

A Short Story of The Incinerite

The Incinerite is a very simple device that does away entirely with the garbage wagon. The garbage and house sweepings are destroyed where they originate, which is Lalla Rhook, the Musical Siren, by Sir Thomas Moore was read by Miss Jessie Harding, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Annette R. Jones, on Wednesday evening. Miss Harding has appeared a number of times on the programs in past years and won popularity here with her interpretive reading of "A Man Without a Country," and "Enoch Arden", as well as other excellent selections.

No moving pictures will be given this week owing to the fact that the Episcopal bazaar is being held on Friday and Saturday.

A rehearsal for the "Southern Musical Party" will be held next Monday, November twenty-fifth at eight o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Schaffner makes a special request that the members of the cast will be at the club house as near the hour as possible.

The cotillion to be held on November twenty-seventh, Thanksgiving Eve is to be one of the most elaborate affairs of the season and will be led by Mr. Alvar Bournique whose leadership alone will do much towards the success of the party. The directors are expecting a good attendance. Many dinners will as usual precede the dance.

On Friday evening, November twenty-ninth, the moving pictures will include another of the Pathe series of topical subjects giving Current Event scenes taken in all parts of the world. The appreciation of those who witnessed the Fireman's Parade and Water Carnival in the pictures of November fifteenth, was shown in a number of requests received asking for a repetition of the film. Arrangements are being made that the club may have this film later in the season; The Dog Show, Fireman's Parade and the Polo Game being especially appreciated.

Attention is drawn to the December program now being designed in the shape of a calendar with an eyelet. The entertainment committee requests this being in a prominent place in the homes of members.

The increasing numbers of motor and electric machines among our members has been under the careful consideration of the directors in view of giving them more parking space. During the past week considerable work has been done in the hope of relieving the congested situation that has taken place on several occasions recently. The sharp curve at the south end of the auditorium has been greatly improved. The space at the side of the ballroom and also in the rear has been graded in order that a number of gas cars may be accommodated. Those having electrics will find ample space for placing their cars opposite the main entrance, on the circular driveway. At night this will be marked by a red and white light. Owners of electrics are cautioned against venturing on the lawns as owing to the weight of the cars considerable difficulty has several times been experienced by the sinking in the soft ground. Two men will be stationed in the grounds to regulate the traffic and the directors ask the cooperation of members in the hope of minimizing the recent difficulties. If all the cars will come in from Lake Place and leave by Central Avenue it will be a very great assistance.

The Billiard Committee would be very glad if members interested in the tournament will kindly leave their names at the club house at their earliest convenience.

"THE MILLION" DRAWS THE CROWD

This Year's Record for Box Office Receipts Broken by the most Popular Play now in Chicago

"The comedy of stupendous patronage" has replaced "the comedy of limitless laughs" as a popular descriptive for Henry W. Savage's joy triumph, "The Million," now entering its second marvelous week at the Olympic Theatre, Chicago. The monstrous crowd of the opening night was exceeded in numbers by the attendance on last Saturday and Sunday evenings, when every nook and corner of the Olympic's big auditorium was occupied by delighted spectators.

There is every indication that "The Million," will be the popular record breaker of the dramatic season in Chicago. From the volleys of laughter, chuckles and giggles which are constantly projected by the immense audiences, it would seem that this rapid-fire force is just the sort of amusement weary Chicagoans have been waiting for, and now that it is in their midst, they have embraced it with the intention of keeping it here for an indefinite and prosperous run. The capable cast of fun-makers are keyed up to the highest notch of mirthful efficiency and are now giving a performance which is, in the opinion of Mr. Savage's representatives, better than their efforts in New York, where the comedy was the magnet for the Broadway crowds during an entire season.

Seats for "The Million" are selling four weeks in advance and the demand is increasing.

ST. JAMES CHURCH BAZAAR OPENS

Ladies of Highwood Catholic Parish are Pleasing Large Crowds with Many Attractions

With a big crowd attending the card party given yesterday afternoon by the Ladies Catholic Order of Foresters the Bazaar which is being held in the parlors of St. James Catholic Church in Highwood under the auspices of the Ladies of the parish was opened and the ladies are confident the crowds will continue to come until the affair closes Saturday night with a grand ball and the awarding of prizes. Many attractions have been arranged for visitors and there are many beautiful and useful articles on sale in the hall which has been tastefully decorated under the direction of a Chicago decorator, Mr. Dasse. The married and single ladies each have a novelty booth and the young ladies also have a refreshment stand; a vegetable and fruit booth is a novelty and here one can obtain a winters supply of potatoes, cabbage, carrots, pumpkins and home made preserves. For the children there is a fish pond where many pretty gifts may be caught if the hook is baited with a small coin. Mrs. Mary Moran is chairman of the general committee and those assisting her are: Miss Katherine Kenry, in charge of the refreshment booth with the following assistants: Misses Millie Kenry, Wilhelmina Moran, Bess Moore, Ellen Cox and Ruth Williams; Miss Rose Fagan in charge of the novelty booth with these assistants: Misses Stella O'Flaherty, Ruth O'Flaherty, Helen Berberick, Emma Fagan, Nellie Fagan and Theresa Johnson; Mrs. P. J. Hahn, in charge of the married ladies booth assisted by the following: Mesdames R. C. O'Connor, T. M. Gilkison, C. Johnson, Jacoby, V. Muzik M. Gibbs, D. Jones, W. Holmes, Trescott and N. A. Wink; Mrs. Hayes in charge of the vegetable booth assisted by the Misses Emma and Nellie Fagan; Mrs. Geo. Rettig in charge of the fruit booth assisted by Mesdames J. Reilly, Mahon and A. Shelton. Those in charge of the prizes are: Mrs. N. Williams, chairman, and Mesdames Stupey and W. Burke and Messrs. A. J. Walch, N. Williams and Harvey Roberg while Mrs. Gooch as chairman of the fish pond committee is assisted by the following: Dorothy Burke, Noreen Brownlee, Esther Swanson, Mary and Margaret Moore, Idelle Gooch and Miss Dawson. Supper will be served each night during the bazaar and there will be dancing every evening with music by the Highland Park Orchestra.

Highland Park Woman's Club

The Highland Park Woman's Club had a rare treat Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Benjamin A. Fessenden read a paper on Mary Washington. She related how in the early history of the Southern Colony of America, there came many of the younger sons of the nobility of England to whom had been given grants of land and among them in 1650, William Ball, who settled in Virginia, his estate being known as Epping Forest. She told of his family and of the daughter Mollie, giving a glimpse of the life of the young girl of nineteen and the many visits to gay Williamsburg and how upon the death of her father, and mother she went to live with her brother Joseph who had returned to England and married, and how later it was her fate to marry Augustine Washington, who was a widower with seven children. After this came the wonderful home life on their estate in Virginia with her own family. Then how, when George was but twelve years of age and upon the death of her husband she took up the management of the estate and the truly competent way in which she managed it, the wonderful store room which she cared for and of which she always carried the key, of the famous Tarzie pudding made in those days by Mary Washington. She went on further to tell of her intellectual and social training, of the books she enjoyed, the English Prayer book heading the list and the classics following, and of her musical accomplishments. Then came the influence of her life upon her children and upon those around her; of her struggle at parting with her favorite son and at last the beautiful tribute paid her by this same son when he told her that from her knee he had learned all that made it possible for him to become the head of his country. Mrs. Watson played a composition by Gluck on the piano and Miss McCord sang "Drink to me only with Thine Eyes," a song so often sang by Mary Washington. A most appreciative audience was present. Announcement was made of a lecture to be given next Monday night by Mrs. Orville P. Bright, at Elm Place school. Hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. William M. Dooley, chairman; Mrs. Harry Faxon; Mrs. John Gurley; Mrs. H. H. Decker; Mrs. Henry Ewart; Miss Flint and Miss Lillie Bell.
