D. A. R. Notes

An unusually fine, clear cut bas-relief, was presented to the Ravinia school on Friday afternoon, February twenty-sixth, by the North Shore Chapter of the D. A. R., as a memorial to Iola Lamar Munroe Fearing, wife of Mr. Joseph Fearing, who died last October. Mrs. Fearing was a prominent member of the North Shore Chapter D. A. R., holding various offices and was vice-regent of the Chapter at the time of her death. The exercises attending the presentation, were impressive; the school children sang very sweetly with Mrs. Ralph Fletcher Seymour as accompanist. Miss Stone, principal of the school, briefly outlined the work of Mrs. Fearing for the school. Mrs. Gordon Buchanan, Regent of the Chapter, made the presentation speech, dwelling lovingly on Mrs. Fearing's high qualities. Mr. C. G. Wright, superintendent of Ravinia school, accepted the picture for the school. Mrs. George Nichols sang a beautiful arrangement of the hymn, "The King of Love, My Shepherd is," by Gounod, then a silent prayer, followed by a song by the pupils. All adjourned for another view of the bas-relief, hung in the main hall. It is a replica of Guido Reni's famous painting of Aurora, which is on the ceiling of the Rospigliosi palace in Rome. Mrs. Joseph Leaming was chairman of the D. A. R. committee for this memorial, and it was due to her efforts that this exceptionally good piece of art was secured.

Y. W. C. A. News

Instrumental solos were given by the Misses Bessie Sal-yards and Helen Nichols, each played very nicely and show promise of future ability. Mrs. Frank Green then read in her own inimitable manner "Mirrors on Keeping Young" by Dorothy Dix, which brought forth many expressions of keen enjoyment. To this she added two original selections entitled "A Protest" and "Gretchen's Experience," both of which added to the delight of her audience. Miss Mildred Thayer then sang with much sweetness and expression, Sunbeams, Perfect Day, and May Morning. Mrs. James Watson accompanying her. Miss Thayer has a most charming voice and her songs were greatly appreciated by the club. After the program, light refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed. These club meetings are the source of mutual pleasure to the ladies and the Y. W. C. A.

Elm Place School

The pupils of the upper grade history department dramatized two scenes from American History on last Thursday afternoon and evening. The one representing the presentation of Richard Henry Lee's famous resolutions of the second continental congress and the debate on resolutions and the other the debate over the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and the former act of signing the declaration. Forty or more pupils took part in the scenes and each appeared in a costume of revolutionary times. The debates were taken from the historical records and a number of little instances preserved of that occasion were reproduced. The pupils had memorized the long speeches very well and gave them with good effect. The stage pictures were beautiful. In the last scene a group of excited citizens came in from the street and pulled down the king's arms and hustled a protesting tory or two out of the room with realistic zeal. The scene closed with the pupils reproducing the favorite minuet of colonial times. The work was all done under Mr. Grunewald's supervision with the assistance of members of the teaching staff and a number of interested patrons and they are to be congratulated upon the great value and success of their efforts.
