METHOD OF THE KAISER.

When William Wants Information He Just Simply Gets It.

It is a well known fact that, often becoming interested in some subject, Kaiser William summons the greatest authority on the subject and gets the latest information in the quickest way.

The emperor, so the story goes, summoned Professor Harnack, the renowned theologian, and asked him some technical questions—say, the latest news on the antiquity of the book of John. The Kaiser is known to be a specialist in refuting higher criticism, so perhaps the question was even more technical.

He and Harnack indulged in a spirited discussion and all too soon the clock brained private secretary interrupted to tell his majesty that he had an appointment for the next half hour with Prince So-and-so. The emperor's face clouded. "Where am I tomorrow night?" he asked. "Your majesty dines with Count So-and-so." Then turning to the theologian the emperor said, "Well, I shall see you again and finish the discussion."

The next day Professor Harnack received an invitation from the count who was entertaining the Kaiser, and although he was not acquainted with his host he accepted. At dinner he found himself sitting next to the emperor, who immediately resumed the theological discussion where it had been left off the day before. And this time it was finished.—Chicago News.

TYPE AND TAPE.

These Names Sounded Queer as They Were Heard in London.

Here's one about an American printer whose vicissitudes took him across the ocean last year and landed him in the town of London. The printer is back in Cleveland now and tells the story himself.

This printer bethought him of starting a little paper in the heart of Eng-

STYLISH ROUGH CAST RESIDENCE.

Design 775, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

Exterior in rough cast, with brick carried up to the height of the first story window sills. The rough cast made pure white, with cornice rafter ead- and window frames stained brown and a moss green stain for the shutters on the roof gives a very pleasing color combination for this design. Large living room across the entire side and sun room in front closed off with French doors. Dining room with built-in sideboard and china closet. Three chambers and bath in second story. Size, 30 feet wide and 26 feet deep over the main part. Full basement. First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet. Finish red oak throughout first story. Birch or Washington fir in the second story. Birch or maple floors throughout. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $2,850.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans, "American Dwellings." It contains about 250 up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

PURE GEORGIAN COLONIAL STYLE.

Design 786, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

This mansion was built in the state of Iowa. The design was carefully studied and worked out in the most minute detail. The general idea is typical of the old genuine colonial home, with central hall through the entire house, with living rooms placed each side. Sun parlor opening from the living room is modern. The floor plans present the merits of this design more accurately than the best word description. It makes a very complete residence of medium cost. The second story has four chambers, ample closet space and a sleeping porch. Full basement under entire house, 7 feet 6 inches high; first story, 9 feet 2 inches; second, 8 feet 4 inches, and third story, 8 feet. First story finished in red gum, with Circassian walnut veneered doors; second story white enamel on gumwood, with birch doors stained mahogany. Size, 40 feet wide over main part and 32 feet deep. Birch or maple floors throughout first and second stories. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $8,500.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans, "American Dwellings." It contains about 250 up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

SURGEON TO A TIGER.

An Exciting Operation That Was Performed by Gratitudine.

When one of the tigers in the zoological gardens in Dublin was treated for gangrene in its paw, Rev. Samuel Haughton, M. D., undertook to perform the dangerous experiment of operating on the animal.

The mate of the tiger was first secured in a side den. A net devised by Professor Haughton was thrown over the tiger, and he was drawn forward to the door of the cage. Four stout keepers then held the feet of the struggling animal, while Professor Haughton cut away the diseased claw.

The suffering beast curiously but vainly tried to get at him during the operation, but the rage of the tigress looking on through the bars of the side den was much more terrible to behold. She roared and violently flung herself against the barriers in her mad desire to go to the rescue of her mate.

When the tigress was admitted to the cage after the wound of her mate had been dressed she turned up the paw and examined it with touching solicitude and then licked her mate as a cat licks her kittens to soothe them, purring softly the while.

But perhaps the most extraordinary part of the affair was the sequel. A week later Professor Haughton was again at the zoo to see how his patient was getting on. When the animal espied him he began to purr like a cat, allowed him to examine the paw and seemed pleased that he should do so. Indeed, for years afterward the tiger and tigress showed themselves most friendly and grateful to Professor Haughton.—Westminster Gazette.

GRAVE OF EDNA LYALL.

Picturesque Spot Where the Noted Author Lies at Rest.

Few people perhaps know anything about the picturesque English village of Bosbury, lying almost beneath the shadow of the lengthy rampart of hills which divides the valley of the Severn from undulating orchard clad Herefordshire. It was to this garden of England, a veritable glory of apple blossom in the springtime, that Edna Lyall delighted to go for a few weeks in each year of her short life, and it was Bosbury churchyard that she chose for her last resting place.

Her grave beneath the shadow of an old churchyard cross is a very simple one—merely a plot of grass bordered by her favorite rose trees. Upon it stands a small iron cross with the inscription:

ADA ELLEN BAYLY
(Edna Lyall).
February 28, 1862.
"My trust is in the tender mercy of God for ever and ever."
"Won by Waiting" was Edna Lyall's first book. "The Autobiography of a Slander" reached its twenty-four thousandth edition soon after publication and was translated into several languages.—Great Thoughts.

Raphael.

At the age of twenty-one Raphael had done work that had well surpassed his master, who was then a man of fifty-eight.

By the time he was twenty-five Raphael's fame had so spread that Pope Julius II, summoned him to Rome to decorate certain chambers in the papal palace. From this time to his death, a period of twelve years, he remained the greater part of the time in Rome. Though most famous as a painter, he was sufficiently great in architecture also to be appointed at the age of thirty to succeed Bramante as the architect of the new St. Peter's. But his greatest commission remained still, that of decorating the walls of the Vatican. The remaining years of his life were crowded with an amazing amount of work—numbers of large and smaller paintings and numerous frescoes.—Woman's Home Companion.

Used to Her Yells.

The story of the lad who cried "Wolf" to fool his neighbors had a modern version the other night in an uptown apartment house. Miss H. began taking music lessons. Everybody heard her and got more or less used to it. But the other night Miss H. started to yell—as usual, every one thought—and the neighbors went right on trying to pay no attention to it. As a matter of fact, Miss H. had found a burglar in her apartment, and he got away with Miss H.'s jewels just because every one did go right on paying no attention to her.—New York Tribune.

Hard Luck.

"I always have tough luck."
"What's the matter?"
"I paid Brown $5 that I borrowed from him several weeks ago."
"Where's the tough luck?"
"He said afterward that he'd forgotten all about it!"—Detroit Free Press.

Often the Case.

"It was a fair fight, wasn't it?"
"Sure it was. The under dog got whipped."
"Call that a fair fight?"
"Wait, now, let me explain. The under dog provoked it!"—St. Louis Republic.

Cheerful Postscript.

Jones—The Browns have bought a car. Wife—Can't you say something cheerful once in a while? Jones—The funniest machine I ever saw and second hand at that!—Chicago News.

What ripens fast does not last.—Shakespeare.
