Trial by Jury.
The New York Law Journal says on the subject of trial by jury:
"While we do not think that trial by jury ought to be abolished or that there is any increasing sentiment in that direction, we do believe that the system should be modified by dispensing with the requirement for unanimous verdicts. This would obviate the element of individual eccentricity as an impediment to the administration of justice. Mental idiosyncrasy on the part of judges is constantly exhibited and scarcely excites comment. An eminent and very able judge will dissent from the ruling of his associates when it is extremely difficult to understand how so gifted a mind could have gone off on that particular tangent. By permitting affirmances or reversals, notwithstanding dissent, the personal equation is eliminated."

Modeled After an Ancient Tomb.
The temple of the Scottish rite in Washington is a handsome white marble structure about 150 feet square and rises to a height of 150 feet above the street level. At either side of the main entrance is an immense marble sphinx. A row of tall Ionic columns surrounds the second story. The architects followed closely the design of the ancient tomb of King Mausolus, which stood in Halicarnassus and was one of the seven wonders of the world. It was built by the wife of the king and was decorated with hundreds of wonderful statues. This old tomb became so famous that many buildings were modeled after it, but this is the only structure in America in which the design has been used.

Where Shell Bracelets Come From.
Though Durca has lost its trade in the mollusks, it is still the chief center of the manufacture of the shell bracelets everywhere worn among the Hindus. These are cut by women, using a very primitive saw, from what is popularly known as the chank shell of the East Indian sea, and into the sunk portion of the design colored lac is melted. Except the rare specimens with reversed opening, which have fetched as much as $70, chanks are not costly. But the shell is sacred to Vishnu, and the bracelets and anklets made from it are frequently left on the body at burial. Thus these mollusks are not entirely subject to fluctuations of taste, and the demand for them remains steady.—London Chronicle.

Canny Scot!
"I say, Sandy, mon," said Jack, handing back his friend's photograph, "when ye had those photos taken, why didn't ye smile?"
"And those pictures costin me $2 a dozen," replied Sandy. "Are ye crazy, mon?" Woman's Home Companion.
