

"Investor's Guide"

Under this caption some of the metropolitan daily papers have installed a department, which renders to the public free advice upon the subject of investments. In response to many of the inquiries appears the phrase:

"Consult your local Banker"

If in search of investments you are invited to consult us. Not only is our advice yours for the asking, but you have here the privilege of selecting from our list of Bonds and Mortgages (purchased for our own investment with our own funds) anything that fits your wants. For safe and productive investments up on Monday night it was necessary for the men under their direction to build a stage, proscenium arch, rigging loft and all, and to install on it a complete lighting system and scenery and properties for the opening performance. All of which was accomplished and the curtain raised on schedule time.

GRAND OPERA GETS GOOD START AT PARK

The theatre stage, dressing rooms and basement, a storehouse west of the tracks, the pavilion shell and all the space back of it not used for dressing rooms are piled high with scenery, costumes, and properties. None of these will be "rehearsed" either for every morning the stage is in use for rehearsals and every afternoon for concerts. And at that the scenery is not all completed, as yet; either, every morning one can find artists on the lawn back of the theatre or in a corner of the pavilion all busily engaged painting "sets" to be used in operas to be presented later. A busy place is Ravinia at present and it speaks well for the management that every thing runs so smoothly.

ALDERMAN FEARING WRITES OF PAVING

knowledge was inadequate. It was not his fault that the Board of Local Improvements did not provide for reinforced expansion joints. This mistake was quite a natural one to make because even the Detroit people did not realize the necessity for protecting such joints at that time, and had laid a lot of concrete roads with tar paper between the joints. Since then, however, all their roads are properly reinforced.

The fact is that we got an irresponsible contractor and we had comparatively unintelligent inspection, and we did not get as finished a job as we should have had. I admit this.

But when you say that this road is "going to pieces" you are referring to the paint coat of tarvia or asphalt, with which it is covered, and not to the road itself. It is true that in a few places the expansions show some wear, and it is also true that some places show soft concrete, but in the main, this road, notwithstanding the enormous traffic it is carrying, is holding up well, and with a little attention each year it will be a permanent road costing very little to maintain. If, must, however, be painted regularly with asphalt, and the expansions must be kept filled with asphalt, or there will be trouble. The expense in doing this will not be any greater than is the expense of oiling macadam roads twice a year, and the road is far better than any macadam road. The property owners are willing (if I understand the conditions correctly) to pay their share, but the contractor is still obligated to maintain this surface (under a two-year guarantee) and the Board of Local Improvements has been trying to persuade him to do what he ought to do—namely: put the surface in order. He has promised us time and again to do this work, and also to do similar work on St. Johns and Woodpath, and also repair some faulty concrete in the Laurel avenue subway.

We think we have exhibited the patience of Job, but we have not been able as yet to prevail upon this contractor to put these three improvements in proper order, and so far as the writer is concerned, this seems to be a calamity. A contractor can invent a thousand excuses to delay doing his duty in matters of this kind. This is, however, one of the things that goes with the system of improving roads by special assessment.

We have adopted a new scheme for the paving of Sheridan Road. We doubt if any city, town, or village, has adopted such a scheme in the past, but we believe they will adopt it in the future.

Yours very truly,
Joseph L. Fearing.

JLF-NH

P. S. Since writing the above the Board of Local Improvements has received another promise from the contractor that he will put these improvements in shape at once.

EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER

Ft. Sheridan Office now Under Civil Service Commission

Since the departure of the troops from Ft. Sheridan business in the postoffice there has fallen off until it now becomes a fourth class office, placing the postmaster under civil service and necessitating an examination for the position now held by James Sweeney. Following is the government notice:

The United States Civil Service commission announce that on Saturday, Aug. 22, an examination will be held at Highland Park, Ill., as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $999 for the last fiscal year.

Age limit, 21 years and over on the date of the examination, with the exception that in a State where women are declared by statute to be of full age for all purposes at 18 years, women 18 years of age on the date of the examination will be admitted.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the postoffice for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application forms and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from the postmaster at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., or from the Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications must be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington at least 7 days before the date of the examination, otherwise it may be impracticable to examine the applicants.

U. S. Civil Service Commission.

SENSATIONAL NEWS FILLS PAPER

Accidents and Suicides Reported in Great Numbers by Waukegan Dailies. Wilmette Passes Sheridan Road Ordinance

Sensation Fills Paper

If news of crime, death and accident were the only necessities for making a newspaper the Waukegan editors surely had their opportunity last week when their first pages held such headlines as the following: "Druggist Killed as Car Hurtles." This is from the Sun, and refers to the death of F. A. Przybylski, a Chicago druggist who left a wife and two children at his home in order to go "joy riding" with Miss Lillian Carroll and who was killed when his auto turned turtle on Green Bay Rd., near Washington St., Waukegan. Miss Carroll was slightly injured. The Gazette of the same day, Thursday, has the following: "N. W. Train Kills Man," referring to John Graff, aged 60, formerly an employee of the McCormick estate at Lake Forest but more recently employed in Glencoe, who was instantly killed shortly after 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night when he attempted to cross the Chicago and Northwestern tracks at Deerpath avenue in Lake Forest.

Friday was quiet but Saturday proved a big day and, because it used the biggest type, we'll quote them all from the Sun. First, because of its size, came a line occupying space across the top of the page as follows: "Five Leap from Burning Launch." This was followed by a rather tame story concerning Clinton Shaw and four companions, three girls and one boy, who were forced to jump from a gasoline launch when it started to burn as they were taking a midnight ride Friday. With the aid of a life preserver Shaw kept the girls afloat while his companion secured a boat. All were rescued. "Cry of Murder Draws Police," referring to a street fight; "Woman hit by Motorcycle Cop," she wasn't really hit by the cop but by his machine and her injuries were not serious; "Go Jump in Lake, Wife; Hubby Did It," which puzzle refers to an individual who jumped into the lake because his wife told him to but was unable to carry out her wishes entirely because he was rescued, are all good but when you top them off with: "Cuts Throat with Broken Qt. Bottle," referring to a Fox Lake man of little account who also failed in his effort to leave the world, and put them all on one first page in large type you have some yellow journalism.

Past Sheridan Road Ordinance

The Sheridan Road ordinance, turning the maintenance of the road over to the Lincoln Park commissioners, was passed unanimously by the Wilmette village board last week. The full police powers over the road remain in the hands of the village. The commissioners will only look after the upkeep and assess the property owners the costs.

THE ENFORCEMENT OF OUR SPEED LAWS

wish to earnestly protest against the method of our police department in its indiscriminate arrests of automobile owners and drivers. We are heartily in favor of the prevention of dangerous speeding through our streets, and the punishment of offenders, but we represent to you that the method at present pursued is unfair and unjust and is little short of a public scandal. It is creating a most unenviable reputation for our city which is damaging to our business as well as the general welfare, and we urge that more judgement be used in the handling of automobile traffic. We suggest that, instead of arresting and fining so-called offenders, they be warned of their offense and in other ways be accorded the decent treatment given in other cities, so that strangers who come within our limits may not be repelled and driven away never to come again, and we beg of you to issue such instructions to the police department as will induce a more reasonable handling of this traffic.
