The Outdoor Living Room in Summer

A strong Mazda Tungsten Lamp in the ceiling will light the porch well. Many folks who furnish it with rugs, chairs and tables, add to the ensemble the finishing touch that ornamental portable electric lamps give.

There are beautiful little lamps for this purpose — moderately priced too.

OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Obituary
With the death of Mrs. Margaret Garrity, wife of Mr. John Garrity, at her home one mile and a half west of Highland, which occurred at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening after a month's illness, one of the oldest residents of this vicinity passed away at the age of eighty-four years.

Mrs. Garrity was the mother of eleven children all of whom are living, the grandmother of fifty-two children and the great grandmother of twenty-four children, all living. This was one of the good old fashioned families and a greater compliment could not be given her than the excellent manner in which she reared the large family. She was born in Ireland and when a child was brought to this country. At the age of eighteen years she married John Garrity and came to this vicinity where the young couple started their life on the farm which is the family homestead and where Mrs. Garrity died.

When Mr. and Mrs. Garrity settled on the farm in a country which was then a wilderness, stout hearts and youth gave them the courage which remained with them in their old age. Mrs. Garrity's memory was of events dear to the heart of every American historian and included interesting memories of this part of Illinois.

Surviving Mrs. Garrity is her husband, who is eighty-seven years of age, her daughters, Mrs. Julia Cray of Michigan; Mrs. Mary Hoffman, Mrs. Annie Brady of Highland; Mrs. Margaret Johnson of Highland; Mrs. Elizabeth Baker of Chicago; Mrs. Bridget McCaffery and Mrs. Theresa Sheahan of Highland Park, and sons John Garrity of Highland; Owen Garrity, George Garrity and Dan Garrity of Highland Park.

The funeral will take place at St. James Catholic church, Highland at nine o'clock Friday morning. Burial at Everett.

Julius C. Laegler, in remembrance of his fiftieth birthday, July 20, 1913. Do not ask us if we miss him. Oh, there is such a vacant place; Of we thing we hear his footsteps. Or we see his smiling face. Silently we linger round his vacant chair. Wishing he were with us, our lonely meal to share; Thinking of the hope that perished in the father we so cherished. —From his lonesome wife and children, Elsie, Julius, Charles, Lloyd and Lester Laegler.

MISS ILLINGTON IN "WITHIN THE LAW"

Olympic Theatre, Chicago, inaugurates Popular Price Policy with Notably Successful Play

Chicago theatrical season of 1913-4 will begin next Sunday night, July 27, when the Olympic Theatre, inaugurating a new policy of popular prices, will open with Margaret Illington in Bayard Veiller's absorbing play of human interest, "Within the Law", with which all lovers of the-atrials are more or less familiar because of the extraordinary amount of publicity that newspapers and magazines have afforded this drama on account of the remarkable sensation it has scored in New York, London and in Australia, where for months past it has been making one of the most notable records in the history of the stage. "Within the Law" is a vital, pulsating, sincere play, human, gripping and humorous and its unparalleled popular triumph on three continents is readily understandable for Mr. Veiller has placed upon the stage an irresistibly appealing story of the here and now that is gripping interest to every class of playgoer; in fact, the person callous to the thrill of this exciting play has not yet been found.

Miss Illington, recalled for her great success in "Kindling" and "The Thief", portrays, in "Within the Law", a girl who, after serving three years for a crime of which she is innocent, attempts to re-establish herself among reputable people but is persecuted by the police, haunted out of honest employment and forced into a life of crime. Her revenge upon her persecutors provides a play replete with some of the most thrilling dramatic surprises the stage has recently seen. No drama of this decade has enjoyed such popularity nor caused a more widespread sensation than "Within the Law" which is declared the "greatest success New York has ever known." "As a good citizen I thank you for your play," Theodore Roosevelt wrote the author, while President Wilson said he had "never been more thrilled or interested". Dozens of other persons of national prominence have also publicly endorsed "Within the Law" because of its fidelity to the present day conditions in any large town.

Miss Illington is supported by an excellent company of unusual strength and during her stay at this Olympic there will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

EVANGELIST CALLS TANGO 'DEVIL DANCE'

GIVES HOT SERMON AT DESPLAINES

Rev. H. C. Hart stirs big Audience with Remarks on evils of what he called 'the Miserable Dance'

The large North Shore delegation which attended the Methodist camp meeting at Des Plaines Sunday heard a few remarks on the "shams" of life which they likely will remember the rest of their lives. Evangelist H. C. Hart was the evening speaker and he made a number of statements that made his listeners move uneasily in their seats.

"Whatever you are, be honest," said the Rev. Hart. "You may go to church on Sunday, but if on the next night you go to a miserable dance where your legs are entwined in a damnable turkey trot or tango or one of those other devil dances, do you think you are going to heaven?" When the speaker stopped for a moment a white-haired man of at least three score and seven years, who was seated on one of the front benches, murmured: "No, Lord, no."

Other remarks by Mr. Hart included the following: "There are shams in business, shams in society, shams in politics, but the worst sham of all is the religious sham. We've got a lot of those shams nowadays."

"If you're not prepared for heaven it will be hell for you when you get there."

"Lots of people think they can get a free ticket to heaven by stirring up soap or baking a cake or holding a rummage sale."

TWO CITIES FAVOR BRICK AND CONCRETE

BEST PAVEMENT SAY EVANSTON MEN

Committee Investigates and Reports Favorably on Concrete. Lake Forest will pave with both

The committee of Evanston citizens which made a trip of inspection to a number of Wisconsin cities on June 18th and 19th to investigate the construction and present condition of the concrete pavements used in those cities, have completed a thorough report of the conditions they found. The findings of the committee should prove of great interest and benefit to all persons interested in good streets. The report states that concrete pavement built in strict obedience to properly prepared specifications are equal, if not superior, to many of the present-day pavements in all respects. The committee is so certain that this kind of pavement is suitable for use here that in their report they recommend it for all unpaved streets and those streets now paved with macadam, the foundations of which are in bad shape.—Evanston News.

Brick and Concrete for Lake Forest.

Lake Forest has begun an extensive system of street improvements to be paid for by special assessments. Most of the new pavement will be an asphalt concrete, laid on a cement concrete foundation. Much will be of the "machine mixed type." Two long stretches of brick pavement are to be laid, i. e., Deerpath avenue from Western avenue west to Green Bay road, and Western avenue from Deerpath avenue south to the convent.—Lake Forester.

GARDEN PARTY FOR ARDEN SHORE

At the Residence of Mr. Jens Jensen Saturday Afternoon at three o'clock

On Saturday afternoon, July 26th, there will be a garden party at the residence of Mr. Jens Jensen on Dean avenue for the benefit of Arden Shore. The affair is to be a real party, not a bazaar, and there will be entertainments of all kinds and fun for men, women and children. Archery, in charge of an Indian, quills, Aunt Salie, battledore, shuttlecock, an African dodger and other games will amuse the grownups, while a special section will entertain the little folks. Here there will be slides and pony rides and various other pastimes of which the charges will be very small. In a tent near the children's section will be exhibited the complete Moneysort apparatus of special interest to the mothers. Ice cream and cake will be served.

As a special feature Miss Anna Morgan will present "A Soldier's Daughter," by Cosnev Hamilton, a one-act play with an unusual cast. The play will take place at 4, 5 and 6 o'clock, so that all may have an opportunity to see it. The party is in charge of the Ravinia committee for Arden Shore, which is composed of the following: Mrs. Frank Rhea Bott, Mrs. Carl Bullock, Mrs. Noble Crandall, Miss Louise Darby, Mrs. Joseph L. Pearing, Mrs. W. R. Folsom, Mrs. Joseph Leaming, Mrs. Charles F. Mauran, Miss Anna Morgan, Mrs. Thomas M. Wilder, Mrs. Frederick Wozner and Mrs. C. M. P. Wright.

Everyone is most cordially invited. The prices will be very reasonable and you will find the garden party a simple way of giving week-end guests
