Unabashed.
Years ago Isidore de Lara used to sing his own songs at concerts to his own accompaniment. The most popular of them was "The Garden of Sleep." Once—so runs the story—de Lara was "Garden of Sleeping" at a private house, and he was immensely annoyed by George Moore, who went on insistently talking after the song had begun. Mr. de Lara sang a few bars and then sprang indignantly to his feet.
"Mr. Moore," he said, "I was singing the other day before the Prince of Wales, and he spoke, and I stopped."
"Well, my dear chap," replied Mr. Moore calmly, "he surprised."
Mr. de Lara had humor enough to join in the general laugh. London Answers.

The literary man, writes a correspondence, may very well, when he is lying on his back, console himself with literature. But what is the scientific man, with no particular interest in literature, to do? A certain professor of my acquaintance once got through a month of painful convalescence by the aid of another kind of reading. He read through the scores of his favorite composers. He had no ear for the rhythms of literature, but a fine ear for the rhythms of music, and he assured me that he heard the music as he read the scores. He said that during that month he really came to understand Beethoven, and that no performance of his work ever satisfied him afterward.—London Spectator.

A Bit of Blarney.
An Irishman who was begging in the street was asked by a lady how it was that such a fine, strong man as he should be asking for alms. With a native blarney he replied:
"Lady, begging is the only profession I know in which a gentleman can address a beautiful woman without having an introduction."
The remark was quite profitable.—London Answers.

A LECTURE BY JUDGE CLIFFORD

Member of the Board of the Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, of Highland Park

A large crowd listened to the Christian Science after-noon lecture at the Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, of Highland Park, Sunday afternoon, June 17th. The subject was "Christian Science and the Law," by Judge Clifford.

Christian Science and thinking that inspiration, its power, will as its completion and example awakens, and develops abilities that exist in all. It shows how men by ages of work to gain their knowledge.

The aim of Christian Science is to prepare the mind hereafter, but to treat the present experience in harmony. It declares that the mind is the supreme power, and that the mind is the source of all knowledge.

ITS OBJECT
Christian Science does not aim to better men only by giving them desires, and absolute discovering to them the power of evil impulses and power of good. It teaches the conflicting elements of consciousness and the sense of being agents of disorder, thus a mental cause of disease.

Christian Science teaches the conditions of the power of infinite truth thoughts, or truth available in every case. As the psalmist said: "Be thy shield and buckler." Being compassionate, spiritual, this Science since it is methodical exact knowledge, it teaches the principle, this Christian Science.

Christian Science taught and practices its effects to be of large number of cases a great quantity accumulated to produce exceedingly wholly practical, health, moral as well as a corresponding desire. Christian Science needs; it does so, promises to deliver from bondage of evil; and person can aid another case no one can be misinformed or wronging its truth and value before by my effort objections that are Christian Science as teaching on certain

JESUS NOT
Perhaps the most important is that Christ that Jesus is God; teach on this subject importance to all who vibrate your attention peculiarly.

The question whether Deity is, of course, to be settled by the references as they are New Testament. It would defy Jesus if of the subjects on, therefore, if it were have confirmed it existence on such a sufficient to refute it was God. But he record of his teaching negatively and affirmation taken by Christ.

Jesus was a man, range of what is possible for this very man be called the Savior appreciation of what he did gives substance assuredly hope for, thus honors Jesus as expressed the desire not to be defiled.
