

GETTING READY

This is the time to make your plans for whatever you intend doing in the way of Fall Planting, whether Spring Flowering Bulbs, Perennials, Trees or Shrubs.

You don't want things torn up about the grounds just now, but why not get ready to decide on what is to be done during September and October.

Fall Planting of hardy flowering plants, such as Peonias, Iris, Phlox or Shrubs, has many advantages over stock planted in the spring. Weather conditions are more favorable to handle soil and there are fully three months to plant, while in spring there are just a few weeks and Plants planted in early fall will become re-established before winter sets in and are ready to go ahead with the first warm days of spring.

Last fall we planted over 40,000 Spring Flowering Bulbs in Highland Park and you may be among those who admired the English Cottage Tulips in your neighbors garden—don't you want to plant some yourself this fall?

How about a few Flowering Shrubs, Evergreens, a Hedge or a Irregular Border along the lot line. All these will help to beautify your grounds, they grow in value from year to year.

No, they are not expensive, considering the pleasure you get out of them and the time it takes to grow them, for instance, a well grown Spiraea or Bridal Wreath takes four years to grow into a nice specimen. We sell them from 50c to 75c per plant and cheaper by the dozen.

Maybe you have thought of rearranging your Shrubs, changing Walks or Drives, working the old Lawn over, or laying out new Beds and Borders. We are here to assist you, no matter what you intend doing pertaining to the beautifying of your grounds. We can help you to do it, whether Formal Gardens, Swimming Pools, Rose Terraces, Pergola effect, Rock Garden, Driveways, Brick or Concrete Walks, Rustic Arbors, Settees or Bridges, Retaining Walls and Plans, Specifications and Estimates for all.

We take full charge of new grounds from the day the first shovel of excavations comes out of the basement until we clean up after the last workmen has left and the Flowers are planted and we have scores of beautiful home grounds and pleased patrons to prove this statement.

Don't, however, let that stop you from calling up 85 to give that $5.00 order of yours. Even if it is 50 cents worth we want to fill it and please you for we realize that this is absolutely necessary in order that we may continue to do well in business.

STATE OF ILLINOIS } ss
COUNTY OF COOK }
IN THE PROBATE COURT OF LAKE COUNTY

In the Matter of the Estate of Julius Charles Laegeler, deceased, Ellen Fritsch administratrix de bonis non of the estate of Julius Charles Laegeler, deceased.

Public notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a decretal order made and entered by the Probate Court of Lake County, Illinois, in the above entitled cause on the 7th day of July 1914, Ellen Fritsch, administratrix de bonis non, of the estate of Julius Charles Laegeler, deceased, will on Monday, the 31st day of August A. D. 1914, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the east door of the Court House, in the City of Waukegan, State of Illinois, sell at public vendue to the highest and best bidder for cash all the right, title, interest and estate, which the said Julius Charles Laegeler had, at the time of his death in and to the following described property, situated in Highwood, County of Lake and State of Illinois, or as much thereof as shall be sufficient to pay the debts of said estate with the costs of administration now due and to accrue, to-wit:

Lot seventy (70) of Evert and Jeffries' division of Highwood, Lake County, Illinois, commencing at a point in the east line of Waukegan Avenue, where the north line of Highwood Avenue intersects said east line and running thence northerly on the east line of Waukegan Avenue, and the west line of said lot 35 feet, thence east on a line parallel with the north line of Highwood Avenue, to the east line of said lot, thence south on the east line of said lot to the north line of said Highwood Avenue and thence west on the north line of Highwood Avenue, to the place of beginning.

Said real estate will be sold subject to the trust deed thereon to David A. Holmes, trustee, also subject to the dower interest therein of Sarah C. U. Laegeler, widow of said deceased, but sold free and clear of the homestead interest and estate therein of the widow and children of said deceased.

No deed or deeds will be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers until such sale has been reported to and approved by the said Probate Court of Lake County, Illinois.

Highwood, Illinois,
July 8, 1914.

SAVED HIS WILD GOATS.

Emperor Maximilian Was Lucky In Having a Wise Adviser.

Of the great Emperor Maximilian it is told that once when travelling far from home he wore so and an expression that a courtier asked him what affairs of state could cause so much concern. The emperor replied it was not the state but ibex he was thinking of. In his absence he feared a certain poacher, whom he mentioned by name, would make havoc with the herds. Could the courtier propose any preventive?

The astute person thus addressed immediately suggested a letter to the poacher's wife, signed and sealed by the imperial hand and offering her the best silk dress that could be obtained if the emperor's wild goats were not touched during his absence. And such, alas! is the influence of the sex that history hints the bribe was more effective than "all the king's horses and all the king's men" in the way of forest rangers and wood rieves.

Maximilian had a preserve of these animals in the Tyrol near the Aachen sea and has left on record some interesting notes and illustrations of the sport he enjoyed among them. One picture represents him in a boat on a lake assisting to catch an ibex in a large net, which may have been good fun, even if it were scarcely sportsmanlike. It was Maximilian, too, who boasted that on one occasion he killed an ibex at 200 yards with a crossbow when his companion had missed it with a gun. Seeing that the "fire tubes" of the period were about the slowest and most awkward weapons any one could imagine, the feat was scarcely to be wondered at.—London Globe.

END OF THE EARTH.

The Great Tragedy May Be 2,000,000 or 95,000,000 Years Away.

Scientists tell us that life on the earth began about 2,000,000 years ago. It has generally been accepted that life will last for 95,000,000 years.

Ninety-five million years is a fairly long time. None of us who are alive today need worry about what will take place 95,000,000 years hence. Even the most altruistic can scarcely be inspired by love for an inconceivably remote posterity.

But the French savants are altogether disturbing. Here comes one, M. Veronet, who says that the earth will permanently freeze within the next 2,000,000 years and that life will vanish. This is bringing the tragedy nearer home. We would gladly accept the older reckoning.

Veronet places mankind of today about midway between the beginning and the end. He computes that in the future life will exist as long as it has already existed. He specifies only one forty-eight as long a life as those who have studied in the past.

There is only one consolation to be derived from the Veronet reckoning. As far as the influence of today is concerned 2,000,000 years is as good as 95,000,000. In either event those who are comfortably laboring today cannot expect to be lovingly remembered when the cataclysm of ice makes the earth a barren wilderness.—Cleveland Plain Dealer

An Eye to the Future.

The late Wilson Barrett possessed a valuable old dresser who had the good fortune to be built on the same classic lines as Barrett himself, and accordingly inherited his master's cast-off clothes. One day something had upset Barrett at rehearsal, and he lost his temper. Every one stampered out of his way. He strode into his dressing room with flashing eyes, and so in dignant did he feel that he ineffectually dashed his hat with great violence into the corner of the apartment. The faithful dresser, who knew every mood of his master, was quite unperturbed. He merely exclaimed, in bland tones, but with a touch of reproach:

"Here, steady, gov'nor; I've got to wear that some day!"

Francis Bacon.

The death of Francis Bacon was caused by his devotion to the cause of research and scientific investigation. During one of his excursions to the country he conceived the idea that animal substances may be preserved by means of snow. He procured a fowl and conducted the experiment himself. A severe cold was the result, and in his already enfeebled condition he was not able to withstand it and died of what we now know as bronchitis April 9, 1626, aged sixty-five, at the home of Lord Arundel. He was buried in St. Michael's church, St. Albans.

Innuendo.

"Is dem you all's chickens?"
"Chose dey's my all's chickens. Whose chickens did you spose dey was?"

"I wasn't s'posin' nuffin about 'em. But I will say dat it's mighty lucky dat a chicken won't come a-runnin' an' a-wagin' its tail when its regular owner whistles, same as a dog."—Washington Star.

Settlement Work.

"Did you hear about Muggins taking up settlement work?"
"Yes. He usually works his creditors for 50 cents on the dollar."—Town Topics.

One Redeeming Feature.

The fool men have a lot of faults. But, bless their hearts, they don't kiss each other when they meet on the street.—Cincinnati Enquirer.
