

The Proper Handling of Milk Begins With The Proper Care of The Cow

The greatest amount of care in bottling and delivering is of but little value unless the milk is produced from healthy cattle which are kept clean and fed with wholesome feed.

Milk from animals diseased in any way is abnormal. It is apt to cause intestinal disturbances at least and may even contain ptomaines which are poisonous to the consumer.

This applies to pasteurized milk as well as natural milk for pasteurization cannot remedy such defects. ARCADY FARM cattle are tuberculin tested every six months and are examined every week by a competent Veterinarian.

They are kept scrupulously clean and are fed a scientific balanced ration promoting the production of a well flavored normal milk, safe and pure for everybody.

In all probability it will be open the first evening but that will be decided later. All are earnestly requested to contribute at least one article which will be gratefully received at the Association Assembly Room from now on. The articles most desired are good second-hand books, clothing, furniture and used pieces of every description.

McCann's Trim Chicago Edgars McCann's slugging crew of Waukegan ripped off the lid Sunday with a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Edgars.

Jupe Pluv, the horrid old man, and King Winter were enticed away from the battlefield, but shivering fans found that the king made a quick return, bringing with him a basket full of chilly blasts that made an unusually fast exciting game seem void of more than passing interest. Notwithstanding the chilliness of the ozone, some 600 of the regulars became more than lukewarm at the south side stadium Sunday afternoon, as the McCann warriors, like the apostles of old, performed miracles (and errors) finally coming from under the wagon, assuming major proportions of the score. However, it took ten innings to decide and the most feckle of the fans remained till after Williams had counted over the pan with the mountainous tally that spelled victory for the south side. —Waukegan Gazette.
