A bank chartered and supervised by the State must operate always "within the law." One of the legal requirements is the publication quarterly of a sworn statement of condition. Presbyterian Church Notes

In accord with the proclamation of President Wilson that Sunday, October 4th, be observed by all the citizens of the United States as a day of Prayer for Peace among the European Nations, the Highland Park Presbyterian Church has arranged a special program for next Sunday morning, beginning at eleven o'clock.

The service will open with appropriate musical numbers by the organ and choir, the congregation singing "The Peace Hymn", written by Rev. John Haynes Holmes, to the tune composed by J. B. Dykes, words and music of which will be printed on the program, and will close with the organ rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" the congregation standing. At this service the pastor will preach on the subject of international peace, and the offering will be sent to The Red Cross Society to be used in its work on the battle fields of Europe.

The Vesper service at 4:30 will follow the same general theme of "Peace," a program of which is given in another column of this paper.

This is the eighth time in the history of our country that a President has proclaimed a national day of prayer. On three occasions the people were asked to meet in their places of public worship and prayer for peace between the United States and foreign powers; twice in memory of assassinated presidents, Lincoln and Garfield, and three times to end the war between the states in the 60's. Now for the first time in our history the united prayers of the nation will be offered to the Supreme Power, for the re-establishment of peace between foreign nations. The measure of a nation's faith in God and in prayer will be manifest in the large number of the citizens of our country who will repair to their places of worship next Sunday in response to this splendid appeal of our President and Governor.

Evangelical Luth. Church

There will be special peace services at the church next Sunday morning and evening. On Monday instructions for communion will begin.

in that their drives too often went straight at an opponent.

For five innings the west siders hammered Ochsner in lively fashion, but in the sixth the Crescent hurler settled down and thereafter the attack of the men from below the hump became much feebleness. The nine-run lead the Regulars held at that stage of the game probably had something to do with their let down, nevertheless, it was plain that Ochsner's delivery was becoming more difficult to solve.

Greenslade's offerings suited the Crescents just fine, and the south side batters were meeting the ball squarely throughout the game. They came dangerously near, towards the end of the contest, to causing the substitution of fresh artillery.

Loose fielding was again the bane of the losers, miscues, a couple of double-barrelled ones, presenting the Regulars with five of their nine runs. Another alibi—the standing of so many of Finn's warriors on the bases.

Stock and Cronin of the Crescents and Duffy, Reed and Collins of the Regulars were the swell hitters of the day. Richards, the south siders' short fielder, was in a class by himself on the defense. He put up a beautiful exhibition of short-stopping.

Willy—You see, it was this way. They were all three so dead in love with her and all so eligible that to settle the matter she agreed to marry the one who should guess the nearest to her age. Arthur—And did she? Willy—I don't know. I know that she married the one who guessed the lowest.

"I am not at all certain," said the father, "that my daughter loves you sufficiently to warrant me in intrusting her to your keeping for life."
"Well," replied the young man, "perhaps you haven't had the same advantages for observing things that I have."

How many successful men do you know of that started on their road to prosperity as a Senographer: George W. Perkins, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, George B. Cortelyou, William E. Mason, Chas. M. Hayes, and many other great men began life as a Stenographer.

The Stenographer has opportunities to learn more about the business than any other employee because he is next to the boss. He learns all the ins and outs as he writes the letters, and has the confidence of the "man higher up." The man who stands closest to the boss is the first one promoted.

Anyone with a grammar school education can learn Stenography by our simple method of instruction. The system of shorthand we teach is the most widely known and used system in the country. WHAT IS YOUR OPINION

Of the perfect all-fuel stove? Wouldn't it be one that burnt hard coal, soft coal, coke, or wood economically, without any change in its construction? Wouldn't it be one that would be air tight—hold fire forty-eight hours? What more could you ask?

Almost any kind of stove heats, if you burn enough fuel, but fuel costs money. Exhaustive search and comparison fixed our choice on the ROUND OAK FOLKS, manufacturers of the Genuine Round Oak stoves, and on their "Double Burner," as representatives of our IDEAL in stove construction. Here is a stove manufacturer that knows, and a stove that gets RESULTS. Burns, most successfully and with greater economy, all fuel. Is air-tight for life; perfect in control; ideal floor warmer; handsome, symmetrical, pleasing to the eye, and, in our judgment, so nearly perfect that it has our unqualified recommendation. It's a proved success. Your personal investigation is urged. Have one set up in your home this season.

bill authorizes no new sites for public buildings and authorizes no new buildings but is confined to provisions for continuing contracts on projects now in course of construction, another forty or fifty million dollars can be saved.

Another thing, although bills have been passed making appropriations for the fiscal year there is no law compelling the departments to spend the total amounts appropriated. Even the proponents of many large appropriations would have pared them down to the extent of millions of dollars if they could have looked into the future. Events that were unknown and in the future when the appropriations were made are conditions of the present. Economics necessitated by these conditions can be practiced by the departments, notwithstanding the appropriations.

We have a general fund balance in the Treasury amounting to about $119,000,000 of which $75,000,000 is on deposit in the National banks on call. It is said that the withdrawal of that money from the banks now would disturb business. Doubtless it would if the banks were called on to return it all now. But if it were recalled by the Government gradually and put back in the Treasury, business would not be disturbed and the end sought would be reached. Certainly there is no justification for the raising of additional revenue by taxation for the purpose of maintaining deposits in national banks. These are the reasons why it seemed to me the passage of this War Tax Bill, proposing the raising of $105,000,000 in additional revenue, through the taxes specified in the bill, was not required.

has been made in squeezing the "pork" out of the Rivers and Harbors Bill (provided it stays squeezed out). Another step in the right direction can be made not passing the so-called shipping bill. If that bill is not passed the Government Treasury will be spared an expenditure of forty million dollars. This furnishes a reason against the passage of that bill in addition to those I mentioned in one of those letters several weeks ago. A Public Buildings Bill is contemplated for the next session of Congress. If that
