WANTED

WANTED:—A second hand talkin machine, in answering state particulars and price of same.

We gather that the Brooklyn woman who named sixty-three co-respondents in her divorce suit, really deserves to win it.

New York bulldog turns on the gas and commits suicide. Even a dog can't stand the dog's life a New Yorker leads.

Now the sultan of Sulu says that one wife is a plenty. Thus he destroys his usefulness as a comic opera prop.

A hen that sings has been discovered in South Carolina. How's this going to benefit the cold storage house?

There's one thing to be said in favor of the hobble skirt. A woman can't use up more than three seats in the trolley with it.

Leipsic professor says we ought to have a universal coinage. Then money would talk louder than Esperanto.

Writing poetry is such a mild form of insanity that heretofore it has not been thought necessary to lock up the victim.

A $60,000 bull dog has just died and there is to be a post-mortem investigation, instead of the usual will contest.

A New York heir to $36,000,000 has discovered that the legacy is only $15,000. And the lawyers didn't get the rest, either.

The tipless hotel should now become a treat-less hotel also and thus attain perfection.

When it comes to beverages, the airman's course is the milky way.

Girls may be able to get jobs in men's attire, but the question is, can they hold them?

Any prudent deer hunter should refuse to take his best friends into the woods with him.

There is nothing artificial about the flights of the aeroplane.

The lost art of raining has been found again.

Two Philadelphia newspapers are indulging in a religious controversy. Isn't that just like Philadelphia?

A New York restaurant patron stabbed a waiter who was impudent. Let us hope that the custom won't spread.

It takes a man with a large variety of clothing to follow the dodging of the mercury these days.

A hen can lay four times her own weight in eggs, in a year. That is, she could if she would.

Take a heart stimulant and then cautiously investigate the condition of your coal bin.

Dread disease of the flying men—malaria.

A MAN IS KNOWN not only by the company he keeps, but by the writing paper he uses as well. It is absolutely essential for a woman who would be in good form and good taste to use the best writing paper she can buy, but man's personal correspondence paper should be chosen with no less careful consideration.

The best writing papers that either a man or a woman can buy are the kind "Made in Berkshire" by the well-known company of Eaton Crane & Pike. These papers combine all the essential qualities, and are not expensive, as you will learn by coming in and examining our line. Albert Larson.
