REAL SATISFACTION

You must use Nu-Finish to have real dusting satisfaction. You cannot get Nu-Finish results without Nu-Finish. Every user becomes an enthusiast. A trial will convince you it has no equal.

NU-FINISH

is a marvelous dusting-cleaning, polishing liquid. With it you just dust in the usual way—but what a difference! No dust flying in the room to settle down again. Every speck is taken up and taken out—not just stirred up. And, at the same time, with no extra work, your furniture, woodwork and hardwood floors are cleaned and polished. Try a 25c bottle.

Those taking part were: Gray Stubbs, Winthrop James, Raymond Geer, Francis Everett, Leonard Nelson, Albert Renning, Leslie Grant, Harold Oleson, Jack Baker, Seward Baldwin Goodrich Schaeffer, Warren Schreurs, and Junior Schumacher. The evening concluded with a minstrel show by the famous Schaeffer brothers, Henry, Leslie and Goodrich by name. They were dressed in ridiculous costumes and sang jolly glee club songs.

Woman's Club

The children's Christmas party held Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 30th in the Parish house was one of the jolliest ever. The children were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Frank R. Cain of Ravinia who sang in her usual charming way popular songs by Jessie Gaynor, Liza Lehmann, Grant-Schaefer, and others which always delight the hearts of the children. Mrs. James Watson accompanied Mrs. Cain at the piano. The program ran as follows: Our Hired Girl (story) by James Whitcomb Riley; Jerushy by Jessie L. Gaynor and Dr. Tinkle Tinker by Karl Hbschna. In the second group were The Captain by Jas. H. Rogers; Seeing Things at Night (story) by Eugene Field; Practicing by John A. Carpenter, and a story entitled "A Boy's Remarks to His Stomach." A group of five songs or "Make-believe Stories" were given in conclusion. A Morning Glory Song, Woodman; A Morning Glory story, McCracken; I do-don't know you, Jessie L. Gaynor; The Moon-Man, Grant-Schaefer; The Guardian Angel, Liza Lehmann. Following this most entertaining program the youngsters enjoyed playing different kinds of games and before going home were served with delicious ice cream and cake.

Obituary

Major Thomas G. Troxel

The announcement of the death of Thos. G. Troxel on Tuesday morning, December 30th, brought real grief to his many friends in this community where he has lived for over 20 years. Born in Annville, Penn., July 25th, 1844, he moved when a boy with his family to Burlington, Iowa, where most of his youth was spent. At the age of 18, while attending college in Burlington, he enlisted in the 25th Iowa Infantry Volunteer service and was made 1st sergeant of his company after a few weeks. He served throughout the last three years of the war, much of the time in command of his company while his superior officers were on other details. He took part in a number of the great battles of the war and made the "march to the sea" with Sherman. At the end of the war he was in the grand review at Washington, was discharged with the rest of the volunteer troops and went back to Burlington, where he studied law for a year, but the calling of a soldier was more to his taste and he secured a commission in the regular army where he served with honor and distinction from 1866 to 1889 when he retired from physical inability brought on by severe campaigning and an attack of yellow fever contracted in Texas where he was stationed during the troublous times when Texas was under Martial law.

He had much to do with the building of railroads in the southwest during the hostile Indian days, when it was necessary to give military protection to the railroad engineers. During the early seventies much of his service was given in frontier stockade posts on the Missouri river.

His last years of active service were spent in Dakota, Montana and Wyoming, and shortly after his retirement he moved to Highland Park where he lived until his death. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Dwight Ryther, of the 6th Infantry, and two sons, James and Thomas Troxel. The funeral services were held at his late residence on East Central Ave. on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 31st, and interment at Fort Sheridan with military honors.

Major Troxel was not only a good citizen but had every qualification of the true soldier. Personally, he was one of the most lovable of men, clean-cut, upright, honest as the sun, with a conscience not blunted by contact with the world, not side-tracked by the stress of business. He never loved prominence and had a way of self-effacement that was most winning, and with his kind heart and companionable temperament easily made many friends, especially among the boys and young men by whom he was greatly beloved. Major Troxel leaves a record of loyalty in word and deed and by these very qualities leaves a mark upon his day and generation.

Anedi Clang of West Central Ave. was adjudged insane in Judge Whitney's court last week and sent to the state asylum at Elgin.

Highland Park Club

Monday the 29th and Tuesday the 30th two young people's organizations, the Iota Pi Sorority and the Sigma Delta Beta fraternity had the club for the entertainment of their friends. Wednesday the 31st is the annual masquerade. This is always a jolly party, the grand march beginning promptly at 10 o'clock to avoid the inconvenience of dancing too long in costume. Prizes will be awarded the persons wearing the most unique costume. Today, the children's party will commence promptly at 2 o'clock. The first hour will be devoted to dancing; afterwards two or three comedy motion pictures will be shown. Ice cream and cake will be served.

Additional Observer

The large progressive dinner given last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Chapman was one of the jolliest and prettiest of the week. It was given in celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Chapman's tenth anniversary. Many odd and unique articles of tin were given by the guests present.

Mrs. Edward Smith was hostess at an informal bridge party Tuesday afternoon complimentary to Miss Morel of Savannah, Ga.

Miss Annie Cobb entertained at bridge Monday afternoon informally for Mrs. Van Schaick's sister, Miss Morel of Savannah, Ga., and Mrs. Van Poole of Boston, who is the home guest of Miss Viola Shields. Mrs. Herbert P. Beers will give an informal bridge party Friday afternoon for Miss Morel.

The Blue Eagle camp fire group gave their Christmas party last Saturday evening, Dec. 27th in the Y. W. C. A. rooms on E. Central Ave. Thirty-two girls were present to enjoy the merry evening of games and a Christmas story told by Mrs. Ward Knapp. The young people also had a tree and were delightfully surprised by an unexpected visit from Santa Claus. Among those present were Esther Krueger, Elizabeth Larson, Mary Fay, Rose Nicholas, Naomi Olmstead, Dargene Jones, Sarah Daggitt, Vivian Johnson, Eleanor Bartlett, Ethel Hill, Elsie Bloomdahl, and Pearl Garrity.

Mrs. Edward Smith will entertain the Friday evening bridge club this week at her home, 218 Park Ave.
