BELLES OF THE ORIENT.

Light of Their Lives.

If the woman of fashion of London. Paris or New York spent as much time over her toilet as her sister of the far killed three birds with a stone when east she would have very little left in he spoke of Tennyson's which to attend to her social and domestic duties.

The oriental belle devotes most of her day to the preservation of her health and beauty. She uses many wonderful cosmetics for coloring her eyes and brows and for beautifying her skin. On arising her hair is dressed by her maid, who massages the scalp with oil made from alee wood or cocoanut. The eastern woman will never interfere with the color of her hair, for the long silky blue black locks are considered her chief char

From the boy's suggestion he per fected in one week a machine on which he had in vain exercised all his ingenuity for the preceding two years. The principle of that cutting device is the principle of all of the great harvesting machines, and its benefit to the farming industry of the entire world has been unsurpassed by any other invention for use on the farm.-George F. Stratton, in St. Nicholas.

No Great Eater. The Rev. Dr. Elderberry had been brought back a young cannibal. Beebo was turned over to Mrs. Elderberry to be civilized. For full four weeks the good lady instructed her charge in the theoretical principles of Christian doctrine and conduct until she thought he was ripe to put his training into practice.

"And now, Beebo," said she one day, "you shall see that what I have taught are to accompany me to the public schoolboys. You shall help me. But the little cannibal shook his

SAWDUST HAS MANY USES.

Once Considered Waste, It Is Now Very Valuable Product.

The sawdust man in New York is a very important business man. wholesale sawdust dealer advertises all kinds of sawdust and requests that you will telephone your needs so that there may be an early delivery.

It used to be that any one who wanted sawdust went to the sawmill and asked for as much as he wanted. There was only one kind of sawdust in the good old days and that was an unimthat the sawdust business is offering greater opportunities. There are about sixty kinds of saw dust on the market, so says the sawdust expert, and all of them have their stated uses in the realm of trade.

All the way from the preparation of food to the polishing of precious metal nges the usefulness of sawdust. The hardwood dusts are used for potishing in some jewelers' shops and cheaper sawdusts are used for polishing less valuable metal work. In packing and making cushions, for the covering doors and in the fur business, sawdust is useful.-New York Herald.

Legend of Buckingham Palace.

if William IV, had gained his way Ruckingham palace would be serving as parliament house. Two days after the old houses of parliament were burned Lord Broughton, who was then first commissioner of works, records in his diary: "Went to St. James' and saw his majesty. I cannot say he was much affected by the calamity, rather the reverse. He seemed delighted at having an opportunity of getting rid of Buckingham palace, said he meant it as a permament gift for parliament and that it would be the finest thing in Europe. At 3 o'clock the king and queen went over the ruins. The king looked gratified as if at a show. Just before getting into his carriage called the speaker and me to him and said: 'Mind, I mean Buckingham palace as a permanent gift. Mind that." -London Chronicle.

The President and War.

According to the constitution of the United States, article 1, section clause 11, the power to declare war belongs to the congress. The president as the chief executive, when war is declared becomes commander in chief of the army and navy, but he cannot take the initiative in bringing on the war. The president who should have the temerity to declare the country at war with another people would be instantaneously removed from his high office. The men who made the constitution upon which our government rests knew how fatal to human rights and happiness the monarchical principle had been, and therefore they saw to it that the nation's head should have nothing to do with declaring war with another nation.-New York American
