ILLINOIS NEWS NOTES

Joliet Women Fail to Vote.
 JOLIET, ILL.—The women of Joliet failed to avail themselves of their first opportunity to use the ballot. Only one woman voted to every 100 men at the township election for highway commissioner. At one polling place suffragists engaged in a dispute with the two judges who challenged their right to vote. The women were Mrs. Augusta Eck and Mrs. C. A. Gustafson. The judges were Byron R. Pierce and James Keith. Mrs. Eck enlisted the aid of her husband, William Eck, but the women were defeated, for they were unable to swear they had been naturalized since coming to this country.

Receiver for Bank Head.
 JOLIET, ILL.—Erastus W. Willard, of Joliet, has been appointed receiver for John E. Evans head of the Plainfield (Ill.) bank. The appointment was made by Federal Judge Carpenter of Chicago upon the petition of three creditors having deposits in the bank. Attorneys for the petitioners estimated the liabilities of the bank at between $100,000 to $200,000. Its assets they believe are considerably less than $50,000. The petitioners were Theodore J. Kink, L. D. Thompson and William Upton, depositors in the bank. Upton's claim for $750 is the largest. All reside in Plainfield.

Dr. Marshall is Guilty.

The decision came as the result of an investigation conducted by Florence E. Sullivan, at the request of Governor Edward F. Dunne, into conditions found by Mr. Sullivan. Dr. Marshall was tried by the civil service commission at the Pontiac institution.
