Highland Park Woman's Club

The last meeting of the Silver Social series was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Smith of Maple Ave. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the club members present. Mrs. William Plant entertained the guests by the following readings rendered in a delightful manner: "The Lie," by A. H. Donnell; "The Delegation," by Emerson Porter Browne, and "The Story of Patsy," by Kate Douglas Wiggin. After refreshments the meeting adjourned. These meetings have been very popular, as evidenced by the enthusiasm and enjoyment of those attending them. In fact they have exceeded in attendance and interest, the expectation of those who planned them. The committee in charge of this series of meetings wishes to extend its sincere and hearty thanks to all those whose efforts have contributed so generously to the general pleasure and entertainment of all during the summer.
