COMRADESHIP OF FATHER AND SON

Portrayed Strongly in "Putting It Over" Third Week at the Olympic, Chicago

It is generally conceded that comradeship between father and son is conducive to family happiness.

This element is brought out particularly strongly in "Putting It Over," the Lee Arthur and Frank Hatch comedy, in its third week at the Olympic Theater, Chi.

Amos Sterling, a financier, who sends his son Ross to college, is broad-minded enough to see his son's escapades. When the boy gets into trouble, the father, instead of scolding him, helps him out. Through the entire play father and son are pictured in the light of "good pals." Consequently when the young man finds that his father is involved in financial difficulties, he gives up his intended calling of being a lawyer and becomes a professional baseball player, using the salary he earns to make up his father's shortage.

Ross is in love with Ruth Noel, his father's ward, and in his father he finds his greatest aid in winning the girl's hand. "Putting It Over" teems with laughter and amusing situations. Edwin Holt plays the part of the comrade parent Harold Vosburgh that of the college student and Miss Helen Holmes that of Ruth Noel. Other members of the cast are Frederick Burt, Royal Tracy, Franklin Ritchie, Francis Joyner, Joseph Woodburn, C. E. Harris, Alison Skipworth and Veda Steele.

Exmoor Club Affairs

With golf matches and weekly bridge parties on Tuesday the club was unusually gay and attractive. On Thursday there were one hundred and fifty ladies for luncheon while ordinarily there are about seventy-five. Hostesses at attractive luncheons were Mesdames John Glass who entertained in honor of Mrs. Oscar A. Woodruff and Miss Drake, A. F. Banks, Kenneth Cowan, B. A. Eckhart, Walter Hoops, and Mrs. W. A. Alexander. Every afternoon tea was served and the following ladies of the club poured: Mrs. John Glass, Mrs. Thomas Clements, Mrs. Marshall Samsell, Mrs. Franklin B. Hussey, Mrs. John Bunnell, and Mrs. George A. Schofield.

Miss Caroline Painter of Midlothian retained her title as Chicago champion when she defeated Miss Ruth Layman of Hinsdale in the golf finals by 5 up and 4 to play. This gives Miss Painter one victory on the Edward F. Cary cup which is donated by Mr. Cary of Lake Forest, formerly of Highland Park, for competition in connection with the Chicago championship. The second flight finals went to Miss R. Dugan of Glenview, who won a rather easy match from Mrs. N. C. Craig by 5 and 4. Miss E. Copeland of Skokie won the third flight final when she defeated Mrs. A. Van Schaick of Exmoor by 3 and 1 in the final.

One of the most attractive events of the season ended the tournament week on Saturday when a "cabaret" dinner and dance was given. Miss Margaret Torrey who has recently come to Chicago from Los Angeles gave an excellent program of classic dances following the dinner. Among those entertaining at dinner were Arthur Van Schaick, Miss Lucia Ford, Aileen Kelly, A. M. Clement, Thomas Clement, George Swaggert, John M. Tuttle, H. J. Porter, John Glass, Richmond Dean, Darius Miller, A. Tyner, M. O. Bradley, Walter Hugh Baldwin, Robert Buckley, Liegh Maxwell, H. H. Titsworth, Eugene E. Andrews, Walter Smith, Frank G. Obituary

Taken suddenly ill with brain meningitis Sunday, James, the sixteen year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Funeral services were held from St. Mary's Church at nine o'clock Wednesday and were widely attended by pupils of the local schools. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Interment was in Waukegan cemetery.

Moraine Hotel News

Professor Gaston Arnoult gave a lecture on Monday morning at eleven o'clock, in French on "Petit Cafe," a Parisian comedy by Tristan Bernard.

The hotel is kept gay with informal affairs and on Tuesday afternoons the bridge parties are a success while Tuesday and Saturday evenings find the ball room crowded with dancers for the weather this season is ideal for that entertainment.

Mrs. Charles T. Boal gave a small bridge party and luncheon on Monday.

Mrs. W. S. Elliott and her mother of Jacksonville, Ill. and Mr. John Moore of Little Rock, Ark., arrived this week.

Ravinia Park Notes

The cold weather has of course interfered with the attendance at the presentation of grand opera but not so much so that there has not been a fairly sized audience which certainly showed its appreciation of both the operas and the delightful concerts given by the Thomas Orchestra under the direction of Gustav Hinrichs, On Wednesday evening among those seen in the boxes were Miss Floyd, Miss Louise Floyd, Miss Irene Floyd, Miss Justi and Miss De Merville, Mrs. Charles T. Boynton, Miss Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Millard, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harper of Evanston. Miss Edna Darch was a guest in the box of Mr. Louis Eckstein during the concert. On Friday evening at the presentation of "Aida" by Verdi in the box of Mrs. J. McGregor Adams were Mrs. Tillman, Miss Viola Shields, Miss Constance Shields and Culver Shields. In Mr. Stephen H. Harrington's box Miss Marion Heath entertained Miss Edna Van Riper, Miss Ethel Van Riper, Mr. Ted Wallace and Mr. John Heath. On Sunday evening Mr. J. C. McMullin entertained a box party in which the guests were Miss Edwina Hastings, Miss Catherine Schumacher, Miss Elizabeth Schumacher, Miss Evelyn Bailey, Mr. Roberts and Mr. Graham of Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Boynton had as their guest, Mrs. O. B. Grennis.

The Ravinia Club holds fortnightly meetings on Friday afternoons during the intermission. The membership in this club is constantly increasing. Probably their most successful achievement is the plan they are carrying out of having a course of lectures which are given on children's day. Last week the theatre was crowded with an audience consisting mainly of children who thoroughly enjoyed Mr. Leffingwell's tales of travel in California which were illustrated with stereopticon views.

Mrs. William Crosby, whose name is so closely associated with the success of Ravinia Park and who has been well known for years in musical circles as a Wagnerian exponent, will give the story of "Parsifal" in words and music tomorrow afternoon as only Mrs. Crosby, her-
