LOCALS LOSE FIRST TO WAUKEGAN TEAM

HARD HITTING FEATURES 7 TO 6 GAME

In first of Three Game Series between Teams. Second will be Played at Waukegan August Thirty-one

The Waukegans by hard hitting and sharp outfielding won the first contest of the Highland Park-Waukegan series of games last Sunday by the score of 7 to 6. It was a stubbornly contested battle and anybody's game till the last local batter was retired in the ninth. Both teams played a sturdy defensive game, so that all runs scored were the result of hard, clean offensive play.

The stickwork of Williams, Luder, Whyte and Wilkinson cut a tremendous figure in Waukegan's run-getting, while Joe Richards was the most prominent of the local willow wielders. The game produced a number of sparkling plays, chief of them a one-handed stab by Jimmie Duffy of a hard foul fly for which he reached over the railroad fence.

Both twirlers were bombarded with telling effect, and although the winners outslugged the locals as far as safe hits go, the home team's attack was, comparatively speaking, the more timely and productive. All but two of the Crescents' bingles figured in the scoring, while nearly half—six, to be precise—of the winners' safe clouts went to waste.

The visitors made friends with Greenslade's offerings right off the bat. Williams singled, was sacrificed to second by Wilkinson and registered on Whyte's safe rap, but Whyte was nailed before he could make second when Greenslade intercepted G. Glader's throw to the plate. Luder also singled and so did Brunke. A fast play engineered by G. Glader, Duffy and Richards cut down Luder in his dash for third. A remarkable feature of this half of the inning was the fact that of the five men that faced Bob four hit safely and the other sacrificed, yet only one run was scored. The Crescents tied up the count in their half of the inning. Shields was hit and pilfered second, and he scored on Richards' crack between short and third.

Highland Park jumped into the lead in the second. F. Glader lined safely to center and a wild pitch advanced him to second, whence he sallied home on Greenslade's safe poke to the outfield. In the fourth Waukegan evened up matters and then some, four runners counting. Williams doubled to left, Wilkinson was hit and Whyte trudged, which filled the bases. Luder lined a vicious double to left and Williams and Wilkinson counted. Luder ran off Whyte, who was on third, and Whyte was run to death by Schaefer. Luder immediately wiped third. Brunke walked and stole, and both men tore home on Hook's break boundary over Richards' cranial.

In the fifth frame the locals again knotted the count. Shields' single was followed by Richards' timely safe swat, and when the dust had settled Tony was perched on third and Joe on second. Hellman walked and the circuit was jammed. Duffy dumped a grounder to short and Shields beat the throw home, but the ball got away from the Waukegan backstop when he and Shields collided, which enabled Richards to scoot home safely and put Hellman on third. Schaefer's infield out-counted Hellman.

Waukegan scored twice in the sixth after two men were down. Williams walked and stole second. Wilkinson lined to left, but Williams was held on third, and while the umpire was watching the play on Williams, Wilkinson sneaked to second, deliberately cutting first by ten feet. Whyte doubled first by ten feet. Whyte doubled past Duffy, sending home both runners. The home team reduced the visitors' lead to one run in the seventh. Hellman clipped off a two-sacker to right and sped home on G. Glader's smash out of the shortstop's reach, but George died on first when his brother lifted to Williams for the final out.

Between 600 and 700 persons attended the game. Considering the intense rivalry between the two teams, the contest was remarkable for the almost total absence of kicking. And the ritual routers, too, behaved well. The second game of the series will be played in Waukegan Sunday, August 31.

NEARBY NEWS NOTES OF LOCAL INTEREST

AUTO FIRE TRUCK FOR LAKE FOREST

Second Trial of Voliva for Perjury will come up in October. Plans Accepted for Evanston Contagious Hospital

Accept Plans for Hospital.
Plans have been accepted for the new contagious hospital and contracts will soon be let and work started on what will be one of the finest and most up-to-date contagious hospitals in the United States.

The hospital is being erected by the generosity of James A. Patten, who agreed to put up such a building if $100,000 could be secured from the citizens as an endowment fund for its support. This fund has now been subscribed.

The plans were drawn by Meyer J. Sturm, a Chicago architect who confines his work to hospital buildings alone. It will be erected on the grounds of the Evanston hospital, fifty feet from the street and 250 feet from any other buildings on the grounds. The building will be four stories in height, of brick and terra cotta exterior, and a fireproof floor. The only wood will be in the window frames and slab doors.—Evanston Press.

Ask Citizens' Aid to Buy Fire Truck.
The city council, after much deliberation and study has decided on the purchase of a motor driven chemical truck.

In order, however, that the purchase may be made at this time, some of our citizens will have to lend a hand. The city can spare only about half the needed funds for the purchase and have money to supply the other needs of the department.

Every one concedes that a chemical supply at the early stage of a fire will often do the work and save ruining machinery with water. The engine selected is a combination chemical truck and hose wagon, so that both chemical and water could be used.

Total Eclipse of the Moon.
On Monday, September 15, there will be a total eclipse of the moon visible in this section. There will also be two eclipses of the sun—one on the 21st of August and the other on the 29th of September.

Audit Waukegan City Books.
Barrow, Wade & Guthrie, who received $1,000 for installing a new system of bookkeeping at the city offices, have been awarded the contract to audit the books for the year ending April 30.

One of the provisions of the commission form of government provides that a yearly audit of the records must be made at least once a year.—Waukegan Sun.

Perjury Case Trial Set for October.
Among the many cases that will come up at the October term of court in Rockford will be the perjury indictment against Wilbur Glenn Voliva of Zion City. A hearing was had on the matter a few months ago, but the jury failed to agree, eleven being for conviction and one for acquittal for conviction and one for acquittal.

At the time of the jury disagreement the State's Attorney Dady expressed the opinion that he will be able to secure a conviction when the case is tried again. He intends to use great care in selecting a jury this time.

Central Theatre to have Schiller Drama Sunday Night

The entrance into the "movie" show world of the foremost theatrical men of the country, the reproduction in film of the great plays they control and the use of many of the country's best actors in presenting them has rapidly brought the moving picture industry to a higher plane and caused the regular producers to scurry for filling their companies with a better class of actors and staging as a rule, a better class of plays. Heretofore these plays, which require sometimes as many as five and six reels for reproduction, have been given exclusively in the regular theaters and at advanced prices. Of late, however, it has been possible for the "dime" shows to secure them and our own popular theater has not been behind the times, although there is an added royalty tacked to all such films and, in small theaters, it is sometimes difficult, even with sold-out houses, to make the receipts equal the expenditures.

On Saturday night Manager Krueger will give his patrons an opportunity to witness a picture performance of Schiller's drama, "Mary Stuart." This is an Edison picture and is said to be a photographic masterpiece, representing months of careful study and preparation. It is gorgeously costumed, lavishly staged and enacted by one of the strongest companies ever assembled in a photo-play.

RUTH ST. DENIS TO RETURN TO THE PARK

DANCER ENGAGED FOR CLOSING WEEKS

Opera Draws Record Attendance on Saturdays and Sundays but Additional Feature is Necessary

In spite of the large attendance at Ravinia Park these days, sold-out houses being the rule on Saturdays and Sundays, the management has been casting about for an attraction which will be enough of a novelty to draw the standing room only crowds seven days in the week, something absolutely necessary if the park is to get by the season minus the annual deficit. To this end Miss Ruth St. Denis, one of the most popular individual stars ever at the park, has been engaged for the last two weeks of the park's season and will begin her season next Monday night.

Program for the Week.
"A Lovers Quarrel," Signor Pirelli's one-act opera which was given its first performance at the park Tuesday night, and which will be repeated tonight, when it will form part of an "all Pirelli program." Tomorrow night "Thais," with Miss Ewell, Miss Mulford, Mr. Kreidler and Mr. Davies, will be the bill, while Saturday the excerpts from "Martha," with the cast the same as that of Sunday, will be given. To a large percentage of those attending this has proved one of the most popular bills, repeated scores being given. Mr. Kreidler for his "Stein Song," Miss Mulford for the "Love Song," Miss Dufau for "A Last Rose of Summer," and the entire company for the finale of act three. These are all old favorites, known to every one present, whether grand opera patrons or not. Mr. Samloff was also the recipient of much applause, but unlike the others he refused to respond, an act which many thought rather discourteous. Sunday night the bill will be "Pagliacci," another popular opera, and one in which the members of the company giving it have done some of their best work. They are Miss Ewell, Mr. Samloff, Mr. Kreidler, Mr. Schuster and Mr. Davies.

Mr. Davies scored a decided hit at Manrico in "Trovatore" Monday night and he will be given another opportunity in the same part next week Thursday. During this week there will also be repetitions of "Martha," "A Lovers Quarrel," "Pagliacci" and "Faust," and there will be two performances of "Rustians." The complete program may be found in another part of this paper.

BARRINGTON CAMP MEETING PLAYS

Dates of Special Services for Annual Evangelical Meeting

The fortieth Barrington Park camp meeting will be held from August 22 to September 1. Rev. E. R. Scholtz, former pastor of the First United Evangelical Church of Highland Park, will be the presiding elder and many people from here are expecting to attend.

The special days will be as follows: K. L. C. E. day, August 23; communion day, August 24; missionary day, August 27; fathers' and mothers' day, August 28; men's day, August 29; fortieth anniversary day, August 31; farewell day, September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Bihorn, evangelistic singers, will lead the singing at the camp meeting.

The Barrington Park Bible school is under the supervision of officers elected by the school and was begun last year with encouraging attendance. Then the books of Genesis and Matthew were studied; this year the book of Mark will be taken up by the students. There is presented material for study peculiar to the author, portraying the busy, aggressive, powerful and victorious Christ as was likely to appeal to a Roman reader. The study will be directed by three ministers and is divided into twelve lessons, two for each of the six days, beginning Monday, August 25, at 10:30 a. m.

NEW DIRECTORY IS RECEIVED

Lake County Book Contains nearly 23,000 Names. 2,500 from this City

The new Lake County Directory, published by Bumstead and Co., is being delivered in Highland Park this week. The book is well bound and attractive and contains about 23,000 names in its 1300 pages. The section devoted to Highland Park has about 2470 names, while the enumerators found only 272 in Highwood and 182 in Deerfield. These figures, as regards Highwood, are undoubtedly short. Children are not listed in the book and where both husband and wife occupy one line they are counted as one. There are 31 pages devoted to rural routes with about 1700 names and 39 towns are given space.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES UNCOVERED BY SHOT

IS FOLLOWED BY SEVEN ARRESTS

Mrs. Andrew Lang Drives four from home with Pistol Saturday Night and many Charges are Filed Later

A most unsavory domestic mess was uncovered in Highland Park Saturday night when Mrs. Andrew Lang shot Mrs. Lydia Van Danable of North Chicago, whom she charged with forcibly entering her home, accompanied by others, on North Johns Ave. for the purpose of kidnapping. Mrs. Van Danable was not seriously injured, but the action and the shot which followed resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Lang for assault with a deadly weapon, Dr. J. A. Connell, whose daughters were the subject of the controversy, Mrs. Van Danable, his mother-in-law, and her husband and Mrs. Lydia Woodward, her daughter, on a charge of kidnapping and Mr. and Mrs. Bowers on statutory charges.

The local police arrested the Van Danables, Dr. Connell and Mrs. Woodward on a charge preferred by Mrs. Bowers. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. Lang were arrested by the sheriff on charges preferred by Mrs. Van Danable and Dr. Connell. The cases of the latter were heard before Justice Taylor at Waukegan Tuesday, and the three were bound over to the grand jury. The kidnapping charge came before Magistrate Boylan in this city and was dismissed for lack of prosecution, Mrs. Bowers being in the Waukegan jail for lack of bail at the time set. A Waukegan paper states that "when they appeared in Justice Boylan's court to answer the charges they, (the defendants), found no one there to prosecute them." That is all very true for neither our vigilant states attorney nor his assistant appeared or seemed, from this distance, to have any interest in the prosecution. He informed Justice Boylan that he did not believe any one would appear and no one did. There is considerable comment here over the failure of the states attorney's office to do its duty and prosecute this case the same as he did the others. The charge of kidnapping is a serious one and, whether there is anything in the charge or not, as one man said, is not for the states attorney to decide, it is for him to get his witnesses into court and prosecute so that the judge can decide.

Mrs. Bowers' trouble at present is the fact that Dr. Connell says she has no right to that name but should be known as Mrs. Connell, he having married her, become the father of her two children and claiming to have no knowledge of a divorce. They were formerly residents of No. Chicago which city Dr. Connell left in October, claiming the actions of his wife made it impossible for him to live with her. Dr. Connell went to Oklahoma. Then followed much moving back and forth, the whole of which makes a sordid tale with both sides accusing and denying, until Mrs. Bowers, or Connell, left the children, two girls about three and five years of age, with Mrs. Lang Saturday night with the request that she allow no one to see them. Mrs. Lang claims that the four people mentioned came to her house at about nine o'clock and not only refused to leave but proceeded across the room and entered her bedroom before she took the gun from a dresser and fired at Mrs. Van Danable. The others claim that the shot was fired as they were leaving.
