the bluff between it and grand old Lake Michigan.

Approximately 15,000 or 18,000 people reside on this picturesque strip of land between Winnetka and Lake Bluff, and the number is fast increasing. These settlers are almost entirely made up of intelligent, cultured and prosperous people. With no intent to belittle any other suburb of Chicago, we do not hesitate to say that the North Shore by far surpasses all other localities as a residential district.

These eight centers of population, Winnetka, Hubbard's Woods, Glencoe, Ravinia, Highland Park, Highwood, Lake Forest, and Lake Bluff, all have a common interest. The territory is bounded on one side by the Lake and on the other by the slough. It is traversed by the C. & N. W. Ry., and the C. & M. Trolly. Throughout this district, the saloon is an outlaw. Churches abound. The public schools are among the best, while Lake Forest University, Ferry Hall (a ladies' school), Lake Forest Academy for boys and the Northwestern Military Academy are unsurpassed as private institutions.

There are four newspapers, located respectively at Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Highland Park and Glencoe. If these four could be merged into one, and that one made in every respect first class, until our population is materially increased, it should be backed up with more capital than any one of the four can or is willing to invest.

It should represent Religion, (not sectarianism), Education (both public and private schools), politics (but not partisan), philanthropy, in a word all that goes to make up broad, pure, wholesome, intelligent citizenship. What say the readers of the North Shore News Letter.

MARKETING by TELEPHONE

THE retail merchant's telephone serves not only as a salesman but also as a purchasing agent.

When a merchant finds that he is going to run out of a line of goods, he calls up the wholesaler or factory and not only orders a new stock, but comes to an agreement on the price and the time of delivery.

The unexpected needs of his customers can be met with the least possible delay. If the merchant cannot find what he wants in town, the Long Distance Service of the Bell System brings him into immediate communication with other cities and other markets.
