Deerfield News Items

Solomon in all his glory never enjoyed himself any more than did the hundreds of little children and I don't know but that the grown ups were equally amused, when they visited Santa Claus at the C. Antes Scns store. As early as one o'clock the children began to congregate and patiently awaited for Santa. Each little girl and boy in their turn would tell Santa their wishes and he wrote it down in his book. Every child was presented with a box of candy.

Mr. Reichelt, Jr., who was so severely injured by a fall two weeks ago, is suffering intensely. A vertebra and two pelvic bones were fractured.

The program committee, who had charge of the Christmas program in the Presbyterian Church gave a most excellent one. The Beginners class had a little song "Following the Star" the Junior girls represented Chinese, Mexican Arabian Indian and Esquimaux maidens in costume pleading with an American girl for little of her Christmas. Granny Weaver's Christmas was portrayed by the Intermediate boys with Miss Mamie Weasing as Granny. A most charming dialogue by the girls in the costume of the seasons was given by Dorothy Supple as Spring, Susie Easton as Summer, Mildred Beckman as Autumn and Mildred Biederstadt as Winter. Lora Peterson was Queen. A cantata, "The Spirit of Yuletide" was rendered by a large number of the pupils. A playlet "The Gift of Gifts", under the direction of Miss Emilie Knaak concluded the program. Elfrida Knaak was the princess and Elizabeth Reichelt the Shepherd maiden and the three kings were represented by Edward Therrien, Warren Pettis and Ralph Peterson and the shepherds were Elmer Therrien, Ethan Willman and Clarence Huhn. The chorus of angels gave a fitting climax to the dramatization.
