ILLINOIS PARAGRAPHS

HARVARD—Daniel O'Leary, who is a well known young McHenry county farmer, is dying in Johnson's hospital at Harvard, Ill., as a result of a shotgun wound inflicted by John Burke, eighteen years old, a paroled training school boy, who had been employed by O'Leary as a farm hand. Burke was arraigned at Woodstock on a charge of attempted murder and held to await the outcome of Mr. O'Leary's wound. The O'Leary farm is eight miles west of Woodstock.

SPRINGFIELD—A grand jury investigation of the Rev. I. W. Maxey, former district superintendent of the Whitehall Orphanage, Whitehall, Ill., who, it is alleged, sold Sabra M. Brown for $100, was recommended by the Curran legislative committee investigating charities following the hearing of the testimony of Superintendent W. J. Roberts of the institution.

CHICAGO—Six daring automobile bandits held up and robbed the saloon of Edward Dawson at 3761 South Morgan street of $42, and held up several patrons a few minutes before 10 o'clock Monday morning in daring fashion, and all were captured by an automobile load of detectives from the Stockyards station within half an hour.

CHAMPAIGN—The engagement has been announced here of Miss Harriet Rinaker of Carlinville and Dr. Paul Howe of New York city. The wedding will take place in June. Miss Rinaker has been instructor in the domestic science department of the University of Illinois for several years.

GREENVILLE—H. J. Marbold, who is a well known sportsman of Greenville, led a wolf hunt in which eight cubs were captured in a den. The old ones escaped after a long chase. The cubs were not killed, but were distributed among residents of the vicinity to be domesticated.

DANVILLE—The relatives in Arkansas, who are trying to secure possession of a fortune left by Andrew J. McGlumphy, who died recently in Danville, have discovered that he masqueraded as another man and was known for a number of years as Dr. G. E. Wyman.

LINCOLN—An enthusiastic district rally of the Sunday schools and young people's societies of the Baptist church was held in the First Baptist church in this city, with about thirty delegates present. Rev. W. B. Morris of Ashley, state evangelist, was the principal speaker.

CHICAGO—The pretty town of Peotone, Ill., thirty-nine miles south of Chicago, has been wrecked by fire. One woman is in a serious condition as a result of hurts and ten volunteer firemen were injured in attempts to save property. Estimates placed the loss at $300,000.

DECATUR—Captain R. P. Lytle, who was assistant postmaster in Decatur, formerly senior vice commander of department of Illinois, G. A. R., commander Dunham post, original post in reorganization of G. A. R., in 1882, died suddenly here.

DECATUR—Mrs. Sarah Dawdy, who is eighty years old, of Shelbyville, Ill., lost her burial clothes, which she had just finished, when her house burned down. She accuses her husband of setting fire to the house. He is eighty-five.

INDIANOLA—Michael Smith of this place, while hunting this week, killed a fine specimen of the Canadian loon on the Gaines fish pond. The bird is supposed to have been the mate of the loon killed last week near Champaign.

STERLING—Harry Franz, resident of Probststown was seriously, if not fatally, stabbed by Glen Thompson, his hired man, as a result of a dispute over 25 cents difference in wages Franz discharged Thompson several days ago.

ORANGEVILLE—A big Collie dog owned by Carey Curtis, that had been missing for five days, was found hanging by one leg from the top of a wire fence in a grove half a mile from the Curtis house. The animal was alive.

BLOOMINGTON—Many of the commercial fishermen along the Illinois and Mississippi river are planning to establish co-op farms. One at Genoa has proven profitable to the owners, Frank Gillet and T. Riley.

BLOOMINGTON—That a man is not necessarily considered a vagabond because he is a gambler was decided by the Illinois appellate court in the case of J. E. Covey, taken up from Stephenson county.

PEORIA—The settlement of the building laborers' strike is postponed indefinitely following a meeting of the bricklayers' union, at which it was decided not to work with non-union labor.

MONMOUTH—As a direct result of mice getting access to a box of matches, the home of Peter Christensen, living five miles north of the city, was burned to the ground.

Obituary

William Lathrop Moss, one of the well known residents of this city and formerly of Chicago where he practiced law during his forty years residence, died on Tuesday evening, at Kenosha, Wis., in the sanitarium of Dr. Penoyer who was one of his most intimate friends, as well as his physician. It was the wish of Mr. Moss that he be under the care of his friend when he was taken ill a week before his death. He was in the institution three days. He was born in Granville, Mass., October 23, 1835. He removed with his parents to Peoria County, Ill., where he was brought up on a farm. Later he attended Jubilee College and read law in the office of Jonathan K. Cooper of Peoria and was admitted to the bar in 1869 and began practice in Chicago shortly after the great fire. He lived for many years on the south side where he was one of the first members of the First Presbyterian Church of Chicago, formerly the Forty-Seventh Street Church, and only withdrew his letter to become a member of the Presbyterian Church here about a month ago. He resided here for two and one half years and his home was at 506 North Sheridan road with his two daughters, Mrs. Henry Martyn Bacon and Miss Edith Helen Moss. His only son, Charles MacLean Moss is a resident of Pittsburgh. The funeral services will be held from the late residence on Friday afternoon May 16 at 2:00 o'clock. Burial at Graceland.

James B. Cunningham of the Railroad Men's Home died on Sunday night at six o'clock after a prolonged illness of progressive paralysis. He had resided at the Home since November 1910 and was formerly a passenger conductor on a railroad which ran out of Mexico City. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. O. S. Gates, a resident of Lincoln, Nebraska, and her daughter, Miss Ethel Gates, who came here to attend the funeral which took place at Prior's Undertaking Rooms at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Interment at Mooney's Cemetery.

Alice Evans Stevens, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron J. Stevens, died in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, Tuesday evening at eight o'clock following a complication of diseases which began with an attack of scarlet fever about five weeks ago and ended with a case of measles which set in about a week ago, after all danger seemed past, and caused the child's death. As she had always been a bright and happy child, a favorite with her school mates and friends of the family, she was patient in her weeks of suffering. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon; interment being at Lake Forest.

Ft. Sheridan Notes
 Major and Mrs. McNamee had as their guests for dinner Thursday night, Capt. and Mrs. Moss, Capt. and Mrs. Lear, and Lieut. and Mrs. McNeil. The affair was in honor of Col. Kinsbury and daughter of Chicago, who have been Ft. Sheridan visitors for several days.

Mrs. Seigle, Mrs. Pruyn and Mrs. Hawkins left Monday to join their husbands in Texas City.
 Col. Getty came up from Texas City to spend a few days at home this week.
 The ladies of the card club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Crain Friday evening.

You pay a compliment to the intelligence and comprehension of a man of affairs when you transact your business with him by telephone.

Moreover, you show such confidence in the excellence of your proposal that he need not fear it will require tedious and fruitless discussion.

You seem to say, "This case is clear, and I can state it in a few words. You can understand and decide it at once." Such is the impression made by a telephone call.

Successful men convey their impressions in just that way, by the use of the Long Distance Telephone.
