

Arcady Farms Producers of the Natural Milk

The Housewife's League in the various cities in the eastern states have interested themselves in a study of their milk supplies. Due to their efforts conditions have improved wonderfully and they are encouraging the production of cleaner and better dairy products. Nothing can be more effective than active organizations of housewives who will cooperate with the health authorities and the producers an inject enthusiasm and encouragement into those who are struggling to improve the quality of milk and its products.

The Arcady Farms invite inspection by any organizations or groups of ladies in Highland Park interested in our work. We will be glad to assist in any manner in stimulating a greater interest in the production of clean, safe, milk.

Ossoli Club

The next regular meeting of the Ossoli Club will be held in the Highland Park Club House, Thursday, February 3rd at 2:45 p. m. Mrs. Charles Zimmerman, President of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will give a ten minute address and Mrs. Helen Ruggles will speak on Household Efficiency.

The last regular meeting of the Ossoli Club took place Thursday afternoon, January twentieth at two-forty-five. After a short business meeting at which various committees reported activities, the speaker of the afternoon was introduced. The subject "The Classic and the Best Seller," was very intellectually handled by Mr. Franklin E. Sager of the English department of Northwestern University. Mr. Snyder's talk was rather in the nature of a book review, though not exclusively so. He gave a list of all the "best sellers" in the book line, for the past twenty years, which is an authorized list of books and aided him greatly in his talk. He spoke of the other entertaining features of the day, moving pictures, theatres and other lines of amusements, comparing each one with books, bringing out points, both for and against the indulgence of these amusements. Mr. Snyder spoke of books which have been "best sellers," but which have been far from good books, stating that people read them not because they particularly cared for them but because they were so extravagantly advertised. After the program the following hostesses served tea, Mrs. Martin Inull, chairman, assisted by Mesdames Thomas Clements, J. W. Prindiville, Geo. Campbell, Forest Marsh, E. J. Ullmann, M. E. Sampson, E. H. Raymond, F. A. Preston and A. R. Warner.

Public Library Notes

We wish to correct an error which appeared in last week's issue in the book list. The line read "Encyclopedia Britannica, 29 vols. 11th ed., 'handy vol.' size. Juvenile." The word "Juvenile," belonged on the line following and is no part of the description of the Encyclopedia.

Additional Society

Mrs. John Glass was hostess at a supper party on Sunday evening for her week-end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Taft, and Miss Warren of Chicago.

"The Lowry Girls" at the Highland Park Club were a great success on Tuesday evening when a number of members attended their entertainment. The girls appeared in clever impersonations of the Louisiana negro, in songs and stories which pleased their hearers at once. There was very good music by Goldsmith's orchestra of Chicago.

Mr. Foster and Mrs. Shelton of the Opera Club of Chicago held their dancing lesson on Monday evening at the Elm Place School. There was a large class present.

North End M. E. Church

Services are held at the church as follows: Mid-week service, Wednesday evening, at seven forty-five; Sunday services are, Sunday School at nine forty-five; Junior League at two-thirty; Epworth League at six forty-five; Public Worship at eight.

Mr. Charles Riley, the captain of the University Gospel Team which visited the church at New Year's time met the Young Men's Club on Monday evening at the church. A pleasant evening was spent. The Epworth League will hold a business and social meeting at the parsonage Friday evening, February fourth. The church redecorating is completed and the result is very pleasing. The services on Sunday will be held in the auditorium.

Dr. Leach of Glencoe will preach at the evening service. He will also administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Presbyterian Church Notes

On Sunday, February sixth, there will be a reception to new members, which will be the last communion service of the church year. There are many new members who will join the church at this time. Plans are being made for the annual meeting to be held on the first of April in the form of a church dinner for the members of the congregation. In connection with the closing of the church year the session has planned a special campaign, to arouse interest and to enlist workers in the church, which campaign will close on Easter Sunday. In connection with this plan the pastor announces a series of special sermons to be given in February. At the next Vesper Service, February sixth, Mr. Louis Kreidler, who sang at Ravinia Park last year, will be on the program.

The praise service and thank offering, at Mrs. Geer's home on Tuesday afternoon was a great success. A large number of members of the Missionary Society were present to hear the charming program. Music of different kinds were given, Miss Mayer, violin; Mrs. Beatty, harp; Mrs. Carleton Vail, Mrs. Herbert Smith, and Miss Noyes, vocal selections, and a reading from Longfellow by Miss McElrath completed the program. A great deal of interest was shown at this meeting and the desire for more frequent informal meetings was expressed.

Elm Place School Notes

Superintendent W. L. Nida and seven of his teaching staff of the River Forest School were visitors here on Monday, among the teachers was Miss Lillian Moore, a former teacher of Elm Place. Mr. Nida is much impressed with the school in general and often brings his teachers out to see it. Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock occurs the annual distribution of honorable mentions and awards for good work done in the past term. In the evening at seven forty-five will occur the commencement exercises. A program of songs by the eighth grade chorus, a two part chorus, and a girls' chorus will be given in connection with an address, "The New Loyalty," by Prof. George Burman Foster, and the presentation of diplomas will be given. It is the custom of the eighth B. class to give the graduating class a farewell party and to present the class with some suitable souvenir. The party for the present class took place last evening.

Mid-year promotions occur in every grade this week from kindergarten onward. Children beginning school for the first time will be received next week under conditions usually observed. Pupils entering kindergarten must be five years of age. Children whose birthdays fall short of the limit will be admitted if their birthdays are within two months of the beginning of the new term. Patrons should note that there is no so-called "spring term" at Elm Place and that beginning pupils can be cared for only if enrolled during the early days of February.
