"PUTTING IT OVER" NEARING END

Last Performance Saturday Evening, September 14
 Only two weeks remain for the seeker of clean comedy to witness "Putting It Over," the season's first laughing success at the Olympic Theatre, Chicago. The windup of the notably successful Chicago engagement of this comedy is expected to break records for early autumn patronage. The last performance of "Putting It Over" will be given Saturday evening, September 14.
 The story of "Putting It Over" deals with an interesting phase of the upward struggles of an American youth today.
 The young man who finally "puts it over" is a rich man's son. Poverty strikes his father when the boy is most deeply in love and his real worth is instantly proved by the test. The young man faces the world and after difficulties, mixed with comical episodes, gains the victory and wins the girl he loves.
 "Putting It Over" is being heavily favored on account of the freshness of its theme, the charm of its romance and the breezy spontaneity of its over-sprouting comedy. The cast includes such excellent artists as Edwin Holt, Harold Vosburgh, Franklin Ritchie, Frederick Burt, Royal Tracy, Joseph Woodburn, C. E. Harris, Alison Skipworth, Helen Holmes and Veda Steele.
 Following it Jos. M. Gaites' initial dramatic production of the season, "The Man Higher Up," will have its metropolitan premiere at the Olympic Theatre.
 The first performance will be given Sunday evening, September 15.

Everlasting Yeast.
 A yeast that is always ready, in hot weather or cold, in town or on the farm, may be had if at each baking is saved a small quantity of the bread sponge before any salt has been used.
 To this must be added about one-half the same amount of sugar for a preservative. I have used the same yeast in this way for two and one-half years now, and it is as good as ever. Freezing does it no harm. No salt should be used. If in warm weather it seems to be without life, try it with a little flour and water, and it will be all right. This makes the finest possible bread.—National Magazine

Grant's Graceful Act.
 When General Grant was in Japan the emperor invited him to cross the Imperial footbridge near the palace at Tokyo, across which none but those of royal blood had ever passed. General Grant accepted the invitation and walked beside the mikado until they reached the center of the bridge. Then he stopped, profoundly saluted the emperor and said: "Your majesty, I have come so far to show you that I am not insensible to the honor you would do me, but I cannot violate our traditions. Let us return the way we came."
 It was a graceful act, gracefully done.
 —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Problem He Hadn't Solved.
 In 1895 there went to Paris a young Belgian named De Groof, who was fully convinced that he had solved the problem of aerial flight. He did not succeed in interesting French experts, but later in England met with some encouragement. Finally, in the presence of a large crowd De Groof made his attempt. His machine was attached to a balloon, and after reaching a height of 4,000 feet he cut himself loose. The machine fell like a stone and crashed down upon the rough pavement of Robert street, Chelsea, with a sickening thud. De Groof was dead.—New York Tribune.

A Few Hints to Housewives.
How to Dress a Chicken.—Use soft materials such as batiste or mull and arrange simply. If a spring chicken, white is the most suitable color.
How to String Beans.—Use a strong thread and sufficiently large needle.
 Do not fall to knot the thread before beginning the task.
How to Preserve Peaches.—Treat the same after marriage as before.
 This simple recipe has never been known to fail.—Harper's Weekly.

The Way They Struck.
 A company of Italian laborers engaged in the construction of a railway in Germany had their wages reduced.
 They said nothing, but during the night each of the men cut an inch of the end of his shovel. In reply to the foreman who took them to task about it one of them said, "Not so much say, not lift so much earth. So much longer last work. Italian not fool like German.
 Italians not strike!"—London Mail.

Here's a Pointer.
 If a man gets on his knees and implores a woman to marry him the chances are he will remain in that position for the rest of his life if she accepts.—Atlanta Journal.
