ILLINOIS PARAGRAPHS

STERLING—Almond Frick was taken to jail here on a warrant sworn out by Genevieve Reilly, his former sweetheart. The particular offense with which Frick is charged is that of stealing his former fiancée's wedding trousseau and destroying it by sprinkling it plentifully with indelible ink. The couple were sweethearts for years, until a few months ago, when Elwood Macomber arrived here from Chicago and entered business. He met Miss Reilly and their friendship soon ripened into love. Miss Reilly gave up her former sweetheart. Her wedding to Macomber was announced a few weeks ago for a near date. However, Frick is said to have entered the Reilly residence, stolen the entire wedding outfit and taken them to his home, where he bespattered them with indelible ink, after which he threw them back into the Reilly yard. The wedding took place, although the bride was attired in a borrowed gown.

SPRINGFIELD—"Tom," who is a pet baboon, tried to transform Springfield into an African jungle and nearly succeeded. He escaped from his cage at the No. 1 engine house, where he had been the pet of the firemen. For an hour he had thangs his own way, raiding fruit stands and biting four children, one of them Mary Nelson, aged nine, a scholar at the Battle Stuart Institute for Girls.

CHICAGO—The Illinois state supreme court handed down its opinion holding an unconstitutional that section of the Harkin saloon ordinance which provides that a holder of a license has the right to renewal and the right to assign the privilege of renewal. The opinion held as constitutional that section of the law which provides for one saloon for every 500 of population.

SPRINGFIELD—Dr. James A. Egan, the secretary of the state board of health, was ordered to investigate the reported spread of infantile paralysis in Wheaton. The governor ordered the investigation following an appeal from George Plamondon, a manufacturer of the suburb. Three pupils in the Longfellow school were attacked with the disease in one day.

SPRINGFIELD—The Illinois supreme court affirmed the judgment of the criminal court of Cook county in the case of Maurice Enright, who is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary at Joliet for the murder of Vincent Altman, May 22, 1911. The decision knocks out Enright's appeal for a new trial.

PEORIA—The jury which tried the case of Myron Jordan of Rock Island, Ill., indicted by the federal jury on the charge of sending obscene literature through the mails returned a verdict of not guilty in the federal court. Jordan's indictment followed an attack on Mayor Schriever of Rock Island.

CHAMPAIGN—General commendation of the stand taken by the students of the University of Illinois to prevent a repetition of the disorder that accompanied a celebration of the school's football victory a week ago were contained in a letter to the students by President James.

ROCKFORD—The Illinois Anti-Saloon league has adjourned after organizing a state county option society, of which Mayor W. W. Bennett of Rockford was chosen president; Ward I. Nicholas, Rockford, secretary, and George H. Wilson, Quincy, organizer.

JOLIET—The numerous friends of Earl Dougherty, an aviator, claimed a new passenger carrying record for him. Using a large biplane, Dougherty took up five passengers for a successful flight at Coal City, Ill. A second flight was made with three passengers.

JACKSONVILLE—As the direct result of a collision between automobiles driven by John Staley of Laomi and Fred Vermillion of Springfield, two miles north of New Berlin, several occupants of the cars were seriously injured.

DANVILLE—Major Daniel Hogan, who was a boyhood chum of Thomas A. Edison and staff telegrapher with General Sherman during the Civil War, died at the age of sixty-four. He was clerk of the federal court during recent years.

CHADWICK—Gypsy women, eighteen or twenty strong entered this village, raided chicken coops and gardens and stole $40 from Jesse Hill, an old soldier, pension money just received from the government.

PERU—W. H. Maze, who was a wealthy lumber dealer and manufacturer, shot and instantly killed himself at his office here. Despondency over ill health is believed to have been the cause.

PEORIA—The slender backbone of a 100-pound shark, captured twenty-three years ago in California by John Meyers, has been made into a cane with a gold top.

BLOOMINGTON—Wayne Moore, who is nine years old, after beating his way from Los Angeles to Bloomington, was arrested at the home of a playmate here.

60 MILES FROM CONSTANTINOPLE

Bulgars Advancing Surely on Turkish Capital.

ABOUT TO TAKE ADRIANOPLE

Garrison in Beleaguered Town is Cut Off from Retreat—Must Fight or Surrender—Servian Success Continues.

London, Oct. 29.—The Bulgars are within sixty miles of Constantinople. They have flung out across the Ottoman railroad that runs into the Ottoman capital, blown up a bridge at Tokerkesskeul and destroyed all communication that leads to Adrianople. It now remains for the Turks to either fight or surrender. There are some 160,000 of them, surrounded by the fighters of the little state, in the country between Lule Burgas and Baba Eski, taken by the Bulgars on Saturday.

Fall of Adrianople Expected.
Not only has their retreat along the railroad been cut off, but Adrianople with its garrison of 60,000 will fall within a few days, according to the opinions of strategists who have followed the war.

The retreat of that garrison in case success crowns the Bulgarian arms would naturally lie in the direction of Demolika to the south, but the crafty Bulgarian generals foreseeing this have cut off the Turks from that hope and the garrison would seem to be bottled as neatly as one could wish.

The correspondents at the Bulgarian headquarters say that the heavy losses suffered by the Turks in the fighting roundabout Adrianople has demoralized the Turks.

Ottoman Spirit is Broken.
The Ottoman is not the fighting man he used to be. This hand-to-hand fighting on the part of a foe that heretofore he has regarded scornfully, and the bewildering precision with which the Bulgarian generals have moved their pawns across the board of a hostile country has broken his spirit. There is a confirmed report that one whole regiment of Turks laid down their arms without firing a shot at the approach of Bulgarian forces.

The Servians, too, seem to meet continued success. The Turks, so it is being shouted throughout Belgrade, are withdrawing their forces from northwest Albania and are retreating toward Monastir.

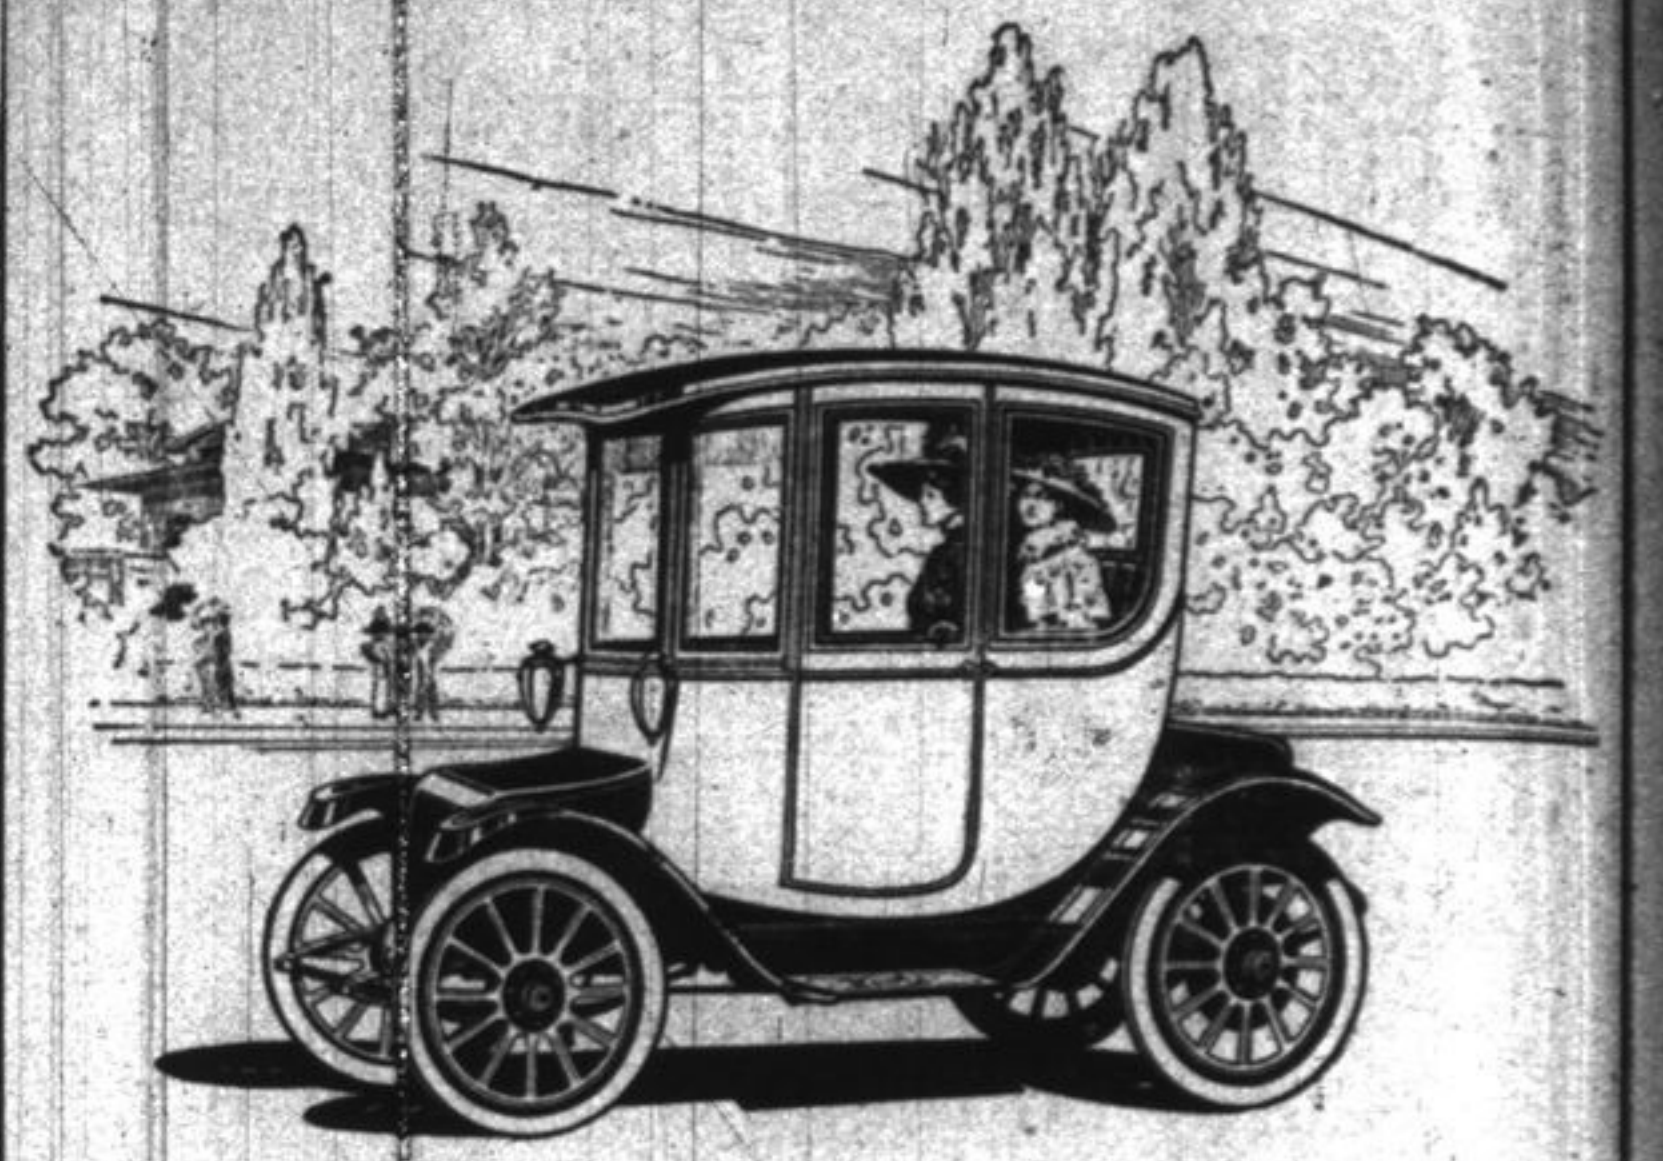

Invaders Capture Little Towns.
A hundred little Anant villages are said to have fallen to the Servians, and the Turkish losses at the fierce battle of Kumanovo grew with the receipt of every dispatch.

The Serbs are said to have captured the town of Mitroviza in the Sanjak of Novi Pazar. This town is the northern terminus of the railroad that runs into Salonica, for which the Servians are struggling.

The Belgrade newspapers assert that the Turkish army has fallen back in confusion from Uskub. Tolovo has surrendered. The Turks delivered their arms to the Servians. They kept some 200 rifles back, which the Serbs later seized.

The Bulgarian column, co-operating with the Servians in the western part of the peninsula, has occupied Istip and threatens to cut off the retreat of the Turks.

The Greeks say they are within striking distance of Salonica. Such a report was received in a special Athens dispatch by the Greek minister here.

How to Make an Electric Car Easy Riding

On solid rubber, puncture-proof tires is demonstrated in the Woods Electric every day of the year. All the needed resiliency is in the springs. The splendid suspension springs in a Woods are larger, stronger, and will absorb more shock than those on any other machine. This makes the Woods the easiest riding Electric, with the absolute elimination of all possible tire trouble. It does away with a big item of expense, the source of endless annoyance and uncertainty.

Woods Electrics
Are 100 per cent more durable than others. They cost less to maintain, and at the end of a term of years will have much the highest market value. The new models are the prettiest, roomiest, classiest Electrics being offered anywhere—that's what others say. We'd like your opinion. Demonstrations at your convenience. Call, phone or write. Bell System
WE have now pointed the telephone way to Chicago, to Boscobel and to other places whence travelers come and go, and business is doing 300 days a year.

We could point South to New Orleans, West to Denver, and North to Medicine Hat, but enough has been said to show that Bell Long Distance lines have the inalienable right to the claim of universal service, and that everyone can be in constant touch with this great system through the Chicago Telephone Company.

TRUE WORTH.
A gun which falls within the mire will still a gun remain. Man's eyes turn downward to the earth and search for it with pain.
But dust, though whirled aloft to heaven, continues dust all way.
More true and nobler in the air than when on earth it lay.
—Sandil.

POWER FROM THE SUN.
Even making allowances for the absorption of heat on the part of the atmosphere and for other circumstances, we see that the solar energy that reaches a small tropical country is equal annually to the energy produced by the entire amount of coal mined in the world. The desert of Sahara, with its 6,000,000 square kilometers, receives daily solar energy equivalent to 6,000,000,000 tons of coal. On the arid lands there will spring up industrial colonies without smoke and without smokestacks. Forests of glass tubes will extend over the plains, and glass buildings will rise everywhere. Inside of these will take place the photochemical processes that hitherto have been the guarded secret of the plants, but that will have been mastered by human industry which will know how to make them bear even more abundant fruit than nature. For nature is not in a hurry and mankind is. And if in a distant future the supply of coal becomes completely exhausted civilization will not be checked by that, for life and civilization will continue as long as the sun shines. If our black and nervous civilization, based on coal, shall be followed by a quieter civilization based on the utilization of solar energy, that will not be harmful to progress and to human happiness.—Dr. Giacomo Ciamician.

EUROPEAN METHODS IN FARMING.
While the cost of living has risen all over the world, it has risen more rapidly here in America than almost anywhere else, and the prime cause, I believe, is to be found in the failure to do what should be done for and by the people who live on the soil. If we choose I am sure that we can handle the problem that the farmer will have more profits on the very products that cost the consumer less money. We cannot employ all European methods here, but we can learn by them so as to do away with waste and inefficiency in our methods, so as to get more out of the soil, to conserve the value of the soil and to secure a better organization among farmers alike in selling their products and in purchasing their requirements.—Theodore Roosevelt.
