ILLINOIS PARAGRAPHS

ST. ELM—Illinois Central railroad train No. 24, the Panama Limited, southbound, running on the Vandalia track here, on account of a wreck at Kinmundy, ran into an open derail, when going fifty-five miles an hour. Engine and tender turned upside down and one Pullman and the baggage and express cars toppled over. Engineer, pilot and conductor, who were in the cab, escaped by jumping. The fireman suffered serious injury from scalding. The rest of the crew and the passengers escaped with bruises and nervous shocks. Four men stealing rides were pinned under the wreckage and one, "Jack McCann of Chicago," probably was fatally injured.

ELKHART—That Dan Cupid has shot true with his arrows in the woodlands around Elkhart, village was made known when the announcement was made that Jasper E. Oglesby, youngest son of the late Governor Richard J. Oglesby and brother of Lieutenant Governor John D. Oglesby, and Miss Maude Lee Byrum, daughter of David B. Byrum, Edgewater, a real estate dealer of Chicago, had been married on Aug. 13 at All Saints' Episcopal cathedral, Milwaukee, by the Rev. Frederick Delaney.

CAIRO—One of the largest mortgages ever filed for record in this county was received by Recorder Alfred Brown. It was for $200,000.000 and is given by the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway to the Union Trust company of New York and Benjamin F. Edwards of St. Louis. It covers all of the property owned by the railroad company in Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and will be recorded in every county the road enters.

ROCKFORD—Miss Elizabeth Adele Brown has become the bride of Daniel Louis Hoefler of the University of Chicago faculty. Mr. and Mrs. Hoefler will be at home at 1154 East Fifty-sixth street, Chicago, after Nov. 1. Many society and fraternity friends were here for the wedding. The same afternoon Miss Frances Leonard, girlhood friend of Miss Brown, became the bride of Horace Rayner, instructor in the University of Illinois. They will reside at Urbana.

PEORIA—Alleging that the charge of embezzlement against him never was proved, Newton C. Dougherty, former superintendent of schools, who served six years in the penitentiary for stealing nearly $1,000,000 from the school fund has filed suit against the Peoria school board to recover 2,500 acres in Wisconsin, that he had transferred to the board. In settlement of civil suits pending against him.

EAST ST. LOUIS—Two men were injured seriously when a southbound Illinois Central passenger train was derailed and wrecked in the company's new yards, six miles south of East St. Louis. The tender, a baggage and a mail car turned over. O. A. Garber, a master mechanic of the Illinois Central shops in East St. Louis, riding in the baggage car, was thrown out and his chest crushed.

SPRINGFIELD—Charles T. Bisch, nominated by the congressional convention of the Progressive party of the Twenty-first district, as a candidate for congress, formed the county leaders that he would not make the race or allow his name to go before the voters as a candidate. It has not yet been decided whether another nomination will be made.

JACKSONVILLE—The Rev. Donat Crowe, who was pastor of the Catholic church at Kewanee, Ill., and member of the Illinois park commission, died in Rome, according to word received here from his brother, Rev. J. W. Crowe. Burial will be in Rome, according to request.

LAKE BLUFF—Seventy or eighty students at the naval training station, who had just been paid off, confronted the conductor of an interurban car with eighty $20 bills. He telephoned ahead for a local bank to meet him with a satchel of change.

ROCKFORD—The dead body of Miss Ludvicka Reder of Aurora, a nurse in a sanitarium here who disappeared Tuesday night, was taken from Rock river. It is believed she committed suicide while temporarily deranged.

EAST ST. LOUIS—Simply because her sister, who was soon to be married, joked her about being an old maid, Miss Veronica Minton, nineteen years old, eloped to Belleville and was married to William Harris of this city.

WHEATON—William H. Stamm has just had his mother-in-law, Mrs. Alice Nelson, arrested, charging that in the family's absence she opened a window at his home, climbed in and took clothing and jewelry.

PARIS—Eleanor Lovings, aged six years, was riding a horse when a dog ran out and frightened the animal. She fell to the pavement, striking on her head and was seriously injured.

DANVILLE—Harry Harbaugh has just celebrated his 16th birthday anniversary by learning to smoke. He was born in 1895 and has lived in this country all of his life.

COL. ROOSEVELT IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Letter to Senator Moses E. Clapp Is Given Out.

Says that Present Attack of John D. Archbold and Senator Penrose, is Solely Upon Late Cornelius N. Bliss.

Col. Roosevelt gave out the letter which he gave to Senator Moses E. Clapp, chairman of the senate campaign investigating committee, before which John D. Archbold and Senator Penrose charged that Mr. Roosevelt had been party to the soliciting and accepting of Standard Oil campaign contributions in 1904.

Mr. Roosevelt almost at the opening gives the lie in these words:

Colonel Charges Falsehood. "As regards the statements of Mr. Penrose and Mr. Archbold that with my consent or knowledge Mr. Bliss asked the Standard Oil people for $100,000 of any other sum, or received such sum from them, it is an unqualified falsehood."

Further on Colonel Roosevelt compares Senator Penrose to a grafting policeman, and adds, "His language is precisely the language that might be used by a blackmailing police officer in a big city in advising the keeper of a law-breaking liquor saloon or a gambling house to contribute liberally, because otherwise he might incur hostility in certain quarters." If this language were proved against the policeman he would be removed from the police force.

Full Publicity Promised. Mr. Roosevelt promises that there shall be full publicity of contributions in his primary last spring.

"I wish to emphasize the fact," he continues, "that the testimony of Mr. Archbold and Mr. Penrose in this matter is an attack on Mr. Bliss, who is dead, and is also, unwittingly, the severest possible reflection on themselves; but it is in no sense any attack on me except insofar as they assert that the dead man said that I knew of his request for money from them."

"I do not believe that Mr. Bliss said this any more than I believe their accusation that Mr. Bliss deliberately tried to blackmail the Standard Oil company. But please keep in mind that this is an assault on Mr. Bliss and not on me."

After a sweeping denial of knowledge or consent to any of the steps in the transactions as set forth by the two witnesses, he pays a glowing tribute to the memory of Mr. Bliss, but adds that, of course, he could not say whether Mr. Bliss had asked for or had received the money.

Quotes Old Bliss Interview.

Further to prove that his skirts are entirely clean in the matter, although the skirts of others might not be so clean, Mr. Roosevelt quotes from what purported to be an interview with Cornelius N. Bliss, published in the New York Herald of Dec. 24, 1911. In this Mr. Bliss is quoted as correcting Edward H. Harriman's assertion that in 1904 he received word of the desperate state in New York from Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Bliss said that he conveyed that information to the railroad man. He discusses the situation and the steps taken to raise the $200,000. At the conclusion of the interview, there are these questions quoted in the Roosevelt letter which apparently further involve Mr. Bliss: "Then the president had nothing to do with the raising of the money?"

Answer: "Not once in the conference of the committee was there any suggestion that he was doing it. The only thing that Mr. Roosevelt had to do with such matters was to issue orders that money was not to be accepted from this or that person. His orders were ignored, as it was recognized that this was something about which he must not interfere and I brooked no interference."

Cortelyou Correspondence Cited.

The letter to Senator Clapp, which is about 15,000 words long, goes exhaustively into his correspondence with Chairman Cortelyou of Oct. 26 and 27, in which it is ordered that the $100,000 from the Standard Oil company be returned at once, although the sum is not mentioned, all of which was just after the time that Alton B. Parker had first made his charge that the Republican nominee and his chairman were obtaining money from the great corporations in an effective way.

KELLOGG ELECTED BAR HEAD

Association Chooses Officers at Convention in Milwaukee.

At Milwaukee, Wis., Frank B. Kellogg, of St. Paul, Minn., was elected president of the American Bar association. The other officers of the association were re-elected. Mr. Kellogg is best known for his activities in connection with the trust laws.

MRS. H. H. ROGERS

Succumbs Suddenly in Dining Car in Grand Central Station.

In New York city Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, wife of the late vice president of the Standard Oil company, died suddenly in a dining car in the Grand Central station. She had just finished a journey from Breton Woods, N. H. to her home here.

GENERAL NEWS.

CHICAGO—There is not a single word about Theodore Roosevelt in the Republican campaign text book, a copy of which was received at the Taft Chicago headquarters. Nor is there any reference to the Progressive party in the 400 closely printed pages. Space is devoted to a critical analysis of Woodrow Wilson's career, the rest of the pages containing laudatory references to the Taft administration and statistical and historical statements. The first fifty pages are given to an exhaustive discussion of the tariff question, thus confirming Chairman Charles D. Hilles' announcement that the tariff will be made the paramount issue of the Republican fight.

CHICAGO—Labor day was a real rest day. Parades, large picnics, meetings and other old methods of celebrating the one day in the year when Chicago men and women who work for wages cease work were abandoned by the workers, who some time ago decided they would "take things easy" on their national holiday. The arrangement of the annual parade and picnics was left to the Chicago Federation of Labor. It was announced several weeks ago by Secretary Edward N. Nockels that the day would be devoted to tranquil ease.

KINGSTON, N. Y.—Three persons were killed and a fourth dying in St. Luke's hospital in this city as a result of an attempt to walk the trestle over Esopus Creek. While they were midway on the structure, which carries a single track and is about 125 feet long, they were struck by a train. They were Leroy McMullin, twenty-five; Mrs. Walter English, forty; and Harry English, her son, twenty years old. Miss Maud McMullin, a sister of Leroy McMullin, a school teacher in New York, was fatally injured. All reside in New York.

WASHINGTON—Nearly every farmer and every automobilist in the country probably will be interested in knowing that the government, as the result of an appropriation of half a million dollars the last session of congress, is about to co-operate with the several states to provide good roads. Experiments are to be made in the way of constructing smooth and broad highways in each state. If the authorities of the state agree to expend double the amount of money the government will disburse.

COLUMBUS, OHIO—More than 6,000 women, with their husbands and friends, marched through the streets of Columbus, advocating the passage of the equal suffrage amendment to Ohio's constitution at the special election. The suffragist parade was one of the features of the Ohio-Columbus centennial celebration, being held here to commemorate the 160th anniversary of the founding of Ohio's capital in this city.

WASHINGTON—Many of the important appointments made by President Taft in the last few months were left unconfirmed when congress adopted its resolution of final adjournment. Among the more important are those of Judge Richard E. Sloan of Arizona, Major General W. W. Waterspoon, Brigadier General John McClelland, and Judge Clinton W. Howard of the state of Washington.

WASHINGTON—Just after several days' conference with officers in charge of the postal service Postmaster General Hitchcock announced that the department will be ready by Jan. 1st next, the date prescribed by congress, to put into general operation the parcel post system authorized in the postoffice bill that became law Aug. 24.

HAMILTON, MASS.—Secretary of the Navy George Von L. Meyer, who arrived at his home here, is indisposed as a result of a slight attack of indigestion before he left Washington. At his home it was said the secretary had not been seriously ill, but that he had felt the effects of the heat in the capital city.

WASHINGTON—Judge R. W. Archbold of the commerce court, whose trial under impeachment proceedings is impending before the senate, has asked Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court, temporarily to relieve him of duty. Chief Justice White has thus far taken no action upon the request.

LONDON, ENG.—Funeral services for the founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth, were held at the Olympia. In accordance with the traditions of the organization they were carried out with fervor and impressiveness.

BEIRUT, SYRIA—A big squadron of Italian warships, composed of six vessels, anchored off this port. Their object is unknown. The city is well patrolled by the Turkish garrison and all is quiet.

LONDON, ENG.—The Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Daily Mail reports without giving any details that fighting is going on between the soldiers and police in the native city.

BIG ROCK, ILL.—The annual plowing match will be held here the latter part of September.
