

Money at Interest Works while You Sleep

Like the rising and setting sun, like the beatings of the heart, like the ebb and flow of the ocean tide, money at interest is "always on the job." Whether you are sick or well, busy or idle, awake or asleep, that money of yours at interest is working, producing, accumulating.

Our new folder, showing the remarkable growth of periodical deposits at interest, is worthy of your attention and study. Please ask for one at the

Exmoor Club Notes

The usual Saturday dinner-dance was attended by a large number of guests on Saturday evening.

The golf results for Saturday are: 18-hole medal play scratch, winner, T. R. Wyles 83, and in the 18-hole match play against bogey, the winner in class B, A. C. Barnes, seven up, and in class C and D, W. G. Keene, eight up.

Those entertaining at dinner parties at Exmoor Saturday evening were: Mr. F. H. Stanwood, Miss Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Frey, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Vail, Mr. F. P. Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clements, Miss Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Turbell, Mr. and Mrs. Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. E. Tyner, Mr. Joseph Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wyles.

Yesterday was the field day at the club with a mixed foursome for members only, and a general frolic all day, winding up with a fish dinner and dancing in the evening.

Baptist Church Notes

The regular Sunday evening services with harp recitals preceding, will be resumed on September fifth. These services begin at seven forty-five and a cordial welcome to attend is given to all.

The Baptist Sunday school held its annual picnic on Friday and all enjoyed a pleasant day. The special car, decorated with a large banner bearing the name of the church, left here at ten o'clock and made its first stop at the Naval Training Station for two hours where the people enjoyed a trip through the station. Later the car went to Foss Park where games, picnic lunch and base ball held the attention of everyone. There were games of base ball for men and for women and a general good time was reported by everyone.

On Thursday afternoon of next week Mrs. Robert Greig of Ravinia will entertain the Missionary Society at her home.

The young people's meeting of Sunday evening was of special interest and was well attended.

Highland Park Woman's Club

Mrs. Henry W. Boyd of 445 Laurel Ave., was hostess on Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Silver Social series at which a large number of ladies was present.

Mrs. John A. Pulnam read an interesting piece, "Gathering Wild Arbutus," by Mrs. Baldwin of Chicago, who wrote the piece for the Fortnightly Club of Chicago, twenty years ago. Mrs. Carleton Vail sang "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," by Cadman; an Irish folk song, by Arthur Foote, and "The Awakening," by Mrs. A. O. Mason. Refreshments were served. Although this was to have been the last of the series, on account of the popularity of them, the club members decided to hold one more, to be given at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Smith of Maple Ave., concerning which no other notice is to be sent out.

First United Evan. Church

There will be no services held in the church on Sunday, August 29th on account of the improvements being made on the interior of the building.

The regular mid-week prayer service will be held in the church basement on Wednesday evening, Sept. 1st, followed by the monthly business meeting of the C. E. Society.

On Sunday, Sept. 5th, the Sunday school will have a rally day and each scholar is requested to be present on time. Judge V. V. Barnes of Zion City will address the congregation at the evening service.

The Barrington camp meeting will continue over Monday, Aug. 30th. The meetings are all well attended. Last Saturday thirteen Highland Park people answered roll call at the K. L. C. E. rally. At this meeting Dan. Betey spoke of his life and his mission in Chicago. Next Saturday will be men's day and Rev. Erdman of Allentown, Pa., will speak. Rev. Erdman will also preach on Sunday.

Obituary

Mrs. Ann K. Welch died at the home of her son, John W. Welch, W. Park Ave., Saturday morning after an illness of several weeks. She leaves surviving her two sons, Attorney James G. Welch of Waukegan, and Attorney John W. Welch of this city, and a daughter, Miss Anna Welch of Chicago.

Mrs. Welch was a native of Headford, Galway County, Ireland, where she was born in 1848. She migrated to the United States in 1861. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church and was a devoted Christian woman.

The funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Welch's son, John W. Welch, at 215 W. Park Ave. at 4 p. m., Sunday. Interment occurred at Schoolcraft, Mich., Monday afternoon, Aug. 23.

INDIAN SUMMER.

The Term May Have Had Its Origin in the Far East.

The origin of the term "Indian summer," like that of the word "blizzard," has been the subject of much research. It has been traced back only as far as the latter part of the eighteenth century, and it did not become common until after the first decade of the nineteenth.

Many explanations of the name have been offered, all of which assume that the term "Indian" used in this connection refers to the American Indians.

A recent note in the Monthly Weather Review calls attention to a totally different use of this term, in which the reference is not to the American Indians, but to East India.

Under the British board of trade regulations one of the load line markings on ships bears the initials "I. S." this being the maximum depth to which vessels can be loaded for voyages during the "Indian summer"—i. e. the fine season in the Indian seas.

How long has the term "Indian summer" been used in this sense? It is not recorded in any dictionary nor apparently in any work on meteorology. Is it possible that our antinatal Indian summer was so named by sailors or travelers who saw in it a resemblance to the fine weather attending the northeast monsoon in India?
