

The Social Side of Life Local Affairs of the week

By the Observer

Mrs. Walter H. Baldwin will entertain at a dinner on Friday evening.

Mrs. A. M. Lowrie entertained a number of friends at cards on Friday.

Mrs. Francis N. Bard of Maple Avenue, entertained at a dinner for ten on Saturday evening.

Mrs. George Schofield will be hostess at an informal bridge party tonight at her home on Hazel Ave.

Mrs. Charles Rudolph of the county line road, entertained a number of friends and relatives at cards Saturday evening.

Mrs. John Snyder entertained the members of the Euchre club at her home on W. Central Ave., Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Doty entertained at a dinner for nine on Tuesday evening preceding the dance at the Highland Park club.

A number of Highland Park people have received invitations to a supper party and an evening of cards tonight at the home of Col. and Mrs. W. E. Chatfield of Fort Sheridan.

Mrs. Thomas Clements will be hostess at a dinner for nine on Friday. Later the guests will attend the motion pictures at the Highland Park club.

Mrs. John Tuttle entertained informally at bridge this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Edwin T. Swobe and Mrs. Eva Wallace of Omaha, who are visiting Mrs. Fred. Nicholas Baylies.

Cards have been received by many Highland Parkers to a tea to be given by Mrs. Edward Payne Buchanan, Miss Fowler, and Miss Buchanan on Monday afternoon, February third from three to six o'clock at 4559 Lake Ave., Chicago.

On Saturday evening a number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Malone gave them a very pleasant surprise in honor of Mr. Malone's birthday. There were thirty guests present and all enjoyed the evening by playing cards.

Mrs. W. J. Fyffe was hostess on Thursday of last week at a luncheon and bridge to sixteen ladies at Exmoor in honor of her guest, Mrs. J. C. Baird for whom she also entertained at tea on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Partridge entertained at a large and unusually delightful farewell bridge party at Exmoor on Monday evening. This was followed by an afternoon bridge on Tuesday when Mrs. Partridge was hostess to a number of ladies.

Mrs. Irene A. Safford of Cary Avenue, who was formerly a well known newspaper writer of St. Louis, Mo., entertained a number of the Ravinia ladies on Wednesday afternoon of last week to meet Mrs. William Hard of Evanston.

Mrs. Frederick Boynton entertained the Daughters of the American Revolution at their regular meeting on Monday afternoon. An interesting and well written paper entitled "The January of 1766" was read by Mrs. Joseph Fearing. Two vocal selections were beautifully sung by Miss Frances Steever with Mrs. C. G. Alexander at the piano. Tea was served at the end of the program.

Among the Chicago entertainments to which a large number of Highland Park ladies have been guests was an at home given by Mrs. George Woodland, Mrs. Leroy Woodland, and Mrs. Frederick Buchanan Woodland at the Blackstone from three to six o'clock on Monday and at the "at homes" at which Mrs. John Dean Bangs is hostess on Monday afternoons in January from four to six o'clock at 3861 Ellis Ave.

Miss Edith Boynton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Boynton, had as her guest on Wednesday of last week Miss Jeanne De Mare of Denver, Col., granddaughter of the late Mr. Healy, the well known portrait painter and entertained at a luncheon for eight in her honor. Among the guests were Mrs. Joseph Husband, Miss Margaretta Brown, Miss Mabel Dick of Lake Forest, Miss May Merryweather, Miss Shields, Mrs. Everett Millard, Miss Genevieve Mott, Miss Priscilla Carver, and Miss Ruth Gregory of Chicago.

There have been a number of affairs given recently in honor of Mrs. John Harmon who with her children left this week for Beaumont, Cal., where she will make an extended visit with relatives. She will first visit her mother and sisters, Mrs. George Darcy Boulton and Miss Marjorie and Miss Muriel Boulton, who have a new home in Beaumont where are gathered quite a colony of Highland Parkers. The Boultons were among the oldest residents here when they left several years ago and sold their beautiful place on Prospect Ave. to I. B. Tebell. Mrs. Frederick Boynton was hostess at an informal bridge on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 15th, in honor of Mrs. Harmon. The guests were Mrs. Russell Mott, Miss Irene Floyd, Mrs. George Lytton, Mrs. Thomas Bellhouse, Mrs. James L. Martin, Jr., and Mrs. James Prindiville. On Thursday Miss Towner entertained at luncheon in honor of Mrs. Harmon and in the afternoon bridge was played.

A number of Highland Parkers were entertained at one of the most delightful affairs of the winter on Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. William E. Ten Broeck and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doty gave a musicale at the Ten Broeck home. Appearing on the program were Miss Katherine Reynolds McCormick, who gave an exquisite interpretive reading of Paul Lawrence Dunbar's "Spring Poems"; Miss Laura Kittredge Kennedy gave two humorous monologues entitled "Her First Visit to the Butcher Shop" and "Buying Wall Paper." This was followed by the musical program given by Mr. Samuel Leviton, violinist; Mr. Karl Klumme, cellist, and Mr. George Kaackstedt, pianist. The following ladies assisted in pouring in the dining room, which was attractively decorated in pink roses and greenery: Mrs. Frank Lincoln Wean, Mrs. Frederick M. Steele, Mrs. John Grenville Mott, Mrs. Earl Spencer, Mrs. Daniel Cobb, Mrs. William Morgan, Mrs. J. V. Marshall, of Wilmette, and Miss Follansbee.

The Mystic Workers of the World have the knack of giving the most enjoyable and successful entertainments as that of Monday evening when, following the installation of the Banker, Mr. S. T. Rebling and Sentinel, Mr. Samuel High, Secretary and Mrs. Hugo Schneider were presented on the occasion of the third anniversary of their wedding with a large, elaborately frosted cake most tempting to the eye but upon attempting to cut it it was discovered to be of wood, a perfectly proper token of the wooden wedding celebration. This was the occasion of much laughter and fun equally enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Schneider. A number of speeches were made and Mr. Albert Larson was called upon and replied in his usual apt and humorous manner of expression. Refreshments were served and dancing closed the program for the evening. The Mystics are planning to entertain at a valentine dance at the Ravinia Park Casino.

PLAYING THE PIANO.

Present Day Methods From the Viewpoint of a Cynic.

The piano is one of our best known musical instruments. It was invented several hundred years ago and in its earlier incarnations was known as the spinnet or the harpsichord and afforded eminent artists many opportunities to portray languishing ladies seated before it, says the Chicago Post.

The piano comes either as an upright or a grand. The grand is a large, flat proposition that takes up several hundred dollars' worth of room, while the upright has a nice smooth top on which bric-a-brac may be placed.

The piano is usually played by young ladies until the young man proposes. It is also played by young men in tin pan song shops. In those places the youth, who has flowing hair and a discouraged necktie, allows a cigarette to hang from one corner of his mouth while he shouts a song from the other corner and uses the loud pedal exclusively.

In the old days, before women became advanced as they are now, it was considered quite some doings to play a piece on the piano which required the hands to be crossed. Nowadays the piano is fitted with a self playing attachment, and the young man caller feeds a porous plaster into it.

Four Great Sauces.

A Frenchman has declared that "man has created the culinary art. He does not eat like an animal—he breakfasts, dines and sups."

The French are particularly eloquent on the subject of sauces. Among their famous chefs are recognized four great sauces—Spanish, Veloute,

Bechamel and German. The Spanish and Veloute were known as far back as the seventeenth century. In the eighteenth they were modified by the masters of cookery, particularly by Carême, who was called "the Raphael of the kitchen."

The Spanish sauce is composed of juices extracted from a mixture of ham, veal, chicken and pheasant. Veloute is similar, but is not colored. Bechamel is Veloute to which cream has been added, and the German sauce is Veloute plus the yolks of eggs.—Harper's.

What Hurt Him.

"Did you hear about the accident to Bjinks?"

"Why, no. What happened?"

"Oh, the darned fool was seriously hurt this afternoon."

"In his automobile, I suppose?"

"No, that's the trouble."

"What do you mean? I know he's a reckless driver, and—"

"And you think he was hurt in his car. Well, he wasn't. He was hurt by a tree about ten feet ahead of the car. If he'd been able to stay in the car he'd never have been hurt."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Man's Big Mistake.

According to a German biologist, man made a mistake when centuries ago he changed himself from a quadruped to a biped, the contention being that many present day ills are due to carrying the spine in an upright position when it was intended to be carried horizontally.

Accounted For.

"The baby's awful bald," said Mabel. "Yes; they come bald on purpose. If they had hair they'd pull it all out, and then all that hair would be wasted," said Tommy.—Philadelphia Record.

For the Children

John Lamon, Who Likes to Pose as a Hodgecarrier.

Last summer there was a baby parade at Jersey City, and among its many beautiful and interesting exhibits was Master John Lamon, who masqueraded as a hodgecarrier. John was one of the hits of the parade. Indeed, he created more laughter than anything else in line. Since then John and his bod have been in demand for numerous entertainments in which children took part. So recently as Christmas John appeared at a costume show given by a settlement house in New York, and needless to say he was hailed with delight by all beholders. John is a good natured lad and is pleased whenever he can contribute to the happiness of others. Doubtless he and his bod will be seen many times this winter in his comical make-up.

Autographs of Noted Men.

When President Taft on Dec. 17, 1912, affixed his signature as the nine hundred and ninety-fourth signer of the autograph collection of Louis Barth of Budapest, Hungary, he added the name of another leader to a collection which has cost indirectly $70,000. Mr. Barth journeyed from Europe to secure the autographs of President Taft, Thomas A. Edison and other celebrated Americans. Andrew Carnegie was the latest to add his name to the collection.

The signatures and sentiments in Mr. Barth's collection are in forty-four languages and include nearly every ruling sovereign of Europe and some of Africa and Asia. He has the autographs of dominant statesmen, leading writers, artists, scientists, actors and publicists.

Theodore Roosevelt signed the album in Berlin in 1910, and J. Pierpont Morgan affixed his signature in Paris in 1911. The collection was started by Mr. Barth eight years ago.

Don Quixote's.

Drive a stick firmly into the ground, letting it stand about two feet high. Turn a flower pot over the top. One of the players, with eyes blindfolded, is placed about ten paces distant from the pot, with his back toward it. He is given a cane or a stout stick and at the word of command turns and advances in the direction that he imagines the stake to be, then halts and strikes vigorously at the pot in the endeavor to break it at the first blow.

Each player may have three trials, but must return to the starting place for each stroke. A special prize may be offered for the one who succeeds at the first attempt.

It is very funny to see how far from the objective point the player will wander and how earnestly he will strike into empty space.

What the Ears Indicate.

The thin, angular ear is said to denote bad temper and cruelty.

Small and thin ears usually denote delicacy and refinement.

As age increases the ear becomes more angular and marked.

People with musical tastes generally have large and prominent ears.

Abnormally large, thick ears are associated with a sensual and coarse nature.

Great philosophers and statesmen have been noticed to have large and sloping ears.

Conundrums.

What kind of a lock is it that no key can be made to fit? A lock of hair.

What kind of a crown is it in which we cannot set gems? The crown of the head.

The Judge.

I think he's a judge of all the rest. Our friend the solemn frog; He's judge of all the water things. The skimming bugs with dripping wings.

The turtle on the log. He sits upon a lily pad.

And if he sees that one is bad With sternness he will say:

"Go hide among the darkest weeds. Down deep among the dungeon weeds. And there repent your wicked deeds. Away, young thing, away!"
