Deerfield News Items

The need of an auditorium or assembly hall in the Deerfield Grammar school was clearly demonstrated to the large number of interested parents who were crowded into Mr. Nelson's room, with one hundred and forty pupils to witness the program which had been prepared to celebrate Thanksgiving Day. The little ones in Miss Duffy's room were dressed as Pilgrims with snowy caps, kerchiefs, and aprons and they gave a number of quaint little dialogues. The children in Miss Supple's room were clever in a motion song in which the spinning wheel took a prominent part. Miss Craig's pupils were well drilled in several songs and a poem, The First Thanksgiving. Mr. Nelson's room was not represented on the program as he is preparing a play for his students which will be given after the holidays.

Miss Marian Craig of Highland Park was the week-end guest of Miss Ruth Reichel; they visited the Land Show Saturday.

The dramatic entertainment given by the choir girls of Holy Cross Church Friday evening at Anderson's hall drew an audience which packed the hall to the doors and demonstrated the need of a larger and more convenient auditorium in Deerfield. The entertainment was composed of two short plays, "Miss Civilization," by Richard Harding Davis, and "The Worst of Men," by John Kendrick Bangs. With one exception the parts were all taken by girls and, having thoroughly learned their lines, they gave an excellent performance of both plays. Promptness and sincerity were evidenced by all and those present, some poorly seated and the rest standing, had no time to grow uncomfortable but enjoyed the plays thoroughly. Both plays were directed by W. M. Lowrie who was assisted by Mrs. Ender.

Miss Mabel Schaeffer is ill at present writing.

The Oratorical Contest given by the ladies of the Missionary Society of the United Evangelical church was well attended, the church being crowded to the doors. Nothing but praise is due to the contestants who so admirably took their parts. Those competing were Mrs. Clapper, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. Goodman, and Mrs. J. A. Stryker. The judges who were from the Moody Bible Institute awarded the silver medal to Mrs. Stryker.

Seats are now selling for a musicale to be given by the pupils of Miss Frances Biederstadt at Smith's pavilion, Shermerville, Ill., Dec. 7th at 7:15 p. m. A carefully prepared program, which has been interspersed with violin numbers, a vocal number and a reading should prove attractive. Those from Deerfield wishing to attend will find the 6:45 train convenient to go down and 9:20 train to return. Seats may be purchased at the C. Antes Sons Co. store.

TWO MORE WEEKS OF "THE MILLION"

End of Record-smashing Chicago Engagement of the Henry W. Savage Fun Success at the Olympic Theatre Draws Near

For those who haven't seen "The Million" there is a chance in the next two weeks only to get a glimpse of what will probably go down into theatrical history as the high-tide laughing show of the present Chicago season. The Henry W. Savage production which has chased away more blues than can be counted, closes on Saturday, December 21st, to go to other cities which have been clamoring for the riot of fun for months.

It will finish its six weeks engagement although the rush for seats at present would indicate that it could stay as many months without being able to accommodate all the people who want to see it. Patrons of the Olympic Theatre are advised by the management not to miss this play and make their reservations at the earliest possible moment.

The merry band of comedians, comediennes, singers, dancers and "turkey-trot" girls continue in their extraordinary laughing manoeuvres. The many thousands of Chicago theatergoers who have already seen the piece are unanimous in the verdict that the delightful fooling of the farce could not be better done. The pace never slackens and the action is of the hurricane order. Those who care for a regular West point tornado of song and dance, music and frolic and patter, should hasten to the Olympic during these last weeks. There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The cast includes Harry Davenport, famed comedian who is a brother of Fanny Davenport, Paul Ker, Charles Trowbridge, John A. Butler, Edwin Forsberg, Helen Luttrell, Eulalie Jensen and Kenyon Bishop.
