INCENDIARY BOMBS.

These Missiles of Fire and Fumes Are Loaded With Thermit.

incendiary bombs differ from ordinary explosive bombs in that they are intended not to scatter fragments over a wide area, but to produce sudden and intense heat at a given point, thus starting a Berce conflagration.

W. A. Tilden describes in Nature one of these bombs. His account is as follows:

The bomb, as a rule, is conical, of ten inches diameter at the base, corded round and has a metal handle at the containing money. Owner may have apex. The base is a flat cup, on to same by calling at North Shore Trust which a pierced metal funnel is fitted, as having the ignition device and handle fitted at the top.
