A RARE DECORATION.

Austria's Grand Cross of the Order of Maria Theresa.

The grand cross of the order of Maria Theresa is today one of the most exclusive as well as one of the most brilliant of surviving orders. It was founded by the great empress of that name in 1767 in honor of the victory of her troops over Frederick the Great at Kolin. Its members are elected by ballot on the part of the chapter, the sovereign having no voice in the matter unless he happens to possess the order, although he is the instrument of its bestowal and the signer of the patent.

In the past hundred years, until August, 1914, only fifty-eight members had been thus admitted to the order, and at the beginning of the war in 1914 there were but three knights left, all of the third and lowest class. One was the Emperor Francis Joseph, who won the cross in 1848 on the battlefield of Santa Lucia against the Italians. The second was the Duke of Cumberland, father of the sovereign Duke of Brunswick, who received the cross for gallantry at the battle of Langensalza, where as crown prince of Hanover he helped his father, the blind King George, to direct the operations of his troops. The third was Prince Alphonse de Bourbon, claimant to the throne of the two Sicilies and popularly known as the Count of Caserta. He won his cross by the part he played in the superb defense of Gaeta, the last stronghold of the Bourbons.

The eldest son of the holder of this coveted decoration is entitled to free education in Austria's military academy.—Argonaut.

HOUDON, THE SCULPTOR.

Known in This Country Mainly by His Statue of Washington.

Since the days of the cathedral builders France has never been without great masters of the chisel. Traditions and an ever accumulating skill have been passed on as from father to son through generations immemorial. With all that "apostolic succession" of genius we of another race are strangely unfamiliar. One name, however, we associate with that of our first president, and for this reason, and not because Jean Antoine Houdon was the leading sculptor of his time, is he sometimes mentioned in the United States.

As the "first sculptor of his day" Houdon was invited in 1784 by Thomas Jefferson, representing the state of Virginia, to make a statue of General Washington. On July 28, 1785, the sculptor with three assistants sailed in the company of Benjamin Franklin from Southampton, bound for Philadelphia. The journey required nearly two months and Houdon did not arrive at Mount Vernon until Oct. 2.

Two weeks were occupied in modeling the bust, making a life mask, and taking many measurements, with all of which the artist departed rejoicing, and, thanks to the rapid ocean service of the time, was home again on Christmas day.

The result of this trip was the notable marble which stands in the state house at Richmond, our most trustworthy portrait of the first president.—Scribner's.

The Popular Craze.

"Sir," said the young man. "I want to marry your daughter."

"You do, eh? What have you got to offer?"

"Myself, which includes a fair education, a good state of health, a reasonable amount of ambition, a creditable appearance, a modest salary and a strong desire to come into your office and get useful."

The older man shook his head.

"Not enough. Times are too hard. I can't afford a wedding."

The young man smiled.

"Now for my trump card," he said.

"Everybody is eloping. We will elope and save the expense."

The old man caught his hand.

"She's yours, son; she's yours!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vegetable Chat.

"I see that some college professor has been saying that he believes that vegetables can see and hear while growing in the garden."

"Is that so?"

"Yes; not only that, but he believes that ages hence they will be able to converse with one another."

"Oh, that's old!"

"What's old?"

"Vegetables conversing. I've often heard 'Jack and the Beans-talk!'"

Nearly All.

First Diner (trying to break the monotony of delay)—Do you believe that all things come to him who waits?

Second Diner—I'm working on that theory anyhow. Some time ago I ordered a plate of hash.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Tight.

"Doppel hates to spend money."

"I'll tell you how much. If it were possible to take gas every time he parts with a dollar he'd take it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Analogy.

"Papa, what is a political boss?"

"Well, son, all you have to do is to think of how your mother would run the whole city."—Life.

Acting Only.

Mr. Bacon—Well, I try to act like a gentleman anyhow. Mrs. Bacon—Oh, yes, you're a very good actor!—Yonkers Statesman.

Y. W. C. A. News

Saturday evening Miss Alice De Young a Y. W. C. A. member gave a party for her friends in the Association Rooms. The decorations were red tulips and roses. The birthday cake with its supply of candles and the dainty favors and place cards all contributed to make a very attractive table. A three piece orchestra furnished music for the dancing. The guests were all from Kenilworth.

Tuesday evening May 4th occurred the monthly Mothers Club meeting.

The rooms were prettily decorated with spring flowers. The address of the evening was given by Prof. McNutt, the Biology Instructor of the Deerfield-Shields High School, on "Milk and Infant Mortality" illustrated with stereoscopic views. The lecture was very instructive and was listened to with undivided attention bringing to the hearers a great deal of valuable information. The thanks of the Club and the Association are due Prof. McNutt for his efforts on Tuesday evening. Miss Estelle Clark charmed with several vocal selections that were very much appreciated. Miss Elsie Blomdahl assisted on the program with two instrumental solos that showed her ability in that line. Light refreshments were served.

Miss Olivia Goeltz is our new Camp Fire Guardian, and we feel sure that the new group will succeed under her direction. This makes four Camp Fire groups up to date and with our plans for out door work for the coming summer, we shall be able to keep them all interested.

The Friendship Club gave a May party Thursday evening in the Association rooms.

The Association rooms were given over to the W. C. T. U. Wednesday when the latter had their county convention. Lunch was served at noon and an all day session was held. Mrs. John Christman the Highland Park president of the W. C. T. U. presided. Mrs. H. C. Hall a National worker was present and had charge of the meeting.

First United Evan. Church

Evangelist Ludgate is winning his way into the hearts of the people as may be seen by the increasing interest and attendance. Last Sunday evening the evangelist drew the net for the first time and ten persons yielded their lives to Christ. Monday night, though stormy, found a fine crowd and a number of decisions were made for Christ.

The afternoon bible study of "The Sermon on the Mount" are greatly enjoyed. Dr. Ludgate is thoroughly acquainted with his bible and makes the study both interesting and instructive. He has a keen sense of humor and introduces just enough to make his subjects interesting and to fix the thought in the minds of his hearers.

The subjects to be presented in the Sunday services are: 10:30 a. m., "How Christians may know they are growing in grace." 3:00 p. m., "Praise and Testimony Meeting." 7:30 p. m., "The Man without a dress suit." The chorus choir led by the evangelist and supported by the large congregations singing the "Familiar Songs of the Gospel" affords an hour of real pleasure and inspiration. The evangelist sings solos at each service accompanied by his "Little Silver Concertina." The public is cordially invited to all services.

J. F. VAN EVERA, Pastor.

Baptist Church Notes

There was a large attendance at the Baptist Church last Sunday night at the special evangelistic service. There was preceding the service a 15 minute prelude when there were several harp selections by Miss Marjorie Thompson.

Evangelist Thompson sang "Serving the Lord in my Weak Way" "Beckoning Hands" and other songs. He spoke on "The Two Appointments," taking his text from Hebrews "It is Appointed Unto Man Once to Die, and After That the Judgment." "Both experiences are observable in process now. Men are fully aware of the approach of death. Nobody has or can escape that experience. Rank and station and excellence will not excuse one from dying. "Poverty and obscurity must meet death." But there is another great fact ahead, judgment. That will be a great union meeting. Everybody will enter into judgment: it is felt to be true, here and now. Some day the shutter of the camera will be snapped shut, and the portrait of the life fixed, forever.
