Overland that will be produced

The Newest Overland $325 Less than Last Year

The 1916 Overland is essentially the same as the 1915 Overland—the famous Model 80 that sold for $1075.

But the price is $325 less. The stream-line body is the same as the $1075 model of last season.

It has the same magnificent finish; that deep, rich tone of dark Brewster green with fine hairline striping of clear ivory-white.

It has the same powerful, economical thirty-five horsepower, four-cylinder motor, but weighs less.

It has high-tension magneto ignition.

It has the same underslung rear springs. It has the convenient arrangement of electric control buttons on the steering column.

It has the same easy-working clutch which any woman can operate; the same "easy to handle" shifting levers; the same "easy to steer with" wheel; the same positive brakes.

It has 33 in. x 4 in. tires which is unusual on a car at this price.

In detail, finish, mechanical fineness, comforts and conveniences, this newest Overland gives you all there was in the $1075 Overland and even more power.

And it cost you but $750—$325 less than last season's large 35 horsepower Overland.

Deliveries are being made now all over the country.

CATARACT OF THE EYE.

It May Come at Any Time of Life, and its Goal is Blindness.

Cataract is an opacity of the crystalline lens caused by interference with its nutrition. As the rays of light cannot penetrate this opaque matter it results in blindness. A cataract may come at any time of life, but is most apt to come in old age, when senile changes take place in all parts of the body.

A cataract may be caused by changes in the eye before birth. Children are born with a cataract. It may be caused by changes during childhood, by disease or injury, by excessive and persistent light and heat and by many other causes. Glassblowers are subject to it, X-ray workers, sufferers from diabetes and many others. It may be a primary disease or it may be secondary to other diseases.

It is often very successfully treated by operation, particularly in the aged, the lens or lens and its capsule being removed. The development of cataract is sometimes very rapid; especially after injury, but in the aged it takes place slowly, sometimes requiring years before blindness results. The operation is not usually done until the cataract is mature or ripe. An earlier operation frequently militates against a successful result.—Philadelphia Record.

DEGREES OF COOKING.

What is Meant by Rare, Medium and Well Done Meat.

Perhaps a word may be said about the degree of cooking, as indicated by the words rare, medium and well done, used in reference to the cooking of meat.

Some people interpret "rare" as meaning meat seared a little on the outside, but with the whole interior raw. This is far from a correct interpretation. The albumen should be coagulated, the fibers really cooked, but the juice may be yet red or pink. In "medium" there is still some pink left in the meat, though the red color has left the juice, while well done means no pink color in either juice or fiber, but not the stringy, overcooked, tasteless product, so often served as "well done" meat. The quantity and kind of meat used by any family depends upon its living habits, its appreciation of good values and the money available for food. The excessive use of meat is an unwise expenditure of money as well as an unnecessary tax upon the kidneys and liver, but in any case the preparation of it is a most important factor.—Woman's World.

A Shot That Made a Double.

An old incident happened in the last century that nearly caused serious international complications. An American man, paying a visit to Copenhagen, amused the governor by an exhibition of his skill with the rifle. Sitting on the veranda of the government house, he said that he would cut with a bullet the signal between the flagstaff of the fort and the Danish standard to the ground. As the lines were almost invisible, the distance the governor was going to bet that he could not do it. The shot rang out, and the flag fell, presently a horseman dashed up, carrying the governor that some one had fired on the flag. There was great excitement. The governor, none the less, remained calm, with the military salute. The affair was a joke in which he remained. Report being made to Copenhagen, highly colored, of course, by the commandant, his policy was summarily removed.

Dandelion.

The dandelion is an excellent plant. It is most excellently adapted to its job of keeping alive the earth. Except in early spring its leaves are too bitter to be eaten by man or by animals. They lie flat on the earth so that grazing beasts may feed on them without killing the plant. The roots take strong hold. The elastic stem which bears the blossom is determined by the weight of the other vegetation in which the dandelion finds itself. On a well-cropped lawn the dandelion's stem is tall grass it reaches upward toward the sun. Its seeds fly high and far on every breeze. The dandelion will raise a series of seed crops extending up almost to the first snow.—Detroit News.
