A hunter in Pennsylvania peppered a boy with shot, mistaking him for a squirrel. Aviators had better be careful at this season, or this species of hunter may aim at an aeroplane, mistaking it for a sparrow.

Another proof that the American girl is equal on every occasion. The young ladies who attend Wellesley college have organized a fire brigade, with fourteen captains, all of whom live in dormitories and assume charge whenever fire is discovered. The brigade will be drilled for efficient service, and there is no doubt that when necessity arises these fire-fighters of the gentler sex will be "on the job."

As a result of the census Chicago is making a virtuous pose because 900,000 of the population are set down as "regular" church attendants. That looks pretty good unless attention is directed to the 1,300,000 of irregulars. And what some of those irregulars do when the regulars are at church, is a caution.

The meanest man we have heard about this fall is the Ohio fellow who lures his hens to their nests by the use of a phonograph. But any hen ought to know that it is not too late to refuse to lay even after the nest is reached.

Even persons on moderate salaries will have to be on guard against the counterfeit $10 bills found in Philadelphia. The report of a counterfeit representative of $100 a few days ago worried only the plutocrats.

There's no good excuse for staying up late at night, says a physical culturist. So we've all found out. That's why we have to use the poor ones.
