TEA AS A BEVERAGE

It is said to Enrich a Person Both Morally and Physically.
Did you know that tea drinking is a splendid aid to one's morals? At least that is the opinion of an English scientist who not long ago compiled a learned treatise to show the beneficial effects of tea drinking from a spiritual, physical and moral standpoint.
A well in the morning, he says, with tea as the beverage will enable a man to pursue his day's work with facilities unclouded, temper unruffled and a generally amiable state of nerves. Besides that, it makes the body active, it clears the sight, it strengthens the appetite and the digestion and is particularly wholesome for men of corpulent bodies and great meat eaters.
It vanishes dreams, increases the memory and prevents sleeplessness. It has been observed that it has contributed more to the sobriety of the Chinese than the severest laws, the most eloquent harangues and the best treaties on morality.
But, in addition to all this, he claims for tea a strengthening effect on morality. A man who is stimulated by a generous cupful of tea, moderately strong, will be able to withstand more successfully the manifold temptations that assail him in the business and social world into which he is plunged than the man who is not sustained by the same beverage. -Chicago Tribune

TONGUES OF BIRDS

That of the Humming Bird is About the Most Curious of All.
A German naturalist has gathered some curious data with reference to the tongues of birds. As he points out, many persons suppose that woodpeckers use their sharp pointed tongues as darts with which to transfix their prey. It is true that the woodpecker, like the humming bird, can dart out its tongue with extraordinary rapidity and that its mouth is furnished with an elaborate mechanism for this purpose, yet investigation shows that the object of their swift motion is only to catch the prey, not to pierce it. For the purpose of holding the captured victim the woodpecker's tongue is furnished with a sticky secretion.
Inasmuch as it possesses the power of imitating speech, it is not surprising to learn that the parrot's tongue resembles that of man more closely than any other bird's tongue does. It is not because the parrot is more intelligent than many other birds, but because its tongue is better suited for articulation than theirs that it is able to amuse us with its mimicry.
In some respects the humming bird's tongue is the most remarkable of all. It is double nearly from end to end, so that the little creature is able to grasp its insect prey very much as if its mouth were furnished with a pair of fingers. -Harper's Weekly

Proof:
"I tell you, Pat, it's the old frinds that are the best, and I can prove it."
"How will ye do that, Mike?"
"Where-I ask ye as man to man where will ye find a new frind that has stood by ye as long as the old ones?" -Chicago Record Herald.
More Deadly.
"Pa?"
"Well?"
"Whut is a bottress?"
"A bottress is-or-why-a nanny goat, of course. Why don't you use your head a little and not ask so many questions?" -Newark Star.

BELGIUM'S STRIKE
Hundreds of Thousands of Men Lay Down Their Tools. DEMAND MANHOOD SUFFRAGE

All Branches of Industry Are Affected, the Men Quitting Work in Mills, Mines and Factories All Over the Kingdom-Street, Car Men Join the Strike Movement.
Belgium is the scene of one of the greatest general strikes the world has ever witnessed.
At least 200,000 men-possibly 500,000-will cease work.
Unlike most strikes, this movement is not for an increase in wages or a betterment of working conditions; it is in protest against the refusal of the government to grant the workers manhood suffrage.
All Branches Affected.
Men are laying down their tools in every branch of the industry in the kingdom. Mills, mines and factories everywhere are being forced to close. Coal miners, railroad men, glass workers, foundrymen, electricians and dockmen had pledged themselves to obey the summons of the Socialist leaders to make the walkout effective.
The strike at Louvriere was general. All the factories, except a pottery, closed. The strike of motormen, and conductors was time to begin at 7 in the evening. Some attempts were made to cut telegraph wires.
Farmers to Withhold Food.
Socialists declared that every industry in Belgium will be paralyzed and that even the telegraph, telephone and transportation systems will be prostrated.
Farmers who supply food to Antwerp have given notice that they dare not bring in anything. The inhabitants are laying in provisions for a long siege. The workers declare that no violence will be permitted and believe that the nation will be started into submission in a few days.
Work Stops at Coal Mines.
Suspension of work at the coal mines in the Charleroi district is complete. Enough men remained at their posts to keep the machinery in good order and the pumps working.
The metal workers of the vicinity have only partly quit their employment, but it is understood that soon the remainder of the men in this trade will lay down their tools.
J. P. MORGAN ENTOMBED
Remains of the Financier Placed in Vault at Hartford, Conn.
In New York city three bishops, a college president and the rector of St. George's church, of which J. Pierpont Morgan was senior warden, were in charge of the funeral services for the financier.
Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster of the diocese of Connecticut and Rev. Dr. Flavel S. Smith, president of Trinity college, arrived from Connecticut to assist Bishop David H. Greer of New York diocese, Bishop William Lawrence of Boston and Rev. Karl Keland, rector of St. George's.
Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Morgan, the stock exchange was ordered closed until noon.
Following the body was taken on a special train to Hartford, Conn., where the burial was in the Morgan vault. At Hartford the services were private, only members of the family being admitted. They were conducted by Bishop Brewster, assisted by Bishop Lawrence and Rev. Mr. Keland.

SUFFRAGETTES BURN HANDSOME MANSION

Residence of a Member of Parliament is Destroyed.
Suffragettes destroyed the seaside mansion at St. Leonard's-on-Sea belonging to Arthur Philip du Cros, unionist member of parliament for Hastings. The women not only set fire to the house, but placed explosives in many of the rooms. The residence had only recently been vacated.
The women adopted a method often used by burglars for entering houses. They first spread papers covered with jam over the window so as to deaden the sound and then smashed the large panes of glass with hammers, the jam preventing the broken glass from falling.
Militant suffragettes cut all the telegraph and telephone wires at the entrance to the Box tunnel on the Great Western railway near Bath in the morning. Great inconvenience was caused to the train service.

GEORGE M. SHIPPY DEAD

Former Chief of Police of Chicago Succumbs to the Reaper.
Former Chief of Police of Chicago George M. Shippy died at his residence, 6421 Monroe avenue, at 5:45 in the morning. He had been suffering from softening of the brain for some time, and a few days ago returned to his home from Kankakee, where he had been confined in the insane asylum.
