English Military Offense.
There are more than a dozen different offenses for which a soldier may be sentenced to death while on active service. The first on the list of death offenses applies to a commanding officer and reads, "Shamefully delivering up a garrison when in command of troops, without due necessity—punishment, death." A soldier can be shot for throwing away his rifle or sword in the presence of the enemy, for cowardice or for leaving his commanding officer in order to plunder. If he forces his way past a sentry on active service he may be sentenced to death or for assaulting any one bringing on provisions for the troops. A soldier is expressly forbidden while on active service to commit any offense against a resident of the country in which he is fighting under pain of death, nor may he break into any house in search of plunder or discharge his rifle intentionally to create a false alarm on the march. A soldier while acting as sentry who is found sleeping at his post may be shot. Any man causing or joining in a mutiny is liable to be shot. Desertion or attempt at desertion while on active service is naturally a death offense.—London Opinion.

Dreams.

What is the purpose of dreams? Dr. Isador H. Coriat answers the question thus in "The Meaning of Dreams":
It can be shown through dream analysis that dreams subserve a definite function in our mental life in that they really act as protectors and not as disturbers of sleep. This guardianship of sleep by means of dreams is due to the persistent dynamic action of the censor. In sleep the censor is exceedingly active, and its function is to protect sleep from the mass of repressed emotions which threaten to overwhelm the sleeper in the shape of a dream. This is done by means of the dream mechanisms, in which the dream thoughts are fused and displayed, thus undergoing such disguise and symbolization as to be unrecognizable to the sleeper and consequently not disturbing to him. When the censor nods or is evaded, when the literal dream thoughts bombard and invade consciousness in an undisguised form, sleep is disturbed and insomnia results.

Benjamin Harrison.

"Do you think," Benjamin Harrison once asked Louis T. Michener, his campaign manager, "that I am a cold man?"

"I don't think so," General Michener answered, emphasizing the pronoun, "because I am acquainted with you, but persons do say that I am the only living man who hasn't been chilled by a Harrison cold blast. I understand your habits and your moods, and when you pass me in the street and don't speak to me I know the reason."

"Well," Harrison replied, "I do get into a subject when I am thinking about it and at such times may seem a little blind and distant."

"But Benjamin Harrison," General Michener told the writer of this article, "was not a cold man. No man is cold whom children and dogs love, and all the children and dogs of Indianapolis knew Benjamin Harrison. He saw them always, and they saw him."
—New York Sun.

Agate and Onyx.

The distinction between agate and onyx is not apparent to every one, as is indicated by the samples of the two minerals received by the United States geological survey with requests for information. Onyx marble, or Mexican onyx, is composed of calcium carbonate or banded limestone. True agate is a variety of silica. Onyx marble is much softer than agate, and is rarely used for gems, but when onyx is obtained in pieces of sufficient size it is cut and polished for small ornamental objects like inkstands and paper weights, as well as for table tops and soda water fountains.

Trick of the Smugglers.

Russia was once overrun with counterfeit notes. The police felt certain that the notes were imported, which proved to be the case. One day an accident solved the mystery. Some packages of lead pencils arrived there from England, and, while examining, one of the pencils fell out. On sharpening it to use the customs officer was surprised to find the lead but a short piece, while the inner portion was hollow and contained a counterfeit note.

Not Worth Quarreling Over.

"Dubbs and his wife never have any arguments about money matters."
"How fortunate?"
"Yes, Mrs. Dubbs says that a mere trifle like Dubbs' salary should not be allowed to come between them, so she takes it all."
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Buying "on Tick."

Buying "on tick" is not new slang, but goes back to the seventeenth century. It is stated in a letter dated 1661, "The Mermaid tavern is lately broke, our ticks amounting to £1,500." And in another document a little later it is said, "Every one runs upon tick."

Just So.

"The doctor knows I hate campbor."
"So?"
"Yet first he made me sniff it, and now he has prescribed it as a liniment."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Fashion Demand.

"What's become of that new car you bought last month?"
"I'm having it repainted. My wife's got a new gown, and it doesn't match."
—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

A Curious Lake.

Selawik is a curious lake near the coast of Alaska. Tides rise and fall in the lake by reason of an underground connection with the sea. At the bottom the water is quite salt, but at the top there is a layer of perfectly fresh water.
