A SIDE DISH JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME

CARELESSNESS OF A CONDUCTOR.

Through the assistance of the agent at the N. W. Ry., at Ravinia last Monday evening a lady was saved from being either killed or injured through the carelessness of a conductor on the C. M. E. Ry. I boarded a street car at Laurel avenue, getting off at Ravinia. Just as I stepped from the car the conductor gave the signal for the motorman to go ahead, not looking to see whether or not there were any passengers to get on, but just as I got off a lady got one foot on the steps of the car intending to get on when the car started off with a jerk, and had not Mr. Berkett been close by to lay hold of the lady she would have been thrown between the platform and the car and been badly injured or killed. I have noticed just such actions on the part of a few of the conductors on several different occasions, and I am positive that the Company would be very thankful to those that have went through the above ordeal for their complaint.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Mr. Teamster, how would you like to have a harness put on your back then beat over the head and body with a club till you dropped on your knees, simply because you could not move the heavy laden wagon behind you; or can you tell me how that poor old horse you were beating so terrible a few days ago felt while receiving blow after blow over its head and body until it dropped to its knees simply because it had not the strength to move the heavy laden wagon. To make this item short will say, that it is not among the human race you should mingle with, but with those of the Canimals.

IN TROUBLE.

Probably you remember a few weeks ago I made mention of receiving at this office a letter which was intended for a brother or sister, but through mistake was directed News Letter Office, at the bottom it read, "kiss the baby for me." I looked around but could see no "kid" and of course came to the conclusion that a mistake had been made; but to knock this all hollow, a gentleman came to the office about ten days ago and got permission to leave his baby buggy in the office for a few hours. He left it, and it is still here. Now everybody that comes in of course sees the buggy, and being unoccupied, they'll out "where's the 'kid' and start on to congratulating me. Now I wish that gentleman would call for the buggy, otherwise I will be compelled to add a kid or get a life size doll to put in it.

THAT HAT

Mrs. Salyards took offense at the remark I made last week in regard to that $24 48 hat after I had made a selection of one for 49 cents. She now says if people were to see the hat she wears they would say it was worth about 100 cts. I felt proud of this last remark; Hee, I think that there is one printer at least, that can invest so large amount as 10 cts. on his wife.

ITS UP TO YOU

Say, its up to you, and more especially to those that are in arrears to the News-Letter for several years subscription whether or not I sit down to a Christmas dinner consisting of Turkey, Goose, Duck, Chicken, Beef, Pork, Bologna Sausage, and if it should be later I'll never forget those 7, 8 and 10 year delinquent subscribers and without a doubt will have the pleasure of introducing you to your nearest justice—the Peace.
