NOW.

BY ETHELIND LORD,
"Unto the day, the day,"
Tomorrow ne'er appears.
Live NOW, and put aside
Your dreams your foolish fears

"Unto the day, the day,"
NOW is the time to give
Of faith, and hope, and charity—
NOW is the time to live.

AN APOLOGY

In our issue of the 12th inst., an article under the heading of the Highwood Items appeared, in which our compositor made a mistake which I very much regret. The article should have read as follows:

"Our city fathers have just shown a span of goodness for the residents along West Railway Avenue by placing street stubs and crossings along the street. This street has long been a disgrace to the city and a menace to the safety of pedestrians.

In the article published Nov. 12th, the words "street stubs" and "crossings" were omitted. Thanks to Mr. R. A. Meess of Highwood for calling our attention to the mistake.

The design is the head of an Indian in the center of the card board and over the top is the words, in large gothic letters "Dance Every Thursday Night." Below is the words "Given By The Social Five." This is incited by a wreath made of crepe paper. The poster referred to can be seen in Goldberg's Hall.

THE SONG OF LIFE.

BY ELEANORE SEE INSLER.
I'll sing you a song, O ye people forlorn,
A song from the heart of the world!
'Twas there when the first tender ripple was born,
The first wave of thought was uncurled!
Its rhythm is known to the spheres very well;
'Tis sung by the Wonderful Seven;
It reaches the nethermost confines of Hell,
And lifts to the uppermost Heaven.
The name of the song is called Love, and my dears,
It comes from The Absolute Source,
So put by your troubles, your doubts and your fears,
And lay by your griefs and remorse.
For Love is beginning, fulfillment and home;
The source of all wisdom and power;
It lights up the star in the infinite dome,
And breaths thro' the breath of the flower.
O people beloved, attune to the song!
'Twill give you your highest, your best,
And hard, heavy burdens you've carried so long,
Will fall from you, leaving you blest.

A SIDE DISH JUST BETWEEN YOU AND I.

One day last week Mrs. Salyards asked me to accompany her to the city for the purpose of selecting a hat. Of course I went and after arriving in the city made a break for the Fair Department Store, took the elevator and went to the basement, there I saw hats of all kinds, after looking them all over I came across one all the colors of the rainbow, this I selected at a cost of 49 cents. Just as I turned around to show her the selection I had made she gave me a look that indicated trouble; I didn't wait for the elevator but made for the stair-way and landed on the street and with the exception of that look I got in the basement I landed all right. I didn't see any more of her until we met at our home in Ravinia that evening; she told me she had made her own selection of a hat and that it would be delivered to-morrow. To-morrow came, and as I sat at the table reading my daily paper a knock came at the door, on opening the door there stood a man with a box 16x36x36 and on the top was large raised letters C. O. D. $23.49. I thought to myself, "If I had only some one to advise me as to what I could do to "Get-Rich-Quick," in place of waiting for our subscribers to come forward now and then with $1.50.

Mr. John Klue our most popular boot and shoe dealer has at present the largest stock of foot wear ever brought to our city at prices that are within reach of all. When in need of goods in his line give him a call and get in return a square deal.

Those two ladies that purchased four quarts of cranberries in Chicago while in shopping and carried them around the city all day simply because they thought they got them cheap discovered on arriving home that they could have bought the same at the Highland Park Northwestern Department Store for two cents less on the quart than those they purchased in Chicago, neither would they have to carry them around all day. Woman, Oh Woman, wilt thou never learn, had you purchased those berries at home there would have been a saving of at least ten cents which would have given your husbands the pleasure of enjoying the smoke of a good cigar.

As stated in our last issue we made mention that we would give the names of the large variety of stores and places which our leading hardware merchant, Mr. Alexander Robinson carries in stock; we hardly think it necessary for the simple reason that any kind of a stove or range you should call for you can rest assured Mr. Robinson will have it in stock, and at prices which you can not duplicate in any other suburb along the North Lake Shore. It is money to you if you need hardware of any kind by giving him your order. It is here you get a "Square Deal."

It appears some person wrote two letters one day last week, one I presume was a want add to be placed in the News Letter, and the other to some friend; in sealing the letters up she got them mixed and sent the one written to a friend to this office. In the bottom of this letter were the words "kiss the baby for me," I looked around, but could see no baby, so I came to the conclusion there must be a mistake somewhere.

Don't fail to notice the new advertisement in next week's issue of the News-Letter of our leading plumber, Mr. Fred Schaefer, whose place of business is 21 Sheridan road.

Complaint now and then is brought to Mr. A. W. Fletcher our post-master, by people receiving and getting their mail at this post-office, to which I can say, nine times out of ten it is the fault of the ones that complains. As to being obfiding I don't think that there is a more accommodating post-master in the State than Mr. A. W. Fletcher; time alter time you have received your mail twice a day, on different holidays when he was required to make but the one delivery.
