Woman's Club

The Highland Park Woman's Club met in the club rooms Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock. The day was in charge of Mrs. Henry Sampson of California who for a number of years was a resident of Highland Park and lived in the house recently vacated by Mr. Ira J. Geer and family on Central and Linden Avenues. While Mrs. Sampson was in Highland Park this summer she arranged for this program and succeeded in securing Mrs. J. C. Long of Chicago to speak to the club on the subject "Homemaking an Art as well as a Necessity." The talk was humorous and filled with good sense. The meeting was homelike and informal. The hostesses for the afternoon were: Mesdames Frank Clark, E. W. Schumacher, Willard Millard, E. A. Turpin, William A. French, and Miss Estelle Clark. The next meeting will take place November 18th, Miss Estelle Taylor of Chicago, who is a teacher of teachers and a director of the Dr. Gunsalus Church Kindergarten, will speak. This will be of special interest to the teachers of our city and all are most cordially urged to be present.

Of course the Reliable Laundry's work on their specials is the very best. If it wasn't their ambition to hold you as a steady patron would all be for naught.

LAKE COUNTY GETS GAME PRESERVE

First Site Selected by Fish and Game Commission is near Grayslake

President C. J. Dittmar of the Illinois state fish and game commission, announced last week that the commission had decided to secure a number of acres of land in every county in the state, said ground to be set aside as a game preserve. The land will be leased by the state and as much as one thousand acres will be secured in some places. The land will be stocked with game birds such as pheasants, quail, prairie chickens, and other birds and will be properly protected by the commission. One of the first preserves to be set aside was in Lake County. Sol Van Praag, district game warden in this part of the state announced Monday, through Representative Thomas Graham, that 1,000 acres had been selected for this purpose just west of Grayslake. The land is known as the old sag, and is the best beds of Lake County, it being said that peat in great quantities lies just beneath the surface of the ground. It is said that there are many birds now on "the sag" and the commission will at once post signs prohibiting shooting on any of the land included in the tract. The plan is to protect the birds, now on the land and in the spring stock it extensively with pheasants, quail and other game. Hunting will not be allowed there for several years, at least.

Break Ground for Million Dollar Home for Samuel Insull. Cottage Donated to Bowen Home, by Mrs. Julius Rosenwald is Dedicated

Wilmette has new Grouch on "L"

Wilmette citizens, who a few months ago, championed the cause of the Northwestern Elevated Railroad company in voting in a referendum election that that company be allowed to take over the strip of land in Laurel Ave. for $12,500 and also be given the right to erect a costly station, are sadly disappointed because instead of a commodious station, a small structure has been placed at the terminal.

Dedicate Rosenwald Cottage

The dedication last Saturday of the cottage donated by Mrs. Julius Rosenwald to the Bowen Memorial Club, just north of Waukegan, marked the completion of the buildings planned for this club which was launched for the purpose of giving the poor women and children of Hull House district, Chicago, a chance for outings in summer and winter.

Break Ground for Insull House

Ground was broken last week for the new residence which Samuel Insull is to erect on his estate south of Libertyville on Milwaukee Ave., just south of his present home. Reports have it that Mr. Insull will spend a million dollars on his new home which is expected to be completed a year from now. It will stand a quarter of a mile back from Milwaukee Road and the intervening space is already being provided with driveways, bridges and an artificial lake.

Winnetka to Have Auto Fire Truck

Winnetka officials at their last meeting passed an ordinance for the issuing of bonds with which to purchase an automobile fire truck. The issuing of these bonds was approved by the residents of the village last April and now that the council has acted on the matter the new fire-fighting apparatus is expected in a short while.

Remove Sheldon School From Area

Residents of Area, or Rockefeller as it is more commonly known, feel that they have been badly treated by A. F. Sheldon who, until recently, has operated a correspondence school in their village. For a number of years after Mr. Sheldon established his school there he and the villagers warred over a question of changing the name of the village from Rockefeller to Area. Mr. Sheldon going so far as to refuse to send his mail from the local postoffice. About a year ago the villagers gave in and changed the name and now Mr. Sheldon has moved his school to Chicago. There is a balm for injured feelings, however, in the announcement that a school for boys will be started on the 800 acres which comprise the Sheldon holdings.

Wilmette Postmaster Dies

Edwin Drury, one of the pioneers of Wilmette, and for the last six years postmaster of the village, dropped dead Tuesday while on his way to his office. Death was due to apoplexy.

While playing "Indian" Wednesday night, Vincent Dupre, 15 years old, son of John Dupre, a carpenter at Antioch, shot and killed his younger brother, Raymond, 10 years old. It was another accident of the "didn't know it was loaded," kind.

Last week Wednesday the people of Elgin voted for that city to issue bonds for $162,000 for a municipal light plant. 1,009 women voted at the election.

FREEMONT—Illinois State Deputy Game Warden C. W. Baumgarten and James Conley, who have been seen fishing from the sloughs of Jo Daviess county, shipped 53,000 to Freemont this week, the consignment being dumped into the Pecatonica river. The sloughs contain but little water, due to the long drought, and in a short time the fish would have perished.

COURAGE OF NAPOLEON.

The Way It Carried Him From Aspern-Esling to Wagram.

Professor J. Holland Rose in "The Personality of Napoleon" writes of Napoleon's courage. He says that his personality "never stood forth so grandly as after a defeat." The most serious blow in the middle part of his career was that dealt him by the Archduke Charles at Aspern-Esling, north-east of Vienna. The Austrians were nearly double him in strength. The bridges over the Danube had been broken down in his rear. His great marshal, Lannes, had been killed, and, in fact, he had suffered a terrible reverse. All his generals were for retreat, but he withstood them, and Professor Rose ranks the next six weeks "among the most glorious of his military career." He secured new troops, deceived his enemy by false movements and finally defeated him at Wagram.

But a decline came to such a prodigious man. He himself said at St. Helena that he had been spoiled by success. It was natural that the victor in fifty pitched battles and innumerable smaller engagements should come to believe himself omniscient and invincible. It was this hardening of the mind that betrayed him into the Russian campaign, that caused him to refuse all compromise in 1813 and 1814 and that led him to defeat by his inferiors, Wellington and Blucher, at Waterloo. Just as Hannibal was finally beaten by his inferior, Scipio, at Zama.

DECATUR—Harry White, who was a well known druggist of Macon, is dead here as a result of an automobile accident which occurred near his home late Tuesday. His machine, a light runabout, slipped and turned over twice, crushing him beneath it.

ELGIN—Louis Hennings had a very narrow escape from death while hunting. He was shot in the abdomen by Mortimer J. Price while hunting birds. The gun carried by Price was accidentally discharged while he was at tempting to remove a cartridge.

True Kindergarten Spirit. Master Harold had returned after his first day at a kindergarten school, says the Mather-Guardian. "Well, Harold," said a friend of his mother who was calling, "how do you like school? I suppose you are the youngest there." "Oh, no," said Harold indignantly, drawing himself to his full height and throwing out his chest—"oh, no! Some of our chaps come in perambulators."
