Baptist Church Notes

Evangelist Thompson preached to an increased audience both morning and evening. The morning sermon was on "Obedience." The evangelist said: "This was the question in the Garden of Eden. It was a question of obedience. This was the question with the children of Israel. When they obeyed, God it was victory; when they disobeyed God, it was wilderness and defeat. The first king of Israel, Saul, toppled from his throne because of disobedience. He thought that sacrifice would take the place of obedience." Toward the end of the sermon the evangelist answered some excuses people give for not being baptized.

The evening sermon was from the text, "And they made light of it." There were several solos with harp accompaniment, and harp solo.

There are three more Sundays before Evangelist Thompson will be gone for a couple of weeks to conduct meetings at South Bend, Ind. The pulpit will be filled during his absence. The interest in the work is increasing. One of the best services is the weekly prayer meeting on Wednesday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. The attendance has continued to be the best in years.

Mrs. L. J. Rice will entertain the Kensington at her home, 120 Onwentsia Ave., Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

The floor has been covered with linoleum, while screens, cots, chairs, a new lavatory, and other additions have made the room very comfortable. The English club room has been papered with a tapestry paper which is a beautiful decoration. In the center of the room stands the fumed oak table given by the class of 1915.
