

Patronizing Home Industry

If you can purchase an article in Chicago of superior quality and at less cost. You have good reason for not patronizing Home Trade.

It is true that there are certain things which the storekeeper out here can't afford to carry nor has he a chance to display as large stock in certain lines to select from.

On the other hand a majority of the necessities as well as luxuries pertaining to our daily life are every bit as well bought at home and every good citizen should try to favor the men in business of our town.

Every dollar spent at home will help to make Highland Park more prosperous and that means a benefit to everybody living here.

Every business man out here working hard to please is deserving of patronage. If he succeeds and business is good, he will be able to pay a decent wage to those helping him, their children and his own will have a better chance in educating and preparing themselves for life, better houses to live in, better schools, better streets, more playgrounds and better environments for us all. These and a lot more good things go hand in hand with the prosperous storekeeper of the small town.

It isn't a matter of charity or sympathy that should prompt us to deal at Home, but rather for everybody to look upon as a privilege and fact to be proud of to buy at home whenever possible.

All of us ought to come in personal touch with every store keeper, we should get acquainted, encourage them and show our appreciation for every effort on their part to please us. It is that which makes us think well of our Home Town. Not live like strangers in the community and complain about how much cheaper things can be bought for elsewhere, without even giving the man at home a chance to figure on our wants, or ascertain if he carries what we want.

You ask where Bahr's "ad" comes in? Right here—We carry as fine a stock of Hardy Plants, Shrubs, and Flowering Bulbs as can be found anywhere. Our Phlox, Peonias and other Hardy Plants are not little dried up Plants packed in a small box and shipped many miles, but large Field Plants, which will give you flowers next summer if planted this fall.

What about the cost? You have to pay for good stock no matter where you go. We will meet the prices of any known house and no extra charge for helping you plan what to do, lay out the Beds or Borders so as to get the best effect. We live right here in town, your interests are ours, when we please you it means that you and us as well as the whole town is benefited by it. With this end in view we are constantly on the lookout for the latest and best in our line, working hard to render most efficient service at a minimum cost to you and advertise to let you know about it.

Nail Holes in Wood.
Old nail holes in wood may be filled up by mixing sawdust with glue till it is the consistency of stiff paste. Press this compound into the holes, and it will become as hard as the wood itself.

Early Impressions.
Early impressions are not easily erased. The virgin wax is faithful to the signet, and subsequent impressions seem rather to indent the former ones than to eradicate them.

Lost Precation.
