Putting Trees to Bed.
An interesting method of protecting peach trees from frost during the winter has been practiced for several years at the agricultural experimental station at Canyon, Colo. Early in November the earth is removed from a circle about four feet in diameter around each tree, and water is turned in to saturate the soil. When the ground has become soft the tree is worked back and forth to loosen the roots and is then pushed over on its side. The branches are brought together and fastened with a cord, and buried covered with earth is put over them.
Thus the trees lie snug until spring when the covering is gradually loosened and finally removed, and they are raised and propped up.—Rocky Mountain News.
But She Hadn't
"What's the matter, old chap? You look as if you hadn't had a wink of sleep all night."
"I haven't. You see, my wife threatened never to speak to me again if I didn't come home last night before 10 o'clock, and I didn't."
"I see. You're finding out the loneliness of solitude because she kept her word, eh?"
"Not by a jugful. I wish she had."
—Exchange.
Shut Her Off.
First Deaf Mute (staring signs)—Did your wife complain because you stayed out till after midnight? Second Deaf Mute (chuckling)—Did she? You should have seen her! But when it began to get monotonous I just turned out the light.

THE LOVELIGHT IN HIS EYES.
He Thought That Was What Made All the People Stare.
"You have read in novels how a great emotion will transform a man's countenance, how a poet's face in the hour of inspiration sets the sparrow singing on the housetops. My own features are of the commonplace type—nobody thinks of regarding them twice—yet I, too, have had my experience, declares a contributor to Punch.
"They occurred on the morning when I received a letter from Phyllis, which said briefly, 'Yes, I think so.' Not much in that, you may say, but when I tell you it was the delayed answer to a proposal of marriage you will understand. Shortly after reading it I stepped out into the street to walk to the office.
"What a walk that was. The light in my eyes seemed to brighten the very sun; the song in my heart was echoed from a hundred minstrels. Never have the winds of May blown so winnily as February morning.
"Every man I met turned his head as if loath to take his eyes from my irradiated countenance. Every girl seemed to take the keenest pleasure in my happiness and smiled at me prettily as if infected by its contagion.
"Tis well, I thought in blank verse, that Phyllis now is pledged to me, for by my troth, these glittering glances shot from beauty's eyes might make my heart unfaithful.
"It was only when I reached the office and looked in the glass that I discovered the large black smudge on the end of my nose."

MATTOON—Illinois fish wardens are investigating reports of illegal fishing in the reservoir of the Mattoon Water Works company at Paradise. The reservoir contains large numbers of small croppies, and since the water reached a low stage the fish were easily caught.
