GOLF CLUB GAINS NEW LAND FOR LINKS

Lake Shore Golf Club at Ravinia Acquires Ten Acres of Land With Which to Enlarge The Course

Member of the New Lake Shore Golf Club, at Ravinia, will have more room to try their fancy shots next season, as the club has acquired ten more acres of ground and work is already under way for the widening of the course. Professional "Jack" Pearson is in charge of the work, which consists of moving the third, fourth and fifth holes onto the new piece of ground.

The ten acres adjoin the original course on the south and makes a total of 125 acres for the club, which is located on Braeside, between Glencoe and Highland Park. The club is the one which created so much comment last year because of the elaborate way in which it was laid out and the good condition it has been in, considering how new it is. The members played on it practically all last summer, and expect this year of seasoning to make it far better for next season.

No effort will be made to increase the length of the course, as it is already about 6,500 yards long. It was considered a little too crowded last year, however, hence the move by which the new territory was acquired. The Lake Shore players think, with the additional ten acres in use, they will have a course which will equal in every respect any in the country. A great deal of work was put in on the grounds last year by the professional and his assistants, and he will make use of every bit of fair weather which will permit of work between this time and the opening of the 1911 season. Considering the short time in which work has been under way, the members are well pleased with the condition of both the fair greens and putting greens.

At the annual election, held recently Alfred A. Leopold was named as president and M. Speaker vice president. William Kirchberger was elected secretary and Alfred Oppenheimer treasurer. The directors are: F. L. Mandel, M. Born, M. F. Goodman, L. Eckstein, S. Deutch, I. H. Mayer, H. F. Foreman, B. E. Bensinger, L. F. Block, H. S. Austrian and M. H. Wineman.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevins have both been ill the past week.

Many people in Highland Park will be interested to know that Miss Helen Newman, daughter of Dr. Newman, a former resident of this city, was married a short time ago to Mr. Schubert Shaw of Santiago, Cal.

Mrs. MacFarlane, formerly a well known resident of Highland Park and the mother of Mrs. Lloyd Bergen died last week in Chicago.

Primary Numbers—Miss Esther White The Study in Geography—Miss Mary Polmeteer, McAlister school, Waukegan. The work of Miss White and Miss Polmeteer was especially interesting and instructive. The executive committee selected for the year as follows: Principal C. R. Pugh of Libertyville. Principal Foy Hawkins, Lake Bluff, chairman. Principal G. N. Maxwell, Highwood. Miss Etta Farr, Grayslake.

HOME VISITATION DAY.

On Wednesday afternoon Nov. 30th., visitors from every church will visit every home in our city, extending an invitation to every child and adult to attend the school and church of his choice. No more appropriate reason could be chosen for the visitation than that between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and it is hoped that the visitors will be gladly received with a hearty response to their invitation.

NEWSBOY ATTACKED AND BITTEN 30 TIMES BY FOUR DOGS

Robert Silvestri, a 13-year-old newsboy of Highland Park, may die as the result of thirty wounds on his body, sustained from an attack by four bulldogs belonging to C. W. Buckley of Highland Park, a broker of the firm of C. W. Buckley & Company of Chicago.

Young Silvestri, who is the son of Frank Silvestri of the suburb, bears on large wounds in various portions of his body, from the face and head down, and twenty smaller ones. His ears are almost completely chewed off and his features are mutilated.

Dragged from Tree

Saturday morning on his paper delivery route, he delivered the papers at the Buckley residence and was going after his bicycle when one bulldog made after him. He made every effort to climb a tree on the edge of the ravine that runs through the place but the canine pulled him from the tree trunk by catching hold of his shoe and dragging at him. Young Silvestri fell from the tree and rolled down into the ravine.

The first dog was then joined by three other blooded animals of the Buckley pack and the dogs bit and tore at the prostrate boy when he halted in the progress of rolling down into the ravine. They tore his clothes from his body. The sharp teeth of the dogs found easy prey in the boy's flesh. Finally a colored coachman attached to the household heard the noise and came to the rescue. He in turn had a battle with the infuriated animals, but finally beat them off with a club and rescued the boy.

In Nervous Collapse

Silvestri was taken home and Drs. Bergen, Brulls and Sheldon of Highland Park were called. They found that the boy had sustained thirty wounds from head to foot. He was also in a critical state of nervous collapse and even now trembles violently as he lies upon his bed. Later two Italian physicians were summoned from Chicago, including one to find whether the dogs have rabies or not.

They pronounced the dogs not to be mad, and the pack will probably not be killed. The wound, such of them as could be, were cauterized and treated and the boy is in an extremely critical condition. Mr. Buckley the owner, is at present on an eastern trip. The family has agreed to care for young Silvestri and to take every means to save his life. The Silvestris reside on west Central avenue and the Buckleys on Ravine place.

The fact that the youth kept his arms about his neck saved his life, as the dogs worried at his throat and tried to tear it.—Waukegan Sun.

Assistant recording secretary—Miss Saidee Buckley. Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Edmund D. Parmalee. Treasurer—William G. Hibbard, Jr. Assistant treasurer and Auditor—August Magnus. The board of directors consists of Mesdames Robert Gregory, James E. Keith, William McKenzie, William A. Alexander, Wallace de Wolf and Ira Couch Wood. Waukegan Sun.

For real-estate in any part of our city call on Mr. Frank P. Hawkins.

By-the-way, are you aware that we have the best stocked stationary store in our city of any suburb along the North Lake Shore. Mr. Larson being the proprietor takes great pains in seeing that nothing is wanted in his line of business.

Travel our streets throughout the day or at any hour during the night and you will find our policemen doing their duty, therefore we are proud of them and our city mayor for the good they are doing in our city, all of which is appreciated by the entire community.

Don't fail to call at the Drug Store on the west side or phone 200 if in need of pure drugs, perfumes, school books, postal cards, ice cream, cigars, in fact any thing in Mr. Dale Sweetland's line of business can be found in his store.

Mr. James Duffy, our most popular real-estate dealer has real-estate both to sell and rent. Mr. Duffy like all his brothers have worked their way up from step to step, and to-day have the confidence of the entire community, therefore we take great pleasure in recommending those who wish a square deal in real-estate to call on Mr. James Duffy.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Services will be conducted by the pastor E. LeRoy Dakin M. A. morning and evening. The popular Sunday evening service will be interesting, instructive, and inspiring. The pastor will tell that beautiful old legend, "The Quest of Offers." All are invited.

Robert Sylvester who's well known here as a news boy, was attacked last Sunday morning at the residence of Mr. R. Buckley by four ferocious bulldogs and seriously bitten. He was given the Pasteur Treatment and is now improving.

Tuesday evening the Ossoli Club gave a one act play entitled "How the Vote was Won." It was a comic play, the scene of which was laid in a home in London and the subject was "Woman's Suffrage." Mrs. Isaac Jordan made an especial hit as she always does playing her part of an actress very well. Mr. George Mason took the leading man's part and as a much abused "male relation" and amused the audience very much.

The Parents and Teachers Association met Monday evening in the Library building. Miss MacCormack gave an extremely entertaining reading of Ibsen's play "The Doll House," followed by her Mrs. Frank Green who read a paper which was a synopsis of Ibsen's "Ghosts" in which she made known the symbolical meanings.

Mr. J. Schwingel will shortly move in his new home on Michigan Avenue in Chicago.

Miss Francis Sobey returned home Sunday after a three months visit with her uncle in Oklahoma.

Mr. F. N. Williams baby who has been ill several days is improving.

Mrs. D. P. Sheahan entertained out-of-town guests for over Sunday last week.

There will be a musical given by the pupils of Mr. L. C. Armons in his studio at Evanston Friday afternoon November 25. A number of boys and girls from Highland Park are studying under Mr. Armons.

Miss Kathleen Bergen who is attending school at Kemper Hall, spent the Thanksgiving holidays at home.

The boys club of D. T. H. S. gave a dance at Ravinia Park Thanksgiving. The boys intend to give a dance at Ravinia once a month, charging $1.25 a couple in order to meet expenses.

A VALUABLE INVENTION

Newton F. Chamberlin, of Libertyville, Ill., has just been allowed a patent on a lock nut that is said by able mechanists to fill a long-felt want. Among its advantages, it can be used any number of times, is not loosened by any amount of jarring, and the cost is no more than that of any ordinary nut.—Washington Post.

STUDEBAKER THEATER

"The Girl in the Train," the new musical comedy in which Frank Daniels is appearing at the Studebaker theatre, Chicago, has been generally praised as one of the most tuneful and amusing plays presented in the western metropolis in many days. "The Girl in the Train" is one long succession of rollicking waltzes, rippling solos and smashing big ensembles. It is a tuneful tonic, a feast of colors, a breeze from laughter. And it serves to bring Frank Daniels back into his own, for he has never appeared in a better role, and his company is perfection.

The new Charles Dillingham musical comedy, which is an adaptation by Harry B. Smith of the German operetta, "Die Geschiedene Frau," has duplicated in Chicago the success it met with in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. The exquisite music of Leo Fall has played an important part in this success, as had been expected. Half a dozen of the best songs in the piece have scored encore after encore at the Studebaker, especially such numbers as "Follow Me," "You must Be Mine, Dear," "Roger was a Sailor," and "That's Why People Marry."

Mr. Daniels appears as the judge, with a laugh almost every time he utters a sentence. He is inimitable as the impressionable judge presiding at a trial for divorce. Next to the funny little comedian, the successes of the play are Sallie Fisher and Vera Michelena. Miss Fisher appears as the wife suing for divorce, and she has several pleasing solos. Miss Michelena has the part of the actress, who is the cause of all the trouble in the play. She is chic and engaging and sings unusually well. Some of the other members of the company that scored are Phillip Branson, Gilbert Clayton, Martin Hayden, James Reaney, Edna Hunter and Almyra Sessions. Mr. Daniels has scored such an unqualified hit in Chicago that he will continue indefinitely in "The Girl in the Train" at the Studebaker theatre. Here after he will appear on Sunday nights, but there is to be a matinee on Saturdays only.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Black of Chicago, formerly of Canada were Highland Park visitors this week.

Master Ward Small of east Laurel avenue entertained eighteen friends at supper last Saturday evening. The table decorations were pink carnations. The evening was spent in playing games which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mrs. A. M. Atwater of east Central avenue entertained a number of guests on Thanksgiving day.

HIGHWOOD ITEMS

Mrs. A. E. Heath left Highwood on Thursday, Nov. 17, on her return trip to London, England. She sailed from New York on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harvey gave a farewell dinner to their cousin, Mrs. Heath, on Sunday Nov. 13. The guests, numbering twenty, had a very enjoyable time, and the company broke up in the evening after wishing all sorts of pleasure and good luck to Mrs. Heath.

The Ladies of the First Methodist Episcopal church of N. Highland Park are making preparations for an advertisers bazaar to be shortly given, and hope all their friends and well wishes will keep the fact in their memory and watch for the place and date.
