His "Right" Name.
From queer names and descriptions of things there follow as a natural sequence queer names and descriptions of people. Among a number of instances is one quoted by Mr. Fox-Davies, the well known authority on nomenclature, from Blackwood's Magazine of April, 1842: "In one of the Buchanan fishing villages a stranger had occasion to call on a fisherman of the name of Alexander White. Meeting a girl, he asked, 'Can ye tell me fa'r Sunny Fite lives?' 'Filk Sunny Fite?' quoth she. 'Muckle Sunny Fite?' said he. 'Filk muckle Sunny Fite?' 'Muckle lang Sunny Fite?' 'Muckle lang gleyed Sunny Fite?' shouted the exasperated man. 'Oh, it's Goup-the-Lift ye're seeking,' answered the girl, 'and fat the de'il for dinna ye speer for the mou by his right name at aye!'"

A Wonderful Memory.
"You boast of your memory, Rivers! I'll bet you a cigar you can't quote on the spur of the moment, a single stanza of any hymn you sang in Sunday school when you were a boy."
"I'll take you up on that, Brooks. In fact, I'll sing you one:
"Kind words never die,
Never die, never die;
Kind words can never die,
No, never die!"
"You win, old chap. I didn't think you could do it!"—Chicago Tribune.

A LETTER TO THE JUDGE.

He Ignored the Death Threat, but One Word Caught His Fancy.
Whenever a judge presiding over a New York criminal court is conducting the trial of some notorious murderer he is sure to receive letters, postal cards and even prepaid telegrams written by cranks breathing denunciation and threatening him with death in some horrible form.
The late Recorder Frederick Smyth, presiding over a murder trial, one day beckoned a reporter friend up to the bench and handed him a letter that ran like this:
"You cruel and bloody minded old tyrant, you are trying to send this innocent man to the Chair as you sent me, but you will never live to do it for I will lay in wait for you and pounce on you and give you death penalty a friend of Justice."
The reporter wanted to publish it. "Oh, no," said Recorder Smyth. "I showed it to you only to call your attention to that beautiful new word, 'pounce,' which I suppose means to crouch and to pounce. If you should publish it hundreds of other cranks would be inspired to write. It's had enough now, for their letters take up so much time in going through the morning's mail. The writers are not dangerous—merely nuisances."—Harper's Weekly.

A Question of Etiquette.
"The horse and the cow is in the field," said the teacher. "Mary, what is wrong with that sentence?"
Mary says the New York Tribune was evidently more versed in the rules of politeness than in the rules of grammar, for she answered promptly:
"The lady should be mentioned first."

Of No Practical Value.
"These school books are a regular fraud," said Mrs. Nuritch.
"What's the matter with 'em?" her husband asked.
"Look at this, goggerly of Willie's. There ain't a single road map in it!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Light Matter.
"Madam, you do not seem to attach any weight to the amount of the gas bills."
"No; I consider them a very light matter."—Baltimore American.

A Paradox.
Shaw—Why did you give that dog of yours the name of Paradox? Shute
—For the reason that as a pointer he's decidedly a disappointment.—Boston Transcript.

Saying and Saving.

THE SANITARY ALL GAS KITCHEN

Picture to yourself this kitchen in operation—the Roud Automatic Gas Water Heater in the basement—without any attention—save the turn of a faucet, supplying you with unlimited, inexpensive, pure hot water. How convenient for cleaning and scrubbing—and time-saving to start your various cooking operations.
Think of the modern Gas Range—especially equipped for any mode of cooking—heat easily regulated to a "just right" temperature—no dirt—no ashes—no excessive labor, and all this comfort and convenience at a low cost for gas.
The best demonstration of the merits of these "comfort makers" is to see them in operation at our showroom or a postal will bring you complete information by return mail.
North Shore Gas Co.

Sheraton's Influence.
Thomas Sheraton, although a cabinetmaker by trade, it is quite probable during his life in London, did not actually produce any furniture, as his time was too much taken up by his occupation as Baptist preacher, tractarian, drawing master, designer and publisher to bestow any attention on the manufacture or superintendence of cabinet work. His "Cabinetmaker and Upholsterer's Drawing Book" was published first in 1791 and again in 1793 and 1802. He was possessed of keen critical insight in matters pertaining to high class cabinetmaking, combined with an excellent sense of proportion, sound judgment and purity of taste, and his influence on the style of furniture in the latter part of the eighteenth century was exercised through his designs and criticisms, which had no little weight with the cabinetmakers of his day.—Suburban Life Magazine.

Exercise and Health.
There was a bank clerk who saw the men of his own age losing health year by year through overwork, indoor sedentary life and lack of daily exercise. He saw them growing yellow and flabby and unfit and the spectacle didn't attract him. He decided that success had better come late or even not at all rather than at the price of a ruined body. Health became to him the choicest of the mercies, the best of life's courtesies. Up and away the person in health can dash to another job, to another clime, master of his fate. Ill health is a chain that ties to the dreariness of what is nearest at hand. After a youth of weakness and fatigue the man was happy in finding that an hour of exercise a day changed the aspect of the outer world and removed him for all time from the ranks of the unfit.—Collier's.

Honored by Precedent.
A well known Washington minister tells of a couple who came to him to be married. The bridegroom was upon his third matrimonial venture, the bride upon her second.
"Please stand up," said the clergyman, prepared to pronounce the necessary words.
The bride looked at the bridegroom. The bridegroom looked at the bride. Then he said politely but firmly:
"We have generally sot."—Exchange.

Heredity.
"Higgins is a self made man, is he not?"
"He claims to be, but I do not believe those bad manners of his could ever have been acquired. He must have been born so."—Woman's Home Companion.

An Exception.
"In the nature of things everybody ought to be delighted to see an oculist."
"Why should they?"
"Because to see him is good for sore eyes."—Baltimore American.
