

Thanksgiving Flowers

Your Thanksgiving Day is not complete without Flowers. Whether you use them for the dining room table or elsewhere around the Home.

There is nothing you can do which will make the Home look more cheerful and more festive than a few Posies.

Cut down a little on the Stuffed Turkey with the brown gravy and the heavy as lead Plum Pudding. Pay a little more attention to the Centerpiece of beautiful Flowers and the wonderful fruit we are blessed with, the whole family will be the better for it.

Maybe you are away from the loved ones or would like to send a few Flowers to a dear one far off somewhere. We will do it for you and on short notice.

Belonging to the National Florist's Telegraph Delivery Association we have representatives in every city of U. S. who will attend to our orders promptly and absolutely satisfactory.

Maybe you want to surprise Her with something on Thanksgiving Morn -- listen -- the Thanksgiving Spirit whispers, "Send Her Flowers". There is nothing which will be more appreciated by mother or sweetheart, wife or daughter than a few flowers.

Maybe you have some one who will have to spend the day in the Sick Room. Imagine the delight when opening a box of Bahr's Silver Medal Flowers with your card in it.

Oh, what a wonderful change we could bring about in this old world if we would encourage the use of Flowers more, if we would send them while People are still alive to enjoy their beauty, fragrance and loveliness.

Why not get into the habit now? Why not start the coming Thanksgiving to make some one happy with just a few Posies? Spread sunshine, gladness and good cheer, let it be a real Thanksgiving Day for yourself and a lot of others.

First Visit of Winter
Highland Park had its first touch of winter Sunday when the thermometer started on its downward trip and did not stop until Monday when it reached the 12 above zero mark. The cold wave was accompanied with a light snow which reminded the wearers of the "B. Y. D.'s" that a great change must soon take place.

LIFE ON SWAN ISLAND.

Probably the World's Most Isolated Wireless Station.

On Swan Island, in the Caribbean sea, is situated what is probably the most isolated wireless station in the world. The station crew is made up of three operators, two engineers, a cook, a machinist and three laborers.

No women are permitted to land on the island. Men who express a willingness to go to Swan Island are obliged to sign a contract whereby they agree to remain at least eighteen months or waive their right to free return transportation. Those remaining the full period of service are returned to their homes by way of one of the Central American ports and are granted six weeks' vacation with full pay.

Strangely enough, there is no difficulty in obtaining men to man the station. Applicants, indeed, exceed the number of vacancies. Board and lodging, of course, are supplied, a boat bearing all provisions necessary, including fresh meat, and the mail as well, arriving regularly every two weeks. Some men have remained on the island as long as two years and a half and, subsequently, have been glad to return to the station. Philadelphia Record.

Six Follies of Science.

The six follies of science are the squaring of the circle, perpetual motion, the philosopher's stone, the elixir of life, magic and astrology.

In all ages men of undoubted ability have toiled early and late to unravel the mysteries supposed to be connected with these fascinating problems. It is not always remembered that such illustrious names as Bacon, Sir Robert Boyle and Sir Isaac Newton sought the philosopher's stone. In the study of astrology Lilly was for a time even pensioned by parliament.

Most of these "follies" conferred in direct benefits upon science, for in seeking one thing their devotees discovered many another. The crane for the secret, or unknown, has still its hold upon men and is seen in palmistry and kindred cults. Exchange.

Cactuses of Arizona.

Arizona has more than a hundred kinds of cactuses, and Tucson is the center of the great cactus region of the southwest. These odd plants range in size from the noble saguara, or giant cactus, forty or fifty feet high, to small pin cushion cactuses an inch or two in diameter. Saguaras grow in great abundance in the foothills between Tucson and Yuma and are always objects of wonder. It is believed a large plant is at least 200 years old. The fruit begins to ripen in June and is gathered in great quantities by its clans, who make fine jam and also a pressed sweetmeat of it.
